The Power of Nature

Nature has many ways to produce ozone O3, a natural sanitizer. For example, we've all taken a walk after a thunderstorm and experienced the clean, fresh smell in the air. That's ozone, or activated oxygen, at work.
O3 attacks microorganisms and breaks down odors and other pollutants at their source. Normal oxygen O2 is converted to O3, which is commonly called ozone. O3 will break down odors and other contaminates.
The Lightning Air employs a special O3 generator to achieve this natural process.
Normal oxygen (O2) molecules with two atoms of oxygen.
The electrical current of lightning transforms oxygen (O2) molecules into ozone (O3).
Ozone (O3) breaks back down into oxygen (O2), as extra atom attaches to pollution molecules.
Extra oxygen atom causes breakdown of pollution molecules.

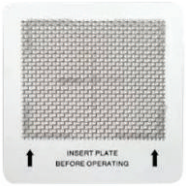

Lightning is one way that nature creates O3, ozone.
