A Note from Rick: Markets were strong again this week at TLA. We had a herd of cows to offer & hay sold very well. The younger, fresher cows sold especially well. The dairy cattle market is very strong at all stages & the calf market was a little stronger over all. The last couple weeks were off just a little, & that wasn't the case this week at all. Butcher cows were slightly lower this week compared to last; but prices are still very, very good. May is here and it's go-time for the row crop farmers. Conditions seem to be above average for the first of May, in my opinion. A couple warm, sunny days & the dust will be flying! I'd like to wish everyone a safe Spring planting season. Have a great week & we hope to see you soon at TLA!
