

Ways To Honor Your Placenta

The placenta is an amazing organ only present during gestation. It is a perfect match to your child's DNA. Cultures around the world have honored the placenta for centuries.

Many cultures draw contrast between the placenta and trees, Tree of Life. Some people will bury their placenta under a tree.

Other ways to honor this sacred organ are, Delayed cord clamping, cord blood collecting, lotus birth, cord burning, cord keepsakes, placenta prints, placenta<sup>aphagy</sup> (consumption) and freezing the placenta for later use.
