A Note from Rick: There was definitely a lot of activity in multiple markets this week at TLA. On Tuesday, we saw butcher cows trade slightly higher than a week ago. The calf market was steady to stronger as well. The Feeder market was lightly tested, but saw steady prices. We will get a good test of this market next week with our October Special Feeder Sale. On Thursday, the Special Springer Sale was definitely tested with right at 300 head total. Prices were considerably softer than the September Sale, but keep in mind the September Sale was a bit extreme, in my opinion. What stood out to me the most on Thursday was the price difference between the very top-quality heifers and the average quality heifers. The cattle that fell into the "good but not great" category took the biggest hit. We had a full house in the horse arena on Friday and Saturday for the Friesian Fall Classic! It was a great sale with several highlights. We are looking forward to another full house with lots of highlights next week at the Draft Horse Sale. Hope to see you here at TLA!!
