Pieter – Managing Director

I'll be honest - going into kinesiology, I was skeptical. Like most guys, I tend to push through pain and stress rather than explore alternative ways of healing. Working with my kinesiologist completely changed that mindset. The experience opened my eyes to how connected the body and mind really are, and how healing doesn't always come from forcing or ignoring things. The impact has been genuinely life-changing, not just physically but mentally and emotionally. I walked away with a new perspective on my health and myself, and tools I'll carry for the rest of my life.

Paula Rodrigues – Director + Playwright

Liezcel support has been essential to my recent personal and professional wellbeing. She offers a unique approach that feels personalised and warm and at the same time she has kindly challenge me to evolve beyond my own constructed limitations. She is a true guidance and trusted person in my life.

Simon – Producer

Before working with Liezel, I was deeply sceptical of any kind of therapy, let alone what I thought was going to be 'alternative' therapy. However, after just one session I felt heard, I felt reassured and like a huge weight had been lifted off my chest. For the first time in months, I felt like I could see a way forward. Over the last three years Liezel has helped me to navigate personal, professional and relationship issues with kindness and sensitivity but also with a firmness and clearness of thought that have been invaluable. To anyone reading this that isn't sure if this is "for them" I encourage you to try a session. You will very quickly know if it's for you, and if it is right for you, it will change your life.

Regina Brandolino - Producer + Actor + Screenwriter

I have been working with Liezel individually and together with my husband for about 6 years. Liezel has seen me through my late twenties into my mid 30s. Changing professions, dealing with family collapses, friend breakups, grief and complete internal and external transformation.

It hasn't been an easy journey, and it hasn't always been beautiful, but it has never been lonely.

Liezcel has been a guide, a true friend, a confidant, an ally and much more but most importantly she has always been my safe space. I have never had to hide who I am or what I am feeling.

Liezcel has provided a caring and nurturing space for me to dive deep within and rise up high whilst she held my hand through it all.

She created a space where I could be completely honest and free knowing that there were always honesty and kindness waiting for me.

I can firmly say my life has completely changed for the better since meeting Liezel and I will be forever thankful to her. Liezel has changed my life, and I truly love my life and the person that I am today.

In the few sessions I've had with Liezel she has already had a big impact in my life (both as an individual and with my partner). I cannot thank or recommend her enough. I've never looked forward to therapy sessions so much!
