A Note from Rick: Markets were stronger this week at TLA. On Tuesday, it was more of the same as far as markets go; all were steady to slightly stronger compared to last week. This has been a stable trend for the last several months & nothing has seemed to interrupt the course of these very high prices. Thursday, we had our June Special Springer Sale. Springers and fresh cow prices had been a little softer during our recent Tuesday sales as well as last month's Special Springer Sale; that was not the case this month. Prices were very strong & consistent throughout the sale. As I've mentioned before, this market is very interesting to me because milk prices have dropped significantly which usually has a direct reflection on cattle prices, but with near record high beef prices & the lack of dairy cattle available on the market, I'm not sure that will be the case this time. I could see cattle prices remaining very strong through this lull in the milk market. Have a great week and come see us soon at TLA!!
