A Note from Rick: Markets were unchanged this week at TLA. Our numbers were down due to the nice Winter weather we're having, but prices were steady for the most part across the board. The hay market is in it's prime time of activity, and prices have shown very little change. The majority of the hay is ranging from $160 to $210 per ton. The really high-quality hay is from $240 to $300 per ton. This has been steady for quite some time now and I don't expect much change moving forward. Have a great week and enjoy the Winter weather. Hope to see you soon at TLA!!
