

Men's Golf League News, May – 2026

Fake News Reporter – Tad Lague

Following a busy March with an extensive end-of-season tournament schedule, things began to slow down a bit as we moved into April. The snowbirds start to head north for the summer, and the Canadians empty their refrigerators to make sure there's no beer left behind.

The Men's League had their semi-annual meeting at the club house with a highly anticipated Prime Rib dinner. League President, Dave Leonard, sporting a snappy Hawaiian shirt he'd picked up at Goodwill, introduced the new league treasurer, Mike Williams who will be replacing Ray Burrows. Ray received a well-deserved round of applause and some cash for his years of service keeping the league solvent. Dave Fagan will continue as vice president and Steve Andrews will carry on as secretary.

Hole-in-One Report - New guy, Moe Mailloux, playing with fellow Canadians, Brian Gordon, Mike Barrett and Bill Craney, canned his 1st lifetime hole-in-one at the difficult 13th hole using a 7-iron playing to a back right pin position, that cleared the front bunker and appeared to hit the flag stick. Upon arriving at the green, Moe had a look in the hole only to find his ball waiting for him at the bottom of the cup. Way to go Moe. That should make a good story to bring back to Canada.

During a Friday morning round Jerry Jaromin hit his tee shot to the right and onto the beach on the Pine Lakes 18th hole. Waiting for Jerry when he reached his ball was a 6-foot alligator just tempting Jerry to play the shot. After an extended discussion, the 3 remaining players in the group, Al Keefer, Jim Divit and a league rules official, quite generously gave Jerry free relief but he had to stay in the penalty area since there was serious money on the line.

Using superhuman concentration, Jerry did manage to escape the penalty area with all his limbs and carded a 7 on the hole but still won the match and 50 cents.
