A Note From Rick: Markets were a little softer in some cases this week at TLA. The calf market rebounded nicely after last week's drop. Prices didn't quite make it back to the levels of 3 to 4 weeks ago, but did gain the majority of last week's losses back. Butcher cows were steady for the most part, but the hot & humid weather sure is evident in the cows that are coming in. We had a smaller selection of feeders to offer this month at the Special Feeder Sale & again, the cattle are showing the stress created by the hot weather. Prices weren't quite as strong as a result of this. Bottom line, we're in the heart of the summer & all these things are pretty normal for this time of year. Have a great week & stay cool!!
