2025 Leadership Summit

By: Rev. Will Yates, Echoes Editor

The 2025 FGCI Leadership Summit is in the books and great things are happening in our fellowship! As we move into this busy time of ministry we have many exciting plans for the future of FGCI. We understand that not everyone can be at these events but would like to inform our ministers on some of the items discussed and decided on at this event. We came together with a great time of food and fellowship and then got right into the business! We have a vision for future leadership meetings to include breakout sessions and training for ministers in every area of ministry. If two subjects described the theme of these meetings they would be “communication” and “education”. We are focused on communicating our purpose and goals and educating those coming up in ministry! Ways discussed to help FGCI grow included offering scholarships to a limited amount of ministers per year and training for all state and national officials. Another item discussed was the possibility of implementing a phone system where one number can reach any person in leadership via extension, this would eliminate the number of calls to Sis.Amy and make it easier to get ahold of the state or national official one needs immediately.

Another theme that was brought up is accountability in Missions. We value our missionaries and are excited about their work so we discussed having them send reports of what they are accomplishing each year. This gives accountability and it helps us show people what our wonderful missionaries are doing, which shares the vision of FGCI missions to a greater crowd.

The last and possibly biggest topic of our meetings was regarding the future of Camp Moriah. Our campground was founded by our forefathers and has been the location of countless lives changing for the Kingdom of God. We love our camp and camp has a special place in the hearts of the leaders of FGCI, however, an offer has been made to sell the campground to a neighbor but still be able to use it for our two camps per year. With the cost of upkeep and insurance, the general board decided that this offer must be entertained and put together a board of 3 qualified members of leadership to prayerfully look into this proposal.
