Insurance for your construction business

In addition to the standard policy coverages, here are important coverages to consider as a construction business owner.

Key coverages for construction business
Builder's risk	Start-to-finish protection for your structures and materials during new construction or renovation projects
Contractor's equipment	Provides protection for owned, leased, rented, or loaned equipment used to get the job done on the job site, in storage, or while in transit. Coverage ranges from lifts and compressors to power and hand tools.
Employees' tools	Provides protection against loss or damage for tools owned by your employees
Installation	Provides coverage for property or materials you own that are at a job site awaiting installation
Property off-premises	Provides coverage for your business personal property that is temporarily at a location you don't own, lease, or operate
Construction projects - general aggregate per project	Provides a separate aggregate liability limit that applies individually to each of your construction projects
Limited job site pollution coverage	Provides limited coverage for sudden and accidental bodily injury and property damage sustained by others caused by pollutants you brought to a job site
Additional insured - required by contract agreement or permit	Extends liability coverage to others that may be required by contract or permit
Primary noncontributory - contractors	Coverage clarification that your policy will apply prior to policies held by others, like general contractors and property owners, helping you comply with construction contracts that often require this stipulation
Contractor's errors and omissions	Provides coverage against claims for damages against you because you made an error or omission in your work
