QUOTE(S) OF THE WEEK

“Words are, of course, the most powerful drug used by mankind.” – Rudyard Kipling

“The artist vocation is to send light into the human heart.” – George Sand

“Divide each difficulty into as many parts as is feasible and necessary to resolve it.” –
Rene Descartes

“We shall be judged by what we do, not by how we felt while we were doing it.” –
Kenneth Tynan

“You may not believe in evolution, and that is all right. How we humans came to be the way we are is far less important than how we should act now to get out of the mess we have made for ourselves.” – Jane Goodall

“I suppose it is tempting, if the only tool you have is a hammer, to treat everything as if it were a nail.” – Abraham Maslow

“Irresponsibility is part of the pleasure of all art; it is the part the schools cannot recognize.” – James Joyce

“I have never looked for dream in reality or reality in dream. I have allowed my imagination free play, and I have not been led astray by it.” – Gustave Moreau

The National Creativity Network believes that by fostering creativity in our society as a whole, and specifically with future generations, America can remain a leader in innovation and free enterprise. The very future of our communities and institutions depends on our ability to nurture and harness imagination to creatively solve problems. If creativity is to be nurtured, systems, institutions and networks must be transformed.

The opportunities that emerge to transform our nation are largely dependent upon the degree to which we are connected to each other. Our connection will become a catalyst:

- to enhance the flow of relevant information,
- and to improve the ease with which key nodes of creativity, be they in the domains of Education, Commerce, Culture or across disciplines, can gain access to the best thinking, best questions, and most successful practices as well as other resources their ventures may require.

Our strategy is to engage thought leaders across North America to create a powerful network for transformation.
