A Note from Rick: Markets were very active this week at TLA. Tuesday, we saw markets continue the trend they've been on for the last several weeks. This seems to happen every year in the Fall as the volume of cattle on the market goes way up and prices struggle a bit. Look for this to continue for the next few weeks, but historically this will flip sometime in December. Thursday's Special Springer Sale brought lower prices as well. Last month we saw a slight drop in prices, but this month it was a little more substantial; not sure exactly what to think of this as it comes as a bit of a surprise to me. Seems like the supply has caught back up with the demand. The Breeder's Edition Auction this weekend went very well and we had a great lineup of horses and stallions. Hopefully everyone has completed the Harvest season before the snow flies! Time sure has flown by and Thanksgiving is fast approaching. After a very busy October, we are looking forward to slowing down a little to celebrate the holidays as we are planning our 2023 schedule. TLA is an exciting place to be in 2023!
