A Note from Rick: Markets were very active & continue to be very strong this week at TLA. Tuesday's highlight was the calf market. This market was a little stronger than it's been the last couple of weeks & really shows no sign of slowing down. As grain prices continue to go down, resulting in cheaper feed, I look for calves & feeders to get even more of a boost than they already had. Butcher cows & fat cattle were both steady to just a little softer. Thursday's Special Springer Sale had stronger prices again. Springers were very close to $200 higher across the board compared to last month. This really didn't come as a surprise, as dairy cattle prices have been doing this all across the country. These prices initially seem extreme but when you factor in the cull cow prices, along with the calf prices, they're really not at all out of line, in my opinion. Have a great week & we hope to see you soon at TLA!!
