A Note From Rick: Markets were stronger again this week at TLA; the butcher cow market was no exception to this. This market continues to show very strong demand with a limited supply. The supply side does not typically increase going into Spring; therefore, I look for these prices to continue. The calf market continues its record-breaking prices week after week as well. The demand for calves is as high as I've ever seen it. Dairy cattle prices have remained steady, but if the butcher cow & baby calf prices continue to strengthen, I think you could see springer & fresh cow prices get stronger moving forward. We had the IHHA Haflinger Sale on Saturday & it was a good one! Hats off to the committee for their efforts in putting together another great, Annual Indiana Haflinger Sale! Have a great week and we'll see you soon at TLA!!
