

The Secret War Above Our Heads and Beneath Our Feet – Part 1

By Diane Rush

Whereas we might be tempted to blame a single person or president or politician or even an institution for our current societal dysfunction, we would need to delve much deeper into history to understand how we have come to accept things such as men dressing like women and exploiting their own sick mindedness to seduce children into believing that this is normal behavior. Every time we log in to a reputable news source to stay current with what's really happening, we're inundated with more accounts of depravity, destruction & deception. It certainly appears that we have entered the season that Jesus described as the beginning of birth pangs. Accounts of wars, genocide, kidnapping, pedophilia, rape, murder & other abominations too despicable to detail have become commonplace in the headlines of every news source that dares to reveal the truth. Life, the world and the universe seem to be devolving into a chaos from which it will never recover and the only hope for mankind is his Creator who, in his grace and mercy became the Savior. The whole world does, indeed, lie in the power of the evil one, Satan, (1 John 5:19) who is on the job 24/7 to exact revenge against 3 main targets: 1) his Creator for ousting him from heaven, 2) those who belong to Him through faith in His Son, and 3) those who are still undecided about receiving His offer of salvation but are running out of time.

Lucifer (Satan), who was the height of the Creator's work in the angelic realm, is doing everything he can to keep man, the pinnacle of all God's creative work, from coming to know Jesus in saving faith so he can live forever with Him in the place that was originally Lucifer's abode. Today, he's encouraging groups that will pervert the sanctity of man and woman created in God's own image, but there are still only 2 genders regardless of man's perverted attractions (Gen 1:1:27). He's orchestrating the destruction of the planet by deceiving airline pilots into believing the lie that the planet is self-destructing and they can be the saviors by spraying "healing" chemicals into the air to combat "global warming," but the planet is not self-destructing because God is its Creator and Sustainer. "He upholds all things by the word of His power" (Heb 1:3). And ever since man discovered that petroleum-based technology could be used to replace God's creation for health with man's version of "medicine," those who are the seed of the serpent have been deceiving a disease-ridden world into slowly eradicating itself without even knowing it.

But even before the human psyche devolved into gender dysphoria, and before there were planes and before Big Pharma, the enemy of man's soul was diligently trying to reverse the curse of Genesis 3:15 which declares his eventual demise by the seed of the woman who is Christ. And now, as his time is drawing near, (Rev 12:12) he is turning up the heat. So, before all of life comes crashing down, the first order of business is to make sure we are on the right team. Make sure of your salvation. It will be essential to know where we stand with our Savior in the days ahead as the enemy's demise draws nearer.

With that in mind, let's consider some of the milestones of history that have helped to shape our current existence. And rather than starting at the very beginning, let's go back to a little over a thousand years ago when opposition to believers began to rise substantially.

In 1119 people who wanted to travel to the area of our Savior's crucifixion, Jerusalem, did so at their own peril due to early tensions in the area. Seeing a need that they could meet, a group called the Knights Templar was founded in Jerusalem and initially supported by the Catholic Church for the purpose of ensuring the safety of people who traveled to the famous Temple of Solomon. The Knights became a powerful military force in the medieval period until 1312 when they were disbanded by Pope Clement V at the bidding of Philip IV, King of France at the time, who saw terminating the Knights Templar as a means of canceling the immense debt he owed them. Consequently, the Knights later merged with the seemingly like-minded European Freemasons, an oath-bound society rising from stonemasons who were responsible for building most of Europe. Freemasons initially declared themselves to be devoted to fellowship, moral discipline and mutual assistance. But with time, their fellowship and mutual assistance became restricted to only those who agreed with their desire to return western Europe to pre-Christian paganism by replacing monotheistic religions like Christianity & Islam with pagan belief systems, aggressively targeting all religious organizations.

But God, "not willing that any should perish but for all to come to repentance" (2 Pet 3:9), arranged for His Word, the Bible, to first be published in 1455 in Germany, which would become the country that would perpetrate some of the greatest evils against mankind that the world has ever seen.

Then in 1534, a group called the Jesuits was founded to complete this task of securing the Church of England's total jurisdiction of every individual by exterminating protestants & liberals and anyone who disagreed in any way with the Pope making the Pope the official spiritual authority.

Now, with the internet at our fingertips, it is easy to see how the Freemasons, the Jesuits and the Catholic Church were all instruments used to wage an invisible war against God and convince mankind that he could become God. And anyone who resisted total surrender to the Pope as the vicar of Christ risked excommunication - or worse. So, in 1609, a group of Christians fled from England to Leyden, Holland where they found the freedom to worship as they pleased. But after 12 years, the negative influence of the permissive Dutch moral standards on their children and the loss of their English-speaking heritage prompted them to seek a new beginning in America in 1620.

In 1694 the centralized banking system was established in England making the government a partner in the English banking system which subjected all of government to the Pope and served as a model for other countries to pursue this avenue of government control over its citizens. Additionally, less than 40 years later, in 1733, the Freemasons also expanded into the US and founded the American Society of Freemasons. Since it obviously would have been unwise to market the new arrivals as a group whose objective was to replace Christianity with paganism, they disguised their intentions by declaring their values to be religious tolerance and support for free enterprise, limited government & empowerment of the individual - everything that would be appealing to people desperately searching for the freedom to live and raise their children in a culture that encouraged their Christian beliefs. This is how the Masons deceptively established themselves into the fabric of America. (2 Cor 11:14 - "...Satan disguises himself as an angel of light.")

Meanwhile in Frankfurt, Germany in 1744, a Jewish man named Mayer Amschel Bauer had a coin shop in a Jewish ghetto of Frankfurt. Over the door of his shop, hung a red shield in the form of two interlocking triangles (which would later become the Seal of Solomon) as a business marker. In German, red shield is "rot schild". He became known as Mister Rot Schild (Rothschild), and the Rothschild name had made its entrance onto the world stage. When Amschel's sons grew up, having trained them in his lucrative banking business, he expanded his reach into the world of finance into other countries by sending them out of Frankfurt to carry on the banking enterprise in London, Vienna, Paris, & Naples. This was the beginning of the world banking system.

Back on the other side of the world 32 years later in 1776, America declared its independence from England. Coincidentally, (if you believe in coincidence) that same year Adam Weishaupt, a professor of law at the University of Ingolstadt, Bavaria founded the Illuminati to push back on the influence of religion in society and promote Enlightenment ideals like reason, secularism & rational thought over traditional religious & political authority. It's no surprise that he was then welcomed into the like-minded Society of Freemasons which he used as a very successful recruiting source for his newly founded Illuminati Society.

Freemasons would become a common denominator in the plight of Christians in the decades to come as America's first president, George Washington and his Secretary of the Treasury had both sworn allegiance to the secret society of Masons. It is not clear how much awareness Washington had regarding the Masons' negative disposition toward people of faith. One does not get the idea from historical records that he was knowingly in agreement with what we know today as Masonic values. However, Alexander Hamilton, his Secretary of the Treasury (and close friend of the Rothschilds) took only 2 years into the first administration to adopt Europe's centralized bank structure into the structure of US government. Securing the financial control in the hands of the government was the first necessary step toward making government supreme over God.

In 1832 the highly secret Society of Skull and Bones was founded at Yale University as an offshoot of a group back in Germany. The Yale order embraced the rites and goals of Scottish Freemasonry to restrict individual freedom, establish man's subservience to government and implement the New World Order by embracing eugenics and get as many members as possible into strategically placed positions of power. The crossbones symbol is representative of their belief that anyone who is not a member is viewed as inferior and, therefore, unworthy of truth making him a target for being deceived and "double-crossed." The society is known at Yale as the "Brotherhood of Death," a label not exactly consistent with the sanctity of human life created in the image of God. It targets senior students for membership who are destined for a career in government, law, finance & other positions of influence. (That's the invisible hand fueling the secret war on the college campus!) Once they are in positions of power they appoint their fellow Bonesmen to other positions. According to two independent researchers, Skull and Bones has devolved even further into embracing occultic beliefs and rituals typical of European Freemasons and the Illuminati. It is reported that the Skull & Bones building on campus houses remnants of Hitler's private silver collection while the group simultaneously functions as an agency of subversion of the American Republic by England. Could it be any clearer that this global Satanic drive is fueled by man's desire to control and enabled by extremely wealthy individuals, government entities and secret societies?

But in the 1880s, the untapped genius of the Serbian-born electrical engineer and physicist, Nikola Tesla, emerged to enlighten the world about how the universe works. Immigrating to the US in 1884, Tesla found financial support in George Westinghouse, Thomas Edison, JP Morgan and John Jacob Astor to research the forces he believed were in existence but unrecognized. One of his earliest discoveries was electromagnetic energy (EMF) which identified the way energy is propagated through space in waves like radio waves, microwaves, infrared radiation, the visible light spectrum, x-rays and ultraviolet rays which travel at the speed of light. Electromagnetic energy is fundamental to all of life, especially in heating and communication. Of course, anything that can be used for good can also be used for evil. So, whereas, wireless technology was an amazing discovery that has given us cell phones & I pads & other devices of convenience, it is now being exploited to give us excessive amounts of EMFs which is having subtle but detrimental effects not only on our health but on the environment by depleting the bee population which is essential for growing food.

With the discovery of electromagnetic waves, came the discovery of waves that were even smaller - quantum and scalar waves which opened up a whole new understanding of the world of energy. Quantum and scalar waves carry energy more efficiently than electromagnetic waves & are essential to influencing biological systems and regenerative healing because they are active at the electron level of each atom. Scalar waves apparently cause frequency vibrations that improve communication between cells by influencing the biochemistry between the nerve cells of neurotransmitters which has implications for healing spinal cord & brain injuries. In the 21st century, it is this field of quantum and scalar energy that has captured the attention of humanity around the world to come to the aid of disease, injuries, aging and DNA damage. One hundred and fifty years later, this research is expanding into biofield healing, age reversal and regenerative medicine (think Medbeds, Rife Machines and Ionic Care). Tesla also demonstrated that scalar waves can even penetrate solid objects and travel through the ground with no loss of energy. (Sounds like a candidate for a serious weapon!)

Since the 1900s, militaries have been capitalizing on Tesla's discoveries by secretly producing and using med beds to heal disease, restore the body's natural frequencies and reverse the aging process.

Tesla's discovery of electrical transmission and alternating current led to his creation of the wireless electric motor in 1888 which laid the foundation for today's generators that maintain our power during outages. And when Tesla built his famous Wardencllyffe Tower on Long Island in 1899 to demonstrate the transmission of free electricity and radio waves, the true motives of his chief financial supporter, JP Morgan, were exposed. When Morgan saw that free electricity was available to everyone on earth, he canceled his funding, shut the project down and had it demolished & sold for scrap.

But Tesla could see the possibilities of his discoveries for impacting man's future. He even foresaw the advent of the cell phone back in 1926: "When wireless is perfectly applied, the whole earth will be converted into a huge brain, which in fact, it is, all things being particles of a real and rhythmic whole. We shall be able to communicate with one another instantly, irrespective of distance. Not only this, but through television and telephony we shall see and hear one another as perfectly as though we were face to face, despite intervening distances of thousands of miles, and the instruments through which we shall be able to do this will be amazingly simple compared with our present telephone. A man will be able to carry one in his vest pocket."

Nikola Tesla's life-altering discoveries included alternating current (AC) 1893; electromagnetic energy & quantum & scalar wave technology used in healing (Med Beds, Ionic Care, Rife Machines, etc) 1882; time travel; quantum vacuum energy 1891; wireless electric motor 1888; Tesla Coil for low-current high frequency voltage 1891; electrical transmission 1888; wireless electrical transmission & communication 1901; radio transmission 1897; neon & fluorescent lighting 1893; laser beam technology 1893; remote control technology 1898; robotics 1898; hydroelectric power plant at Niagara Falls 1895; artificial lightning 1899-1900 and anti-gravity technology. Most of Tesla's discoveries & inventions were stolen routed back to Germany, and the 700+ US patents he filed have been aggressively concealed for 126 years.

While Tesla was immersed in his world of scientific discovery in the US, the idea of engineering human breeding was emerging in Germany where the Society of Race-Hygiene was founded in 1905. England followed suit two years later with their own Eugenics Education Society, and in 1910, The Eugenics Record Office was founded in America "to encourage breeding better people" soon to be followed by the creation of the American Eugenics Society "to help people become living gods." And though it was not known, there was already a meeting planned to nationalize banking because breeding out the massive number of the world's undesirables would not be cheap!

It had taken a thousand years but the handwriting was on the wall of things to come. An invisible hand was orchestrating events as if it were moving pieces on a chessboard toward ridding the world of believers. The Masons were pursuing their intention to replace Christianity with pre-Christian paganism. The Jesuits were implementing their plan to exterminate protestants. The Catholic Church had seized control of all matters spiritual by demanding subservience to the Pope in place of God. The world banking system had been spawned by one man & his sons in Germany to control the movement of money in Europe. At that point, the Illuminati had been established by a man who wanted to cancel religious thought and replace it with secularism. Then, just fifteen years after its founding, America had a Freemason President and his Freemason Secretary of the Treasury had successfully placed the country under the European model of government-controlled banking. From there, it didn't take long before opposition to God's sovereignty found a home in America's education system with the establishment of the Skull & Bones Society at Yale University (based on Scottish Freemasonry and a similar secret society in Germany) with marching orders to "restrict individual freedom, establish man's subservience to government and introduce the New World Order using eugenics...enabling mankind to become living gods." Clearly, the deck was stacked against America's survival as a God-fearing nation from the very beginning with multiple powerful forces opposed to human freedom already at work before she was even founded.

In 1910, the same year that had seen the establishment of The American Eugenics Society, the plan to seize control of the government's economy was secretly activated as 7 of the wealthiest men in America participated in a clandestine meeting at Jekyll Island to brainstorm the creation of the US Federal Reserve Bank at the direction of JP Morgan, a cutthroat capitalist driven by greed and a hunger to control world finances. (Big surprise - another wealthy pagan with a desire to control the world!) Of those in attendance, 2 represented the Rockefeller's financial empire, 1 represented the Rothschild banking dynasty and 3 represented JP Morgan. But there was a slight hiccup in the plan when 3 of America's wealthiest business owners disagreed with the purpose and creation of the Federal Reserve. John Jacob Astor IV was a very wealthy inventor and builder. Isidor Strauss was co-owner of Macy's department store and Benjamin Guggenheim was an extremely influential businessman born into a copper mining family. These three were rival millionaires who were viewed as a threat to the creation of the Federal Reserve Bank, and they had to be dealt with. Two years went by with no progress toward the Federal Reserve. Did the masterminds spend two years trying to persuade these 3 men to support the system? If not, it seems very coincidental that all three of them would be in the same place at the same time and would suffer the same fate. Astor and his pregnant wife were ready to return home aboard the Titanic from a vacation in Europe as were Strauss and his wife and Guggenheim and his mistress.

There is much controversy surrounding the story of the Titanic, but with time, facts have emerged that paint a vastly different picture from what we've been told. It's a picture of money-hungry monsters willing to do anything to gain financial control – including orchestrating mass murder on the sea.

Transatlantic travel was becoming more commonplace in 1912 and with Tesla's discoveries constantly in the headlines, electricity and communication had been incorporated into the luxury steamships making travel much more appealing. Titanic was well-equipped with all the contemporary conveniences, thanks to the fact that JP Morgan had bought the White Star Line in 1902 for $10 million.

The story of Titanic actually revolves around 2 ships - the Olympic and Titanic, both of which were part of Morgan's White Star Shipping Line. The Olympic had already been put to sea and suffered 2 major incidents in 1911. Morgan had filed an insurance claim, but the insurance company refused to pay for the repairs because the Olympic had been found to be at fault for the crash. So, Morgan, master schemer that he was, concocted a plan to switch the 2 ships and have them repainted with the Olympic bearing the name Titanic and vice versa. This would allow him to actually substitute the Olympic marketed as the Titanic and release it into the icy waters of the Atlantic to be destroyed in another accident and then collect the insurance money for the loss. And in the soul-less mind of JP Morgan, this would also be a good opportunity to remove the 3 major sources of opposition to the Federal Reserve, Astor, Guggenheim & Strauss if they could be coaxed into a complimentary trip aboard the maiden voyage of the sea's most luxurious liner. They apparently accepted the gift and Morgan listed himself as a passenger to cover his fraudulent intentions right up until the last minute when he cancelled his reservation along with a good friend whom he had advised not to make the trip.

To ensure the plan's success, Morgan strategically placed two of his Jesuit friends onboard. One was Captain Edward Smith, who was indebted to Morgan because of his poor performance in the Olympic's two previous incidents. The other was Father Francis Browne who was assigned two responsibilities: 1) take photographs of Guggenheim, Astor and Strauss just before departure, and 2) make certain that Captain Smith does his job of running Titanic at full speed through the iceberg-laden waters at night. The plan worked like a charm as the ship struck an iceberg and sank to the bottom of the Atlantic taking the 3 major opponents of the Federal Reserve System with it. Of course, it cost the lives of 1,500 innocent people - but that's what happens when people get in the way of the secret war. This put activation of their project back on track and the following year, the Federal Reserve System became a reality to create money out of nothing, destabilize the economy, encourage wars by funding both sides and serve as a tool in the hands of the elite for totalitarian control. The Fed was accountable to no one and those who controlled the Fed were unhindered in adding to their coffers ad nauseum. In fact, it was the founding of the Federal Reserve System that created sufficient funding for the Jesuits to fan the flames of a religious dissention that would ignite WWI. It appears that every major event that transpires in the world is somehow connected to the battle to control the world.

There should be no doubt at this point that the entity behind the worldwide push for control through banking, shipping, religion, commerce and legislation (and essentially to be God over the world) is the same one who tried and failed to be worshipped as God in heaven before creation (Is 14 & Eze 28). It didn't work there and it won't work here - but that won't keep him from trying because God's patience has not yet been exhausted in waiting for those who have not yet accepted His offer of salvation. The question we're all asking is, How long will it be before God says "enough"? Only God knows. In the meantime, we occupy until He comes and fulfill our calling to point others to Jesus. And so, the battle rages on. (1 Jn 5:19 - "...the whole world lies in the power of the evil one.")

In 1919, with World War I in the rearview mirror, Germany was suffering a serious setback as a result of the harsh terms of the Treaty of Versailles. So, when the Austrian-born German politician, Adolfus Hitler, joined both the secret Thule Society, known for its Satan worship and black magic, and also the German Worker's Party, which became the Nazi Party, his oratorical skills and use of propoganda quickly earned him the leadership of the Party. His goals were Germany's territorial expansion and racial supremacy. The desire for racial supremacy stemmed from the fact that his father, (whose identity is debated) was the illegitimate son of Baron de Rothschild and Maria Anna Schicklgruber, one of his peasant servants. The idea that he was 1/4th Jewish fueled Hitler's passion for racial purity even to the point of leading Germany to invade Austria in March, 1938 out of fear that the Austrian chancellor knew about his Jewish ancestry and could derail his political ambitions. Overtaking Austria would enable him to remove all traces of his Jewish ancestry from Austrian records. This laid the groundwork for WWII.

As the war progressed, Hitler dreamed of a 1,000 yr reign of the 4th Reich in America and every other country, but toward the end of the war it was obvious that Germany was not going to achieve its lofty goal. So, they had to find a way to escape and survive if Nazism was to have a chance for re-emergence. So, Hitler ordered his bodyguard, Otto Skorzeny to evacuate the elite nazis from Europe at the end of WWII. Skorzeny took senior Nazis to Argentina & Spain and then relocated Hitler to Glacier National Park, Montana where he lived until his death. Glacier Park had a railway system that enabled the transportation and storage of $6 million in gold & silver stolen from Jews in the Holocaust. Hitler's plan was for Skorzeny and Reinhardt Gehlen to be the chief politicians in the new world. But for America, he chose a father & son duo, the Scherffs, whom he had groomed and trained as spies to infiltrate American life & take the country down from the inside.

Hitler's Inner Circle

The teenager in the German Navy uniform (center) was initially labeled George Scherff Jr. However, there are no known birth records either in the US or Europe for George Scherff Sr or Jr. The owner of the photograph, Otto Skorzeny, claims that the man to the left (our right) of the sailor labeled Prescott Bush was actually George Scherff Sr who pretended to be the father of the young man in the uniform, George Scherff Jr in order to conceal his real identity. But so many tales abound about the identities of these two men that it is impossible to discern whether the adult George Scherff was actually Prescott Bush or not. Other witnesses state that the man labeled Prescott Bush is actually George Scherff, Sr. Scherff was their German name that was changed to Bush to obscure their identity when they were sent to the US as Hitler's emissaries. To add intrigue to the mystery, there are no US birth records for a Scherff Sr or Scherff Jr in the later 1800s or early 1900s and all German records of their name have been purged.

So, is the young sailor indeed, the person we know as George H W Bush? We know that he forged his birth certificate in Germany to state that he was 18 when he was actually only 16 so he could join the Navy and here he is wearing the German Navy uniform. There is also plenty of documentation that after he came to the US under the name George Bush, he enlisted in the US Navy. What better way to gather intelligence about the enemy than to familiarize oneself with military life in one country and then infiltrate into the military of another? It seems certain that the uniformed young man is, indeed, the man we know as George Herbert Walker Bush. So, is the man next to him actually George Scherff Sr pretending to be the father of the sailor or is he someone else?

Other questions surrounding this picture refer to timing. When and where was this photograph taken? If, as Skorzeny claims, it was taken in Germany, it had to be several years before WWII because Skorzeny (back right) is a young fellow in this picture which contrasts with pictures of him with his Fuhrer as a very tall, middle-aged adult. If our young sailor is 16 in this photo, that means that the picture had to be taken in the 1920s which would roll his birthdate back to around 1904. But every US reference to him is careful to claim his birthplace to be Milton, Massachusetts in 1924. Also, after Tesla's death, Bush went to the office of J Edgar Hoover (FBI director in 1943) to try to secure the rest of Tesla's papers claiming that he had worked with Tesla in 1914. But Bush wouldn't even have been alive in 1914 if these numbers are right. There are still a lot of unanswered questions regarding the Bushes.

This was obviously an effort to bring the "Bushes" to the US under an American-sounding name for a specific purpose void of any record of their actual Austro-German ancestry. It is also reflective of a common practice among the top 13 bloodline families is to have a child quietly and adopt him or her out to another family. The child then takes on the adopted name, obscuring his or her genealogy. Curiously, there are also no birth records for Barbara Pierce, George H W Bush's wife, who bears no likeness at all to her "parents" Marvin & Pauline Pierce who are listed as childless on familysearch.org. And records reveal that her grandmother, Kate emigrated from Bavaria, Germany. So, we can safely assume that the Scherffs and Barbara "Pierce Bush" came from Austro-Germany, and it is well known that they were invaluable to the Hitler regime here in the US during and after the war was over.

Scherff Sr had expertise in banking & functioned as Tesla's accountant while Scherff Jr played the role of a clueless kid nosing around Tesla's lab stealing everything he could. Tesla wrote that he hated the Scherff kid who acted like a "mischievous monkey." This served as the origin of the "Curious George" book and movie.

In 1942, Prescott Bush was arrested under the Trading With the Enemy Act & convicted as a Nazi spy for laundering stolen Holocaust money for Hitler but served no time. Then in 1952, he was somehow elected to the US Senate from Connecticut. Did Connecticut not know about his record? Or did they just not care? Or has “monkey business” been going on in the election process since 1952?

The cartoon character “Curious George” originated with Tesla’s description of George H W Scherff/Bush’s nosy antics in his lab during the time that his father, Scherff Sr, (Prescott Bush) was Hitler’s mole acting as Tesla’s accountant and stealing his notes.

There are no US birth records for Barbara Pierce and she bears no resemblance to her “parents”, Marvin & Pauline Pierce who are listed in familysearch.org as being childless. But her likeness to Aleister Crowley is remarkable. Records show that she is of German heritage and that her grandmother, Kate, immigrated to the US from Bavaria, Germany.

Aleister Crowley Barbara Pierce Bush

At the turn of the 20th century, the plan to take over America was in full swing. But, as always, there were glitches. German bankers coming to America in 1903, 1905, 1910, 1912 & 1913 seem to have developed temporary mental confusion upon entering the US port at Ellis Island because both Paul Warburg (author of the document creating the Federal Reserve Act) and James Loeb (a German banker) gave multiple conflicting stories regarding their country of origin, birthplace, nationality and citizenship. In 1903, Warburg, who represented the Rothschild banks in England and France (while his brother served in the same capacity in Germany and the Netherlands) claimed he was an American banker from Germany living at 3 E 82nd St in New York, but on his 1905 trip, he claimed to be a merchant. On the next trip he claimed he was from Hamburg, Germany, had never been to the US and had no address here. But the confusion was suddenly resolved when he was able to communicate well enough in English to write the documentation creating the Federal Reserve Act in 1913.

Likewise, James Loeb, a partner in the banking firm Kuhn, Loeb & Co. declared his US citizenship in 1903 but was unable to declare his country of origin in 1910 and then in 1912 declared himself to be from Landsberg, Germany. He apparently made 2 more trips to the US which, curiously coincided with Warburg's meetings with German bankers on Wall Street who were working to create the foreign entity called the Federal Reserve System. Obviously, there had been a well-thought-out plot for acquiring control of America remotely by inserting German banking agents into the American finance system across the sea.

While German loyalists were working toward the banking takeover, Nikola Tesla was turning out his inventions and capturing the attention of capitalists around the world. So, Hitler arranged for new American-sounding names for the Scherffs and sent them to America to do his bidding along with some key people to fund their efforts. Interestingly enough, most of them found themselves welcomed as students at Yale University which would result in their membership in the elite Society of Skull & Bones in the senior year.

George H Scherff, now as Prescott S Bush married Dorothy Walker, the daughter of Goerge Herbert Walker. Question: The claim is that George Herbert Walker Bush was named after his mother's father, George Herbert Walker. But his son, George H W Scherff (#41) was born in Austro-Germany with the German name Scherff. So when did his name change to adopt his father-in-law's name?

George Herbert Walker Bush co-founded Zapata Oil Company in 1953 with 4 other men, 2 of whom were German. As the war raged on, Hitler's supporters were trying to create ways to bring in money to fund Hitler's regime. Bush had developed the Zapata Oil Drilling Company with several offshore drilling platforms which constantly ran boats from the platform to the shore to transport workers and supplies. This created an easy thoroughfare for receiving & transporting illicit drugs to the US by getting around government inspections which never occurred between oil rigs and the docks. Drugs were delivered from South America by fishing boat to the drilling platforms and were then ferried with the next run to the shore. This makes George Herbert Walker Bush responsible for beginning the importation of illegal drugs to the US to fund the Hitler agenda. In 1959 he began to work secretly for the CIA.

In 1963, a CIA operation code-named Pegasus tapped the phone line of CIA director J Edgar Hoover which recorded a conversation among 5 men discussing plans to assassinate JFK because he was about to expose the traitorous actions of the CIA. The 5 people in the conversation were Nelson Rockefeller, Allan Dulles, Lyndon B Johnson, J Edgar Hoover and George Herbert Walker Bush. His involvement is also documented in a picture of him standing in the crowd with his hands in his pockets in Dallas on the day of Kennedy's assassination watching the plan unfold. The next day, the only person Hoover notified was Bush whose official public statement was that he wasn't in Dallas and couldn't remember where he was at the time of the shooting. Ten years later, Richard Nixon is on tape referring to Bush's involvement in JFK's murder.

Bush had a long standing business partnership with Sadam Hussein prior to the Gulf War. In fact, it is alleged that Bush actually lured Hussein into invading Kuwait to justify waging war to take over the oil production there. This was a calculated move toward his goal of establishing the New World Order under a one world government to which Bush repeatedly referred in his speeches. But his support for the New World Order is in direct opposition to America's Declaration of Independence. Bush has also, for many years had a close relationship with the bin Laden family in Saudi Arabia with frequent family visits back and forth.

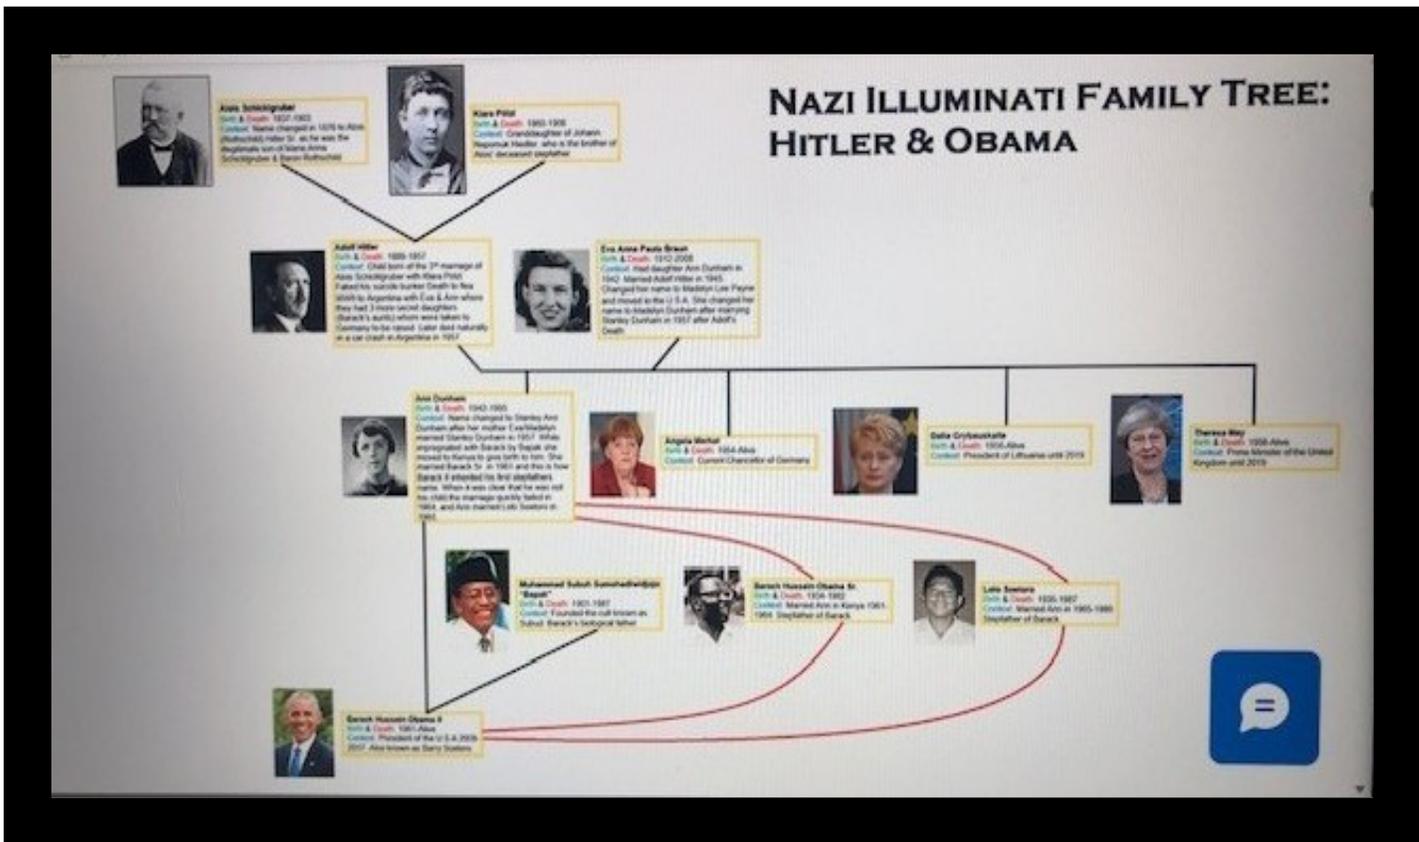

Once Bush was in the White House under President Ronald Reagan, it was easier to pursue his goals and is said to have been responsible for most of what Reagan said and did during his presidency. Consequently, Reagan's CIA Director was very much onboard as revealed in his comment in 1981 that, "We'll know our disinformation program is complete when everything the American people believe is a lie."

From the founding of societies such as the Freemasons, Jesuits, Skull & Bones, Illuminati, Rothschild's world banking system, the Federal Reserve System and eugenics societies, deception has been the order of the day as principle parties initially claim honorable purposes and values only to later be revealed as puppets in the hand of the enemy of mankind. And you have to admit, they have studied well and perfected their art.

Another case of hidden genealogy is this well-known face.

We were told that Obama was the son of Barak Hussein Obama, Sr. Then we found that he had a passport in the name of Barry Soetoro. So, who is this person? Obviously, his biological father is Muhammad Subuh Sumohadiwidjojo (Indonesia). In his days at Yale, he addressed a book club and spoke about his book, "Dreams From My Father." In that video he states that his mother was Ann Dunham. What he didn't say was that his mother was the daughter of Eva Braun & Adolf Hitler. Details are intentionally sketchy, but there is documentation on the internet that reveals that Ann was the first of 4 of Hitler's known daughters. Incidentally, he had 3 others - Angela Merkel, who eventually stepped into her father's shoes as Chancellor of Germany, Theresa May, who served as the Prime Minister of England 2016-2019, and Dalia Grabauskaitė who served as the President of Lithuania 2009-2019. None of them bear the name Hitler for obvious reasons, but bloodline families intentionally obfuscate their genealogies from the public.

Apparently, when Ann discovered she was pregnant, she married Barack Hussein Obama, Sr, possibly under the pretense that he was the father of her unborn child. Some sources claim that when he realized the child was not his, he divorced Ann who then married Lolo Soetoro in 1965. How coincidental do you think it is that of Hitler's 4 girls, all 4 led to heads of European countries? See the invisible hand?

Given reports of Obama's childhood exposure to crossdressers & alternative lifestyles, it is not surprising to learn that he married Michael LaVaughn Robinson, a former football player for Oregon who later underwent sex change therapy in Colorado to develop certain female anatomical characteristics while trying fairly unsuccessfully to conceal his male anatomy!

This is a summary of the secret war that has been raging over our heads in the spiritual world goading America and all of mankind down a pathway of self-destruction up to the point of Barack Hussein Obama's presidency. Next time, we'll look at the war beneath our feet.
