

USEFUL INFORMATION & INSTRUCTIONS FOR ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

Ivy Sagarius, the visionary behind Scrotum Detox, brings a wealth of scientific expertise to the realm of holistic wellness. Her journey began with assisting women on their healing paths, but it was the heartfelt requests of a few compassionate sisters that sparked a new direction. In 2017, Ivy responded to their needs by introducing the King Collection, a curated assortment of products encompassing soaps, salves, honeys, teas, and chocolates meticulously crafted to facilitate scrotum detoxification.

Just as women may experience what is often referred to as "womb trauma" – injuries sustained within the vagina, cervix, or uterus that can later manifest as systemic health issues like fibroids or infertility – men too bear their share of trauma. A frequently encountered form of trauma is the aftermath of sexually transmitted diseases (STDs). Engaging in unprotected intercourse can introduce female partner fluids, containing live, active cells and organisms such as STDs and viruses, into the penis. These cells eventually perish within the penis, urethra, and even the testicles.

Even in the absence of specific attributed trauma, the male body undergoes a gradual decline, with dead cells accumulating daily. The solution lies in removing these lifeless tissues, replenishing with fresh oxygen, and extending vitality.

Ivy Sagarius's philosophy revolves around the idea that detoxification not only rids the body of dead tissues but also fosters health and longevity, leading to a more youthful lifestyle. Embrace your kit and experience the transformative power of detox.

If you seek deeper insights and knowledge, Ivy has curated a treasure trove of educational resources, tools, and tips, which she now shares through various platforms, including an online school, YouTube, and OnlyFans. You can explore her range of herbs, extracts, and classes, all while indulging in informative video tutorials on healing modalities.

"I FIND GREAT JOY IN THE KITCHEN, WHERE I BLEND, POUR, TASTE, AND METICULOUSLY REFINE EACH PRODUCT I'VE CRAFTED AND THOSE I HAVE IN MY CREATIVE PIPELINE, ALL WITH THE AIM OF DELIVERING NOTHING LESS THAN PERFECTION. I SINCERELY HOPE YOU RELISH THE RESULTS OF MY EFFORTS AND ENJOY THE EXPERIENCE THEY BRING."
