A Note from Rick: Markets were very active at TLA this week. Prices were higher in most categories with the exception of butcher cows. This market has been trending downward for the last couple weeks & definitely continued that trend this week. The calf market was higher & is slowly coming back after a slide in prices several weeks ago. Holstein springers & fresh cows continue to be very strong. The effects of this are showing up more & more in Holstein open heifer prices. We had a nice selection of heifers of various sizes on Tuesday & prices were very strong. These dairy cattle prices are at an all-time high. In my opinion, the lack of heifers on the open market will keep it this way for a while. Have a great week & we hope to see you soon at TLA!
