

A Guide to Selling

corcoran

GLOBAL LIVING

How long will it take to sell my home?

How long will it take to sell That is the question, isn't it! There are three main factors that affect a property's time on the market: location, condition and price.

LOCATION

Location is the one thing you cannot control in the home selling process. In conjunction with condition and price, people choose a home based on the location and accessibility of the property.

In many cases, homes will sell faster in desirable neighborhoods because the demand is high. Take into consideration what the demand is to live in your neighborhood. Your REALTOR® can provide information on yours and surrounding neighborhoods to help you assess this factor.

CONDITION

The condition of your property is also a major contributing factor to the time it will take to sell. When evaluating a home, buyers will first assess the structural condition of items such as walls, ceilings, floors, doors and windows. They will want plumbing and electricity to work efficiently. They will then consider paint, carpets and floor coverings.

The front and back yards should be in reasonably good shape. If there is major damage or deterioration to any of these items, buyers will likely hesitate in making an offer. Discuss ways to cosmetically improve your home for a more rapid sale with your real estate professional.

PRICE

Pricing your property to sell in the current market is absolutely crucial. Obviously, the condition and location of your property should be major considerations when deciding on a price. If your home is priced too high, it will likely remain on the market longer, resulting in a lower final sales price. Your REALTOR® can guide you on appropriately pricing your property for the shortest listing time with maximum profits.

There are several additional factors that can affect the speed of a sale including:

- Local supply and demand
- Marketing
- Closing terms

Is there a surplus of homes for sale in your area? Are technology tools and networking resources being utilized to market your property? Are your closing terms favorable to buyers? The right REALTOR® will be able to coach you in dealing with each of these things to ensure the quickest possible sale.

Unfortunately, there is no magic time frame when it comes to selling real estate. Some properties sell before a sign hits the front yard, and others may sit for months before the first offer comes in. Your Realtor can provide you with the average days on the market for properties that have recently sold in your neighborhood; however it is important to remember that the variables affecting this data are not detailed in these comparables. Your Realtor will most likely have viewed a majority of the properties included in the comparables and can give you a better idea of why a specific property sold in the time frame recorded.

Do not to get discouraged if a sale takes longer than you anticipated. Instead, try to analyze the reasons your property is not selling and ask your Realtor what you can do to facilitate the process.

This information is meant as a guide. Although deemed reliable, information may not be accurate for your specific market or property type. Please consult a professional Realtor for more information on selling your individual property.

corcoran

GLOBAL LIVING

I'm thinking about selling. What is my home worth?

corcoran

GLOBAL LIVING

WHAT AFFECTS HOME VALUES

In today's ever-moving market, home values fluctuate based on a number of factors.

These include:

- The current interest rate.
- The state of the economy local, nationally and worldwide.
- The neighborhood.
- The status of maintenance on your home.
- The appeal to current buyer needs and lifestyle trends.

With so many different influences on home value, it's important to seek the counsel of a REALTOR® to determine an accurate value for your home.

HOW A REALTOR® DETERMINES HOME VALUE

1. The first thing that a REALTOR® will do is assess the overall condition of your home. Any damage or deferred maintenance will be taken into account.
2. Next, the REALTOR® will create a list of similar houses that have sold in your neighborhood. This list will help establish a picture of the current market and create a baseline for your home's value.
3. Your REALTOR® will also take current listings into consideration, to determine the overall competitiveness of your listing. If there are many listings similar to yours on the market, the price may need to be adjusted so your home can compete.
4. Aside from assessing the current value of your home, your REALTOR® will also make suggestions for things you can do to raise that value. Often, taking care of small repairs that have been put off can pay dividends when it comes time to sell.
5. Lastly, your REALTOR® can also help you navigate many of the misconceptions about real estate values perpetuated by sites like Zillow and Trulia.

WHY COMPUTER-GENERATED HOME VALUE ESTIMATES ARE OFTEN INACCURATE

Online value estimates from sites like Zillow or Trulia are generated by computer programs, not people. While they can be a good starting point, they need to be taken with a grain of salt—these algorithms are incapable of taking into account things like neighborhoods, home style, repairs or improvements, and the status of the current market. Since sometimes a computer-generated analysis can be extremely inaccurate, it's important to have your home evaluated by a professional REALTOR® to get an accurate value.

Your REALTOR® will help you create a "story" for your home. In today's hyper-connected world, selling a lifestyle, instead of just a building, is the best way for your home to stand out.

Staging your home will make sure that buyers get the best possible first impression. Whether this means rearranging furniture, decorating, or re-painting, your REALTOR® will guide you every step of the way.

Decluttering and packing up excess items will help your home seem more spacious.

Increasing curb appeal can also raise the value of your home. Simply making sure that the exterior of your home is clean and welcoming can make a large difference.

It's important to remember that, in the end, your home's value is determined by only one thing: what a buyer is willing to pay for it.

For Sale

findassociate@corcorangl.com

www.corcorangl.com

855.437.1704

corcoran

GLOBAL LIVING

Pricing your property to get it sold.

COMPARATIVE MARKET ANALYSIS

As part of the Property Selling System, our Comparative Market Analysis will also help establish a realistic price range for your property, but you determine the actual listing price.

To get the best price possible for your property, some of the things we need to know include:

- What you feel a buyer will pay for your property
- How soon you need the property to sell
- How you want to position your property by the asking price

MARKET ANALYSIS EXPLANATION

The correct selling price of a home is the highest price that the current market will bear. To assist you in determining the correct asking price, we have provided you with a comprehensive market analysis of comparable properties that have been recently offered for sale in your neighborhood.

This analysis is based strictly on homes that can be considered similar to yours, and has been specifically prepared for you over the last few days. This comprehensive property analysis is divided into four categories:

1. Similar properties that are currently listed
2. Similar properties that have recently sold
3. Similar properties that have sales pending
4. Similar properties that failed to sell

By carefully studying the comparable property locations, features, and the terms under which they are offered, we can develop a clear picture of the potential market for your property. By looking at the properties currently listed, we can see exactly what alternatives a serious buyer has to choose from. We can be certain that we are not under pricing or overpricing the property.

Looking at similar properties recently sold, we can see what homeowners have actually received over the last few months. This is the acid test that is used by lending institutions to determine how much they will be willing to lend a buyer for your property.

While we naturally want top market value for your property, we can agree that there's a point where the price would be too high. By looking at homes that didn't sell, we can accurately determine that price point and be careful not to get too close to it. Doing our homework diligently helps us get the maximum dollars in a reasonably short period of time.

corcoran

GLOBAL LIVING

How to buy and sell a home at the same time.

Many sellers are selling to buy a different house, and are confused about the process, which is why we are here to help! We don't like seeing people having to move twice! Moving is stressful enough.

SO HOW DOES THIS WORK?

The best way is to list your sale property first. Some people think that they will wait until they have found their replacement property first, and then list the sale property...but this is risky.

- You, as the buyer, will risk losing the contingency purchase to another buyer
- Your offer will be weaker if you have a contingency sale where the sale property is not yet listed

However, if you have your sale property already in escrow:

- Your offer will be much stronger on the purchase property
- You will have more bargaining power

And you don't have to move twice either... we simply negotiate with the buyers for your sale property that the escrow is contingent on you finding a closing a simultaneous escrow for your replacement property. So again, listing first, getting a buyer for your sale property and then negotiating your replacement property is the best practice for buying and selling at the same time...and it works!

We are here to help make it a smooth transaction for you!

corcoran

GLOBAL LIVING

How to sell and buy a home at the same time.

Many sellers wish to sell in order to buy a different house, and are confused about the process.

We don't like seeing people have to move twice. Moving is stressful enough! So how does this work?

The best way is to list your sale property first. Some people think they will wait until they have found their replacement property first, and then list the sale property, but this is risky.

You, as the buyer, risk losing the contingency purchase to another buyer. Your offer will be weaker if you have a contingency sale where the sale property is not yet listed.

However, if your sale property is already in escrow, your offer will be much stronger on the purchase property. You will have more bargaining power. And you don't have to move twice either!

We simply negotiate with the buyers for your sale property that the escrow is contingent on you finding and closing a simultaneous escrow for your replacement property.

So again, listing first, getting a buyer for your sale property and then negotiating your replacement property is the best practice for buying and selling at the same time... it works!

corcoran

GLOBAL LIVING

Prepare your home for sale: advice from a REALTOR®

Do you want your home to sell quickly and for a good price? Of course you do! Properly preparing your home can help make that happen. Here's what you need to do.

COME UP WITH A GAME PLAN

Walk through your home, room by room, with your REALTOR®. They will offer suggestions and ideas for how to make sure your home makes the best possible first impression. He or she may suggest paint colors, cleaning tips, or furniture placement.

PREPARING YOURSELF EMOTIONALLY

Remember to do your best to disassociate yourself emotionally from your home. Your REALTOR® has your best interests at heart, and his or her suggestions are not criticisms. It can help to pretend that your home has already sold, and to start referring to it as "property." Envision the buyers that are right for your property, and look at things through their eyes.

GET INSPECTIONS

While not officially required at this point in the process, having your home professionally inspected early on will save you from surprises later. You'll be able to address any issues early, and make your home much more appealing to buyers. Be sure to check with your Realtor before making any repairs or changes to your home!

MAKE THINGS CLEAN AND PRETTY

This one should be a no-brainer. A clean home is an attractive home, and an attractive home will sell much faster! Simple things like cleaning inside light fixtures and replacing bulbs with newer, brighter ones can make a surprising difference in the overall appeal of your home.

Replace dingy, cracked, faded, or out-of-date light switch covers, light fixtures, or cabinet hardware. Above all, be sure to give your home a good cleaning—and don't forget the insides of closets and cabinets! Buyers will look inside to evaluate the storage in your home.

If possible, pack extra "stuff" into uniform boxes and stack them neatly in the garage or another storage area. You'll declutter your home, and get a head start on packing!

DON'T FORGET CURB APPEAL

Curb appeal is the first impression your property makes when viewed "from the curb." And you know what they say about first impressions!

corcoran

GLOBAL LIVING

The home selling process explained

STEP 1: CHOOSE THE RIGHT REALTOR®

Make sure to get an agent early, well before you're ready. The right REALTOR® can help guide you as you prepare to sell your home and assist with ideas and resources. Make sure to interview multiple Realtors, and don't just look at the price they say they can get for your home. Make sure your agent has a high rating.

GET INSPECTIONS

Having your home professionally inspected now will avoid surprises later, and will alert you early in the process to any needed repairs. Be sure to consult your REALTOR® before making any major repairs to your home – it may be more economical to offer a credit to your buyer than to pay for the repair yourself.

PREPARE YOUR HOME FOR SALE

This can involve decluttering, painting, staging furniture, and improving your home's curb appeal. Your REALTOR® can be an invaluable source of advice on what will help sell your home quickly.

PRICE YOUR HOME COMPETITIVELY

While you as the owner have the final say, no matter what you hope for, the market will only bear what your property is worth compared to the competition. It's important to separate memories and emotions from value. A professional REALTOR® will have your best interest at heart and will help you to set a competitive price.

MAKE YOUR HOME AVAILABLE TO SHOW

While showings can be inconvenient and disruptive, they are ultimately necessary so prospective buyers can see your home. Make sure that personal items and valuables are safely secured before any showing or open house. Remember that prospective buyers will often look inside cabinets and closets to evaluate the amount of storage in your home!

UNDERSTAND HOW YOUR AGENT MARKETS YOUR HOME

While print ads were effective a few years ago, we are now moving into a digital medium. Your REALTOR® will come up with a comprehensive marketing plan for your home.

APPRECIATE ALL OFFERS...

...even if they're low. Remember that getting an offer means that someone is interested in your home, and they're working in their own best interests. Your REALTOR® will help you negotiate and evaluate each offer, and will provide you with a net sheet that will help you compare multiple offers.

BE READY FOR HICCUPS!

Minor and major problems can arise with your buyer's lender, the appraisal, inspections, etc. Be flexible and willing to problem-solve with your agent. Remember that your REALTOR® is on your side and is using their experience and skill to help your home sell.

KEEP UP THE MAINTENANCE ON YOUR HOME

This means insurance, alarms, mowing the yard, and keeping the utilities on. Remember that your home isn't sold until escrow closes.

JUST BEFORE CLOSING...

...transfer utilities to the new owner. Give your home one last cleaning and mow the lawn – have pride in your home! Sign and notarize the closing papers, and work with your agent to coordinate the transfer of keys, warranties, etc.

HEAD OFF TO NEW ADVENTURES!

corcoran

GLOBAL LIVING

To take the next steps call 855.437.1704
or email findassociate@corcorangl.com

corcoran

GLOBAL LIVING