A Note from Rick: Markets were a little stronger again this week at TLA. Tuesday's sale was very active! We had a few more numbers to offer & prices were up a little in all categories. That is a very good sign to me that current prices are here to stay for the near future. Thursday, we had our Special Springer Sale for August. We had just over 200 Springers & the market was very strong! Across the board, prices were roughly $100 higher & a lot more consistent compared to the July sale. The trend in the dairy cattle market is higher prices, especially in the West. There are several markets out there that I follow regularly & they are considerably stronger over the last couple of months. I look for prices to continue to be stronger moving forward. Have a great week & we hope to see you soon at TLA!
