QUOTE(S) OF THE WEEK

“Love the battle between chaos and imagination.” – Robert Fulghum

“An artist is a dreamer consenting to dream of the actual world.” – George Santayana

“There are two kinds of fools: one says, “This is old, therefore it is good”; the other says, “This is new, therefore it is better.”” – William Ralph Inge

“I must lose myself in action, lest I wither in despair.” – Alfred Lord Tennyson

“The scientist has marched in and taken the place of the poet. But one day somebody will find the solution to the problems of the world and remember, it will be a poet, not a scientist.” – Frank Lloyd Wright

“Anyone who has lost track of time when using a computer knows the propensity to dream, the urge to make dreams come true and the tendency to miss lunch.” – Tim Berners-Lee

“If I have a thousand ideas and only one turns out to be good, I am satisfied.” – Alfred Nobel

The National Creativity Network believes that by fostering creativity in our society as a whole, and specifically with future generations, America can remain a leader in innovation and free enterprise. The very future of our communities and institutions depends on our ability to nurture and harness imagination to creatively solve problems. If creativity is to be nurtured, systems, institutions and networks must be transformed.

The opportunities that emerge to transform our nation are largely dependent upon the degree to which we are connected to each other. Our connection will become a catalyst:

- to enhance the flow of relevant information,
- and to improve the ease with which key nodes of creativity, be they in the domains of Education, Commerce, Culture or across disciplines, can gain access to the best thinking, best questions, and most successful practices as well as other resources their ventures may require.

Our strategy is to engage thought leaders across North America to create a powerful network for transformation.
