FOUNDING ERA PUBLIC PARTICIPATION SERIES

CURRENT PUBLIC STATUS: ELIGIBILITY FOR CITIZENS IN WAITING IS ELIGIBILITY FOR AN INTERNAL UMG REGISTRY, MEMBERSHIP AND PARTICIPATION FRAMEWORK. IT DOES NOT CREATE SOVEREIGN-STATE CITIZENSHIP, NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION STATUS OR A TRAVEL DOCUMENT.

00. PUBLIC PURPOSE, STATUS & READING NOTICE

This volume explains the eligibility and registration standards for Citizens in Waiting, the internal public-participation, registry and membership framework of The United Monarchy of Giezwa. It is written for prospective applicants, parents and guardians, current participants, UMG administrators and the internal team responsible for reviewing applications.

Eligibility answers a narrow question: who may seek Citizens in Waiting status, what information may reasonably be required, what additional rules may apply to a specific program, and how UMG should review applicants fairly and consistently. Eligibility does not by itself create a right to acceptance or to every UMG program.

READING RULE: ELIGIBILITY FOR AN INTERNAL UMG STATUS MUST NOT BE DESCRIBED AS ELIGIBILITY FOR NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION, RESIDENCY, A VISA, A PASSPORT, DIPLOMATIC STATUS OR OTHER EXTERNAL GOVERNMENTAL RIGHTS.

01. ELIGIBILITY AT A GLANCE

AREA	CURRENT PUBLIC-SAFE UNDERSTANDING
General registry application	May be available to individuals who support the UMG mission and can comply with the current participation policy.
Accurate information	Applicants may be asked for identifying and contact information reasonably necessary for administration, safety, compliance and program eligibility.
Minors	Age rules and parent or guardian consent may apply.
Sensitive roles	Additional verification, qualifications or lawful background review may apply when responsibilities justify it.
Program-specific eligibility	A specialized program may require qualifications beyond general registry eligibility.
Acceptance	Discretionary within lawful UMG organizational policy; meeting minimum criteria is not an automatic entitlement.

02. BASIC ELIGIBILITY

A person seeking Citizens in Waiting status should be willing to maintain an accurate relationship with UMG, follow applicable law and UMG policy, respect the rights and privacy of others, and represent the status honestly. General registration should remain accessible enough to support public participation while preserving reasonable administrative, safety and compliance standards.

- Provide accurate registration information and update material information when reasonably necessary.
- Use Citizens in Waiting terminology and credentials according to their actual internal UMG purpose.
- Respect privacy, minors, confidential records, intellectual property, safety procedures and the rights of others.
- Follow additional requirements that are reasonably related to a particular UMG program, role or activity.

03. TRUTHFUL & COMPLETE REGISTRATION

Applicants are responsible for submitting information that is truthful and reasonably complete. UMG may request clarification or correction when an application contains missing, inconsistent, inaccurate or outdated information. Knowingly false information, impersonation, fraudulent documentation or misuse of UMG credentials may affect eligibility or continued participation.

04. DATA MINIMIZATION

Verification should not become unnecessary data collection. UMG should request only information reasonably connected to the decision being made. A general registry application should not automatically require the same documents or screening that might be appropriate for a sensitive role involving minors, finances, restricted records, leadership responsibility or another elevated risk.

ELIGIBILITY PRINCIPLE: VERIFY WHAT IS REASONABLY NECESSARY FOR THE DECISION - NOT EVERYTHING THAT COULD POSSIBLY BE COLLECTED.

05. AGE REQUIREMENTS

UMG may establish age requirements for particular programs or forms of participation. Some public information and family-oriented activities may be suitable across age groups, while other activities may require a minimum age because of contracts, travel, employment, supervision, privacy, safety or the nature of the program.

06. MINORS & FAMILY PARTICIPATION

Programs involving minors require additional care. UMG may require parent or legal-guardian consent, restricted communication rules, supervision, limited public visibility and additional privacy protections. A child's participation should never require unnecessary public disclosure of school information, home address, medical information, custody information, biometric data or other sensitive records.

MINOR-PARTICIPATION AREA	STANDARD
Parent / guardian consent	Required where the program, age or applicable law makes consent appropriate.
Direct communications	Should follow age-appropriate and program-approved communication rules.
Public visibility	May be limited to protect the child and family.
Sensitive information	Should remain restricted and never be published merely because it was collected.
Program access	May depend on age, supervision, safety and the actual nature of the activity.

07. FAMILY ACCOUNTS & HOUSEHOLD PARTICIPATION

Where UMG later develops family-oriented registration tools, household relationships should be used for administration and consent without implying that one family member automatically controls another adult's independent status. Adult participants should maintain their own consent and records where appropriate.

08. PROGRAM-SPECIFIC ELIGIBILITY

General Citizens in Waiting eligibility does not automatically qualify a participant for every UMG program. Educational programs, youth activities, volunteer roles, professional projects, restricted events, leadership responsibilities, development initiatives and other specialized activities may establish additional requirements reasonably related to the program.

PROGRAM TYPE	POSSIBLE ADDITIONAL REQUIREMENTS
Education / training	Age, prerequisites, attendance, conduct or program-capacity rules may apply.
Volunteer service	Role description, safety training, scheduling or screening may apply.
Professional / technical work	Licenses, credentials, experience, insurance or contractual requirements may apply.
Sensitive administration	Identity verification, confidentiality, background review or conflict controls may apply where lawful.
Events / restricted access	Invitation, ticketing, security, age, conduct or capacity rules may apply.
Development opportunities	Separate project, employment, contractor, financial or legal qualifications may apply.

09. SENSITIVE ROLES & ENHANCED REVIEW

Certain roles may involve access to minors, finances, restricted records, institutional systems, private events, development projects or other sensitive matters. Where lawful and reasonably necessary, UMG may require additional identity verification, references, professional qualifications, consent, training, compliance review or background screening. Enhanced review should be tied to the role rather than imposed indiscriminately on every applicant.

ROLE-BASED REVIEW: THE GREATER THE RESPONSIBILITY OR RISK, THE MORE JUSTIFIED A HIGHER LEVEL OF VERIFICATION MAY BE - SUBJECT TO APPLICABLE LAW.

10. PARTICIPATION & ADMINISTRATIVE FEES

UMG may establish participation or administrative fees for particular programs where lawful. Any fee should be disclosed before payment and should identify the program, service, event, credential or administrative purpose to which it relates. Paying a fee does not purchase sovereign citizenship, nationality, immigration rights, a visa, a passport, diplomatic status, government authority, guaranteed employment or guaranteed future benefits.

11. WHAT ELIGIBILITY DOES NOT CREATE

- Recognized sovereign-state citizenship or nationality.
- Immigration, residency, visa or right-of-entry status in any country.
- A government-issued identity document, passport or recognized travel document.
- Diplomatic status, immunity, public governmental office or authority over other persons.
- An automatic right to employment, compensation, grants, scholarships, housing, land, contracts, investments or every UMG program.

12. FUTURE EXTERNAL STATUS

As UMG continues developing additional international agreements and long-term relationships, future lawful arrangements could potentially create new forms of residency, nationality, civic participation, or even a dual-citizenship pathway if a competent country and applicable law expressly establish one. Citizens in Waiting should not be represented as automatically qualifying a person for any such future status. However, maintaining Citizens in Waiting membership before those future arrangements are completed can create a meaningful documented history of participation, support, continuity and relationship with UMG. If a later lawful agreement chooses to recognize prior UMG participation as a factor in eligibility, priority, transition, or community connection, that benefit would arise only from the actual terms of the agreement and law then in force.

12A. FOUNDING ERA MEMBERSHIP & FUTURE LAWFUL PATHWAYS

For people who believe in UMG's long-term vision, becoming a Citizen in Waiting during the Founding Era can be valuable because it establishes an earlier documented relationship with the institution before future international arrangements are fully developed. That history may demonstrate continuity, participation, familiarity with UMG standards and a good-faith connection to the community as it grows.

UMG may therefore encourage eligible supporters to join the Citizens in Waiting framework now rather than waiting for a future international status to exist. The value is the relationship and documented participation itself. No current membership promises dual citizenship, nationality, residency, immigration benefits, priority processing, or automatic conversion into a future status. If future agreements lawfully create a dual-citizenship or other external pathway, UMG can then publish a separate eligibility framework identifying whether and how prior Citizens in Waiting membership is considered.

13. ACCEPTANCE, DENIAL & DISCRETIONARY STATUS

Meeting minimum eligibility requirements does not create an automatic entitlement to Citizens in Waiting status. Acceptance remains discretionary within UMG's lawful organizational policies. Fraud, safety concerns, unlawful conduct, misuse of UMG credentials, harassment, impersonation and material policy violations are examples of matters that may affect eligibility or continued participation.

A decision to decline, suspend or terminate participation is an internal UMG administrative decision only. It does not change a person's nationality, immigration status, public benefits, civil rights or other legal status under external law.

14. FAIR ADMINISTRATION & EQUAL OPPORTUNITY

Eligibility standards should be administered consistently, in good faith and with respect for equal dignity and fair opportunity. Program rules may differ when there is a legitimate reason connected to age, safety, qualifications, capacity, licensing, confidentiality or the nature of the activity, but similar applications should generally be treated under the same current policy and decision standards.

15. CORRECTIONS & ADMINISTRATIVE REVIEW

Where appropriate, applicants and participants should have a reasonable way to correct inaccurate registry information, provide requested clarification, update contact information, ask about application status or request review of an apparent administrative error. Internal review does not replace rights or remedies available under applicable external law.

FAIR-ADMINISTRATION RULE: DOCUMENT THE STANDARD, APPLY THE CURRENT VERSION, RECORD THE DECISION, AND PROVIDE A REASONABLE WAY TO CORRECT ADMINISTRATIVE ERRORS.

16. ELIGIBILITY DECISION FLOW

STAGE	ADMINISTRATIVE PURPOSE
1. Application received	Receive the registration request and identify whether it is general or tied to a specialized program.
2. Completeness review	Check only the information reasonably needed to process the application.
3. Eligibility review	Apply the current Citizens in Waiting policy and any relevant program-specific rules.
4. Additional information	Request clarification, consent, verification or program-specific materials only when necessary.
5. Decision	Approve, decline, or hold pending required information within the authority actually assigned.
6. Registry confirmation	Approved applicants receive an internal registration confirmation or authorized participation notice.

17. RECOMMENDED PUBLIC STATUS LABELS

STATUS	MEANING
APPLICATION NOT STARTED	No application has been submitted.
APPLICATION SUBMITTED	Application received and awaiting review.
UNDER REVIEW	Administrative or program eligibility review is active.
ADDITIONAL INFORMATION REQUESTED	Further information is reasonably needed to complete review.
PENDING PARENT / GUARDIAN CONSENT	Required consent has not yet been completed.
PROGRAM-SPECIFIC REVIEW	Additional criteria for a particular program are being evaluated.
APPROVED	Internal Citizens in Waiting participation or registry status approved.
DECLINED	Application not approved under the current internal policy.
WITHDRAWN	Applicant ended the application or participation request.

These labels are UMG administrative statuses only. They do not create immigration, nationality, diplomatic or public-law status.

18. PRIVACY DURING ELIGIBILITY REVIEW

An application does not become a public record merely because it is submitted to UMG. Personal information should be limited to legitimate administrative, safety, compliance or program purposes, protected with reasonable safeguards and restricted according to role.

Sensitive identity documents, lineage information, biometric records, financial information, background-review material, private family records and information concerning minors should not be publicly released merely because those records exist in the registry.

19. RECORDS RETENTION & ACCESS

The internal team should distinguish active application records, approved participant records, withdrawn applications, denied applications, minor-consent records, correction requests and sensitive-role review records. Retention and deletion practices should follow applicable law, documented UMG records policy and legitimate archival needs.

20. CREDENTIALS AFTER APPROVAL

An approved applicant may receive a registry confirmation, membership card, ceremonial certificate, digital credential, QR verification or similar internal participation credential. Approval does not transform the credential into government-issued identification, proof of nationality, a visa, passport or recognized travel document.

CREDENTIAL RULE: APPROVAL CONFIRMS AN INTERNAL UMG RELATIONSHIP ONLY, UNLESS A COMPETENT EXTERNAL AUTHORITY SEPARATELY GRANTS ANOTHER LEGAL EFFECT.

21. INTERNAL TEAM WORKFLOW

STEP	INTERNAL STANDARD
Receive	Accept the application or eligibility inquiry and record the date.
Classify	Determine whether the matter is general registration, minor participation, sensitive-role review or a program-specific application.
Verify	Check completeness and only the information reasonably necessary for the decision.
Review	Apply the current policy and program-specific requirements consistently.
Decide	Approve, request more information or decline within the authority actually assigned.
Communicate	Provide an accurate internal status message without overstating legal effect.
Protect	Restrict sensitive records and credentials according to role.
Preserve	Maintain the decision, date, version and required supporting records.

- Sensitive-role review log with restricted access where appropriate.

23. DECISION DOCUMENTATION STANDARD

UMG should be able to identify which policy version applied, who or what office made the decision, what additional program rules were considered, whether more information was requested, the final status and the date of the decision. Sensitive reasons do not need to be published publicly, but the internal record should be sufficient to reconstruct the administrative process.

25. PUBLIC Q&A

Who can apply? Individuals who meet the current UMG registration requirements and any program-specific criteria may seek internal Citizens in Waiting status.

Does eligibility guarantee approval? No. Acceptance remains discretionary within lawful UMG organizational policy.

Can children apply? UMG may allow age-appropriate participation and may require parent or guardian consent.

Will everyone need a background check? No. Enhanced review should be tied to sensitive roles or program needs and used only where lawful and reasonably appropriate.

Does approval create citizenship or immigration rights? No. Citizens in Waiting is an internal UMG participation and registry framework.

Could being a Citizen in Waiting now matter if UMG later establishes a lawful dual-citizenship pathway? Potentially, but only if a future competent country, agreement and applicable law expressly create such a pathway and decide that prior Citizens in Waiting participation is relevant. Joining now can establish a documented UMG relationship, but it does not guarantee future citizenship, priority or eligibility.

26. MODEL PUBLIC ELIGIBILITY STATEMENT

Citizens in Waiting eligibility allows an individual to apply for an internal UMG participation and registry status.

Applicants may be required to provide accurate information, satisfy age or consent rules, and meet additional requirements for specific programs or sensitive roles. Becoming a member during the Founding Era can establish a meaningful documented relationship with UMG while additional international agreements and long-term pathways are being developed. If a future lawful agreement creates a dual-citizenship, residency, nationality or other external pathway, any consideration given to prior Citizens in Waiting membership would depend entirely on that agreement and applicable law. Current membership does not itself create or guarantee those rights.

28. FINAL PUBLIC NOTICE

The Citizens in Waiting Eligibility & Registration framework explains eligibility for participation within The United Monarchy of Giezwa's internal registry, membership and public-participation system. Eligibility, application, registration, approval, denial, suspension, withdrawal or participation under this framework does not constitute citizenship or nationality granted by a recognized sovereign state and does not independently establish immigration status, residency, visa rights, diplomatic status, diplomatic immunity, government-issued identification, passport rights, recognized travel-document status, public governmental office, voting rights under public law or another external legal privilege.

UMG may establish lawful age requirements, parent or guardian consent rules, program-specific qualifications, administrative procedures, participation fees where lawful, verification requirements, background review for sensitive roles, conduct requirements, privacy standards and other reasonable internal eligibility requirements consistent with applicable law. Acceptance remains discretionary within lawful UMG policy, and approval does not guarantee admission to every UMG program, employment, housing, property, land, financial benefits, scholarships, grants, contracts, investments, immigration benefits or future external legal status.

Personal information collected for eligibility review should be limited to legitimate administrative, safety, compliance or program purposes and should be protected with reasonable safeguards. Sensitive identity, biometric, financial, background-review, family and minor-child information should not be publicly released merely because it exists in an internal record.

As UMG continues developing additional international agreements and long-term relationships, a future competent external authority, host-country arrangement or applicable law could potentially create additional residency, nationality, civic-participation, dual-citizenship or other external rights. Citizens in Waiting membership may provide a documented history of participation and relationship with UMG that could be relevant if a future legal framework chooses to recognize it. Any eligibility, preference, transition, priority, dual-citizenship pathway or other external benefit would arise only from the actual agreement and applicable law in effect at that time. This eligibility framework does not promise or guarantee future citizenship, nationality, residency, immigration status or any other external legal status.
