Research Report

DATE: December 19, 2021

TO: Sample

SUBJECTS:

1. George Richey of Abbeville County, South Carolina
2. Henry "Hal" Hargrave of Davidson County, North Carolina
3. Margaret Booth of Baltimore, Maryland
4. Pearl Kess of Baltimore, Maryland
5. John Elder Nicholson of Baltimore, Maryland

BACKGROUND SUMMARY ON SUBJECT 1:

Known data suggests George W. Richey was born around 1870 in Abbeville County, South Carolina. County marriage records indicate he was married to Leona Bruce of Rowan County, NC and Lizzie Johnson of Greenville County, South Carolina.

OBJECTIVE: Identify any Native American ancestry of George Richey/Ritchie of Abbeville, South Carolina.

Research Report

SUMMARY OF RESEARCH FINDINGS:

Richie/Richey

George W. Richey was born to George Richey and Mattie Lomax of Abbeville County, South Carolina on Aug 20, 1876. We can solidly confirm this due to vital records and genetic data from North Carolina State Archives and AncestryDNA database. There was no genetic information or historical documentation evidence that indicated Native American ancestry. Rather, evidence affirms the prevalence of African ancestry within Richey ancestors. The furthest paternal ancestor, Armstead Richey was born in South Carolina around 1836.

Bruce

Leona Bruce was born in January of 1879 to James Bruce and Julia Barmore of Donaldsonville, Abbeville County, South Carolina. Her exact date of death is unknown. We can estimate her date of death is between 1913-1915 because her youngest daughter, Emma Richey, was born approximately 1912. In addition, Leona is also cited within her father's intestate succession on April 28, 1913 on a written note found within where she succeeded her portion of the estate to her mother. For that reason, we can safely assume that she died between 1913-1915.

James Bruce grew up in the Donaldsonville, South Carolina area. Census records describe him as a mulatto man who from earliest records lived in Donaldsonville for his entire life. No potential slave owner could be located that detailed him within any conveyance or inventory. From his earliest records, there were never any records where he lived with siblings or parents. The 1880 US Census locates him within the household of Julia Barmore's immediate family. James Bruce's will states he passed away on January 31, 1913 in Abbeville County, South Carolina. His wife, Julia, was the executrix of his estate.

Julia Barmore's 1919 death certificate states she was born approximately 1850 in Abbeville County, South Carolina to Benjamin Barmore and Moriah Barmore of Abbeville, South Carolina. Census records were searched to locate and identify her family on the 1870 and 1880 US Census', however none positively identifying the Barmore family could be located. Julia Barmore Bruce passed away on March 17, 1919 in Donalds, Abbeville County, South Carolina from influenza.

Records for African Americans in this region are sparse. After visiting the local county clerk of court, it became very clear that records for people of color had not been preserved on the local level. I believe this is why there was not sufficient evidence to pursue the origins of the Bruce-Barmore family further.

Hargrave

Henry “Hal” Hargave was born around 1815 in Davidson County, North Carolina. He was enslaved by Jesse Hargrave (1777-1830) of Guilford County, North Carolina. The Hargave family is responsible for establishing the city of Lexington, Davidson County, North Carolina which was the site of Henry & Eliza Hargrave’s enslavement.

Boothe

Margaret Elizabeth Boothe was born August 12, 1899 in Isle of Wight County, Virginia to Charlie Lee Booth and Margaret Sarah Godwin. She was the second oldest daughter of seven children who were all reared in the Smithfield, Virginia area. Charles “Charlie” Booth was born to Randall Lowry Booth and Georgiana Tynes of Isle of Wight County, VA in 1873. Randall Booth is recognized locally as a hero who was responsible for protecting county records during the civil war from burnings caused by union troops that swept through the area. Randall was allowed to leave the supervision of his master, N. P Young, who was the clerk of court during the attack of May 1862. A brief history of Isle of Wight county details how Booth “remained in the woods and on the road for days at the time, with them.” He was described in this excerpt as an “old-timers” [who] remained faithful to his “White Marster” till old age and failing health struck him down.

From that time till his death his “White Marster” people remained with him, ministering to his wants and necessities. This type of the “Old Virginny Darkey” is almost a thing of the past.”

Marriage records indicate Randall Booth was the son of John Travis (1790-1860) and Rosetta Boothe(1809-1870) of Isle of Wight, Virginia. The furthest ancestors that could be traced in this lineage were the parents of Rosetta, Randall and Sukey Boothe. Records estimate their date of birth around 1775-1785.

Nicholson

John Elder Nicholson was born November 11, 1910 to Solden and Frances (Taylor) Nicholson in Furnace Branch, Anne Arundel, Maryland. He was the eldest of six children. Solden Nicholson, was born to George and Mary Anne (Queen) Nicholson on June 28, 1886 in Anne Arundel County, Maryland. He worked as a porter at a tailor shop when he met Frances Taylor. During their union, Solden served at John Wesley Methodist Episcopal Church of Glen Burnie, Anne Arundel, Maryland as Sunday School Superintendent and Deacon. He became an ordained minister on August 3, 1923 under the direction of Julius S. Carroll. For nearly 40 years, Reverend Solden Nicholson administered baptism, marriage, and memorial services to the Glen Burnie community. His father, George was a

DETAILED RESEARCH NOTES:

Ritchie/Richey

Goal: Confirm or deny Native American heritage in the lineage of George W. Richey of Abbeville, South Carolina

Details about George Richey were few in number. Two census records could be identified for George Richey and his daughters, Leana and Emma. The 1920 U.S. Census states everyone enumerated in his household was “Black”. Records indicate George Richey’s estimated birth around 1870-1876 in Abbeville County, South Carolina. Despite having reliable information to support his birth, no other census records could be located for him.

He died on August 16, 1951 at the age of 77, from a cerebral hemorrhage as a result of continued malignant hypertension. He was buried August 19, 1951 at Oakdale Union Hill Cemetery in Salisbury, Rowan County, North Carolina.

Salisbury Post Newspaper Notice⁵

Funeral
George Washington Richie, husband of Mrs. Lella Richie of 615 West Marsh street died at the home Thursday night about 9:40 o'clock. He was born in Due-west, S. C. and came to Salisbury some years ago. He became a member of the Church of Christ. He followed his trade of carpentry as long as he was able.
Funeral services will be held at the Ellis-Mangum-Fair Funeral Home Sunday 4 P. M. Brother E. L. Collins will be in charge of the services. Interment will be in Oakdale Cemetery.
Survivors are the widow Mrs. Lela Richie, three daughters, Mrs. Rosa Hamilton and Miss Jessie Mae Richie, Washington, D. C., Mrs. Lena Hargrave Baltimore Md., two grand children.
The body will remain at the funeral home until time of funeral.

Analysis: An excerpt from the Salisbury Post reveals a funeral notice for George Washington Richie's death in 1951. It states he was the husband of Mrs. Lela Richie and father of Rosa (Richey) Hamilton and Jessie Mae Richie of Washington, D. C. and Lena Hargrave of Baltimore, M. D. At the time of his death, he left two grandchildren.

Records to locate and identify George Washington Richie with his parents named here were extremely challenging. There should have been an 1880 US Census that located his family in Abbeville County, South Carolina. However, there was a record for G. W. Richey (1851-) married to a woman with the initials, R. J. (1856-). In that household, there was no son with the G. W. Ritchie.⁶ This does not mean that G. W. Richey (1851-) does not have a namesake son. Rather, George Washington Richey may have been the product of infidelity. Which would explain why there are no records that ever tie Mattie Lomax to George Richie in Abbeville County, South Carolina.

Fortunately, there are records for the origins of George Richey, father of George Washington Richie, or Abbeville County, South Carolina.

Application for Delayed Birth Certificate

Analysis: This application for a South Carolina Birth Certificate was filed by Emaline Richey, sister of George Richey, and daughter of Armstead and Eliza Ann Richey. This document asserts that the Emaline was born on August 10, 1866. She also testifies the approximate age of her parents at the time of her death. Her father, Armstead, was 73 at the time of his death and her mother, Eliza Ann, died in/around 1870. Which explains why there was no spouse listed for Armstead in the Richey household on the 1870 US Census.

To J.F. Miller, Judge of probate in and for the State and County aforesaid;

The petition of the undersigned would respectfully shew to the court:

First- That James Bruce departed this life on the 31st day of
Jan. 1913, intestate;

Second- That the deceased left as his lawful heirs and distributees the following named persons, to wit; his widow-Julia Bruce, and Janie Bruce, Leona Richley, Rebbe Bruce and Charley Bruce his children.

Third-That the deceased died seized and possessed of personal property consisting of Ninety One dollars in money-deposited in the Donalds Bank, and one Milch cow of the value of about twenty dollars.

Fourth-That your petitioner has been informed and verily believes that it is necessary that some suitable person administer on the estate of the said James Bruce, deceased: Wherefore your petitioner prays the court that she may be granted letters of administration of the goods and chattles of the said James Bruce, deceased, and she will ever pray, etc.,

Will of Jesse Hargrave¹⁸ (1829)

Analysis: A North Carolina will for Jesse Hargrave of Davidson County, North Carolina shows that he bequeathed to his son, Alfred Hargave, several enslaved people, including Lewis, Moses, Henry, and Eliza. Thirty six, in total. Henry and Eliza would have been 12-14 years old at the time of this will.

This will is extremely detailed as it states the provenance of each portion of land Jesse Hargrave owns. Moreover, the land the enslaved individuals would work on was sold to Jesse Hargrave by Michael Houlshouser.

Analysis: This excerpt was taken from the personal estate section of the probate of Jesse Hargrave. In this section, every enslaved person owned by Jesse Hargrave on the River Plantation, Houlshouser Plantation, the Home Plantation, and the Harper Plantation are accounted for by name. There are no appraisal values given for them. In certain cases there are instances where Jesse Hargrave explicitly requests that specific individuals be left out of the will.

In the case of Henry “Hal” Hargrave and Eliza Hargrave, they were enslaved on the Houlshouser Plantation. The individuals enslaved there were transferred to the property of the decedent’s son, Alfred Hargrave (1812-1881).

Research Report

Analysis: Georgiana Tynes was born free around 1849.²⁶ When she married Randall, she was about 19 years old. Her mother, Margaret Tynes Marshall, is cited here requesting that Randall Boothe treat her daughter well, because her “old man” is bad to her. This document was witnessed and proven by Nancy Grace, maternal grandmother of Georgiana, who also became free during the 1840s.

Analysis: This 1860 United States Slave Schedule lists the enslaved people owned by Nathaniel Peyton Young, also known as, N. P. Young. Based on data from the 1870 US Census, we can estimate that Randall would have been about 17 years old and Georgiana, 12, during the enumeration of this slave schedule. I have highlighted the row I believe is Randall Lowery Boothe.

Research Report

Analysis: The 1920 United States Census records John E. Nicholson in the household of his parents, Solden and Frances. Both natives of Maryland, Frances and Solden had produced five children by 1920. John E. Nicholson's death certificate provides his exact birth date, November 10, 1910. This census was recorded on February 28th and March 2nd of 1920. For that reason, John would have been 9 years old. There are no conflicting pieces of evidence here.

Solden Nicholson Obituary Transcript³²

“Solden Nicholson, a son of the late George and Mary A. Nicholson, was born in Anne Arundel County on June 28, 1886. In early adulthood, he joined John Wesley M.E. Church - Glen Burnie, Maryland, where he served for more than half a century with a devotion conceived in prayer with faith.

Serving as Sunday School Superintendent, Solden Nicholson was the cause of others, especially children, to become affiliated with John Wesley and to grow up to be active Christian workers.

Under the leadership of the late Rev. J.W. Dockett, Solden Nicholson received an Exhorter's License on January 15, 1920. Over the signature of Julius S. Carroll, he received a Local Preacher's License on August 3, 1923. Under an affixed seal and by the hand of William Fraser W. Dowel, one of the Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Solden Nicholson was ordained to the status of a Deacon on April 10, 1932. The Deaconshi placed him in a position to administer the ordinance of Baptism, Marriage, and the Burial of the Dead. He served in the capacity until his declining years.

The following quoted states are in the History, 1850-1975, of John Wesley United Methodist Church:

The Rev. Solden Nicholson was our beloved and faithful local Minister at John Wesley Church. He served our congregation with distinction for many years. The ministers serving our charge always found Rev. Nicholson to be a capable cooperative assistant.

Solden Nicholson, also, lived up to the expectations of Rev. Daniel W. Hays as expressed in his congratulatory letter, to the newly appointed Deacon, dated April 20, 1932.”

Analysis: The obituary contextualizes the servant position Nicholson took in his life to lead as a minister and youth counselor at John Wesley United Methodist Church. This text also identifies his parents as George and Mary A. Nicholson.

Analysis: This 1900 US Census records several “Nicholson children living with the Sparrow family. While the record indicates that they (Onia, Solon, Carrie, and Leroy) are the children of John and Joanna Sparrow. This is highly unlikely due to the number of children she states she has borne, four children. In the household, there is also the presence of Grover C. Shipley, a white teenage farm laborer assisting John Sparrow with farm duties. In addition, a servant was recorded in the home by the name of Elanora Henson of Maryland.

Recommended Further Research:

1. Investigate the identity of Mattie Lomax of Abbeville County, South Carolina. Does oral history of Native American ancestry originate with George W. Richey's mother? Did she marry someone by the surname of Lomax?
2. Research conveyances for the identification of Armstead Richey and Eliza Brownlee during their potential ownership by Robert Brownlee, Jame W. Richey, and or George B. Richey of Abbeville County, South Carolina.
3. Investigate the relationship between Michael Houlshouser and Jesse Hargrave of Davidson County, North Carolina. Were the ancestors of Henry and Eliza Hargrave originally the property of Houlshouser? By what means did Henry and Eliza Hargrave come into the possession of the Hargrave estate?
4. Research the nature of William and Nancy Grace's emancipation.
5. Identify the plantations whereby George W. Nicholson of Anne Arundel County, Maryland was enslaved.
