"I AM RESPONSIBLE FOR MY OWN SOBRIETY"

Recovery & Gratitude

What is gratitude?

Copyright 1990 The Language of Letting Go.

Melody Beattie. p. 18 Hazelden

Sometimes in life, things happen too fast. We barely solve one problem when two problems surface. We're feeling great in the morning, but we're submerged in misery by nightfall. Every day we face interruptions, delays, changes, and challenges. We face personality conflicts and disappointments. Often when we are feeling overwhelmed, we can't see the lessons in these experiences.

One simple concept can get us through the most stressful of times. It's call gratitude. We learn to say, thank you, for these problems and feelings. Thank you for the way things are. I don't like this experience, but thank you anyway. Force gratitude until it becomes habitual. Gratitude helps us stop trying to control outcomes. It is the key that unlocks positive energy in our life. It is the alchemy that turns problems into blessings, and the unexpected into gifts.

Today, I will be grateful. I will start the process of turning today's pain into tomorrow's joy.

Becoming Grateful

Whether you are a newcomer, or have been in recovery for years, I believe gratitude lists are a fundamental tool for happiness in sobriety. The gratitude list truly adjusts one's attitude. Self-centeredness is the cornerstone of addiction. Recovery for me has meant letting go of my self-centeredness and becoming of service to others. Besides working the steps, and doing service work, one of the best ways that I found to become less self-centered, is to develop an "attitude of gratitude" through writing gratitude lists.

I challenge you now to take a moment to think of five things in your life that you are grateful for today. For example, your recovery, your friends, your family, your sense of smell, touch, sight, and sound. The list can go on and on. Imagine what your life would be like without these things. Write them down on a piece of paper and really think about the things you are grateful for. You will be amazed at how great you will feel!

AA Declaration of Unity

This we owe to A.A.'s future:

To place our common welfare first;

To keep our fellowship united.

For on A.A. unity depend our lives,

AA Riverside's Straight Talk newsletter will be providing AA Riverside Meeting updates to help in "attracting" those looking for AA meetings.

We also encourage our Trusted Servants/Squad Leaders to feel free to copy Straight Talk for their members and attendees.

"It is very important to keep in a grateful frame of mind, if we want to stay sober. We should be grateful that we're living in a day and age when alcoholics aren't treated as they often used to be treated before Alcoholics Anonymous was started. ... We have come into A.A. and found all the sympathy, understanding, and fellowship that we could ask for." Twenty-Four Hours a Day

AA Riverside & the Digital Age

In 2015, AA Riverside established a website (see address above). It has extensive information about: meetings on campus and links to other meeting resources across the Twin City metro area, current and past newsletters, trustee minutes, treasurer reports, 12-step opportunities, and A.A. resources.

If you're looking for info about A.A. or meeting topics, you're sure to find something on this website.

In 2018, a Facebook page for AA Riverside entitled StraightTalk Society was developed as a fellowship and outreach platform for members of the recovering community.
