Stress → Cell Signaling Decline → Accelerated Degeneration

Stem cells are the root of all rejuvenation. They function like construction workers in the body. Our body over time resembles damaged, deserted buildings collecting debris lacking the ability to rebuild. As we age, all cell signaling declines and for example the chart depicts the rapid reduction of our stem cells, limiting rejuvenation.

1. FERTILIZED TISSUE EXTRACT (NORWEGIAN FTE®)

Contains powerful pre-embryonic molecules. These signal molecules activate stem cells and regeneration throughout the body. They help form and create stem cells, enzymes, immune proteins, nucleic acids and balance hormones shown in a number of clinical studies. FTE® is the 'SUPER REGENERATOR AND RECHARGER' of the body.

2. MARINE COLLAGEN

Is the 'SUPER GLUE' that holds your body together whether you want glowing hydrated skin or you're an athlete looking for faster recovery. It is most prevalent in the connective tissue structures of your skin, hair, nails and bones.

SINCE 1992

1. ALOE VERA GEL EXTRACT

Stimulates an increased release of our body's stem cells dramatically by as much as 3600%. It is unsurpassed in its ability to support wound healing, reduce inflammation, boost antibacterial and antiviral properties, blood sugar regulation and mitochondrial enhancement and repair. It's the 'SUPER HEALER' of the body.

2. CHAGA MUSHROOM

The 'SUPER PROTECTOR' is one of the most medicinal foods and overall tonics known. The vast amounts of melanin found in Chaga captures and generates energy for the body due to its ability to convert sunlight and ionizing radiation into useful energy. Its phyto-chemicals have very unique and powerful radio-protective properties for EMF protection.

THE REJUVENATION JOURNEY:

Purification & Regeneration Process

The process of purification and regeneration is essential to maintaining health every day. As we age, four pillars—sleep, nutrition, exercise, and stress management—become critical to supporting this process. When these areas are neglected or approached in unhealthy ways, the body accumulates deficiencies and toxic burdens that lead to inflammation, and in many cases, chronic inflammation. At this stage, the body enters what can be described as a “disease mindset,” marked by accelerated degeneration and chronic illness. Conventional medicine often focuses solely on symptom relief, which can be costly and does not address the underlying need for purification or regeneration.

The body typically progresses through five stages of degeneration:

EXCRETION → IRRITATION → INFLAMMATION → SCLEROSIS → ATROPHY

In the early stages—excretion and irritation—people commonly turn to over-the-counter remedies for temporary relief. As conditions advance into inflammation, sclerosis, and atrophy, medical intervention is usually sought.

The body retains the ability to recover its natural capacity for purification and regeneration at any stage. Achieving true rejuvenation requires a comprehensive approach that reduces chronic inflammation and restores both structure and function. This approach enhances health span and optimizes quality of life—cognitively, physically, and emotionally.

PURIFICATION PROCESS

The first stage of natural recovery is the initiation phase by eliminating toxins. As the body eliminates built-up toxins, they are released through the intestines, kidneys, liver, lungs, and skin. This process often occurs in cycles, repeating more than once. This is a safe natural process, not a sign of illness or side-effect. It's necessary to clear blockages for regeneration and opens the path for repair.

Purification Symptoms	Related Organs	Average Period
Gas - Bloating	Intestines	1 day to 3 weeks
Rash - Itching	Liver - Skin	3 to 7 days
Nausea - Vomiting	Stomach	1 to 2 days
Nosebleeds - Rare	Sinuses	1 to 3 days
Smelly or Frequent Urine	Kidneys - Bladder	1 to 2 days
Constipation – Loose Stools	Intestines	1 day to 3 weeks
Body Odor – Bad Breath	Lymphatics - Lungs	2 to 7 days
Fatigue	Liver - Metabolic	1 to 3 days
Flu-Like Symptoms	Immune, Lymphatic	1 to 5 days
Headaches	Head	1 to 3 days

For bodies that have long relied on chemotherapy or medication, this phase can last around three weeks or more.

As the organs go through the purification process, emotions such as fear, anger, resentment, shame, guilt, or depression may temporarily surface. This is a normal part of emotional detoxification. By embracing reflection and leaning into discomfort, you unlock your body's natural power to transform, heal, and rise stronger than before.

REGENERATION PROCESS

In the journey of true rejuvenation, the body naturally moves in reverse through five stages of degeneration:

ATROPHY → SCLEROSIS → INFLAMMATION → IRRITATION → EXCRETION

The absence of pain doesn't mean the absence of inflammation. Inflammation can quietly advance into chronic stages, often unseen and unfelt, until it reaches a more serious life-threatening condition.

When your body begins to restore itself, you may notice inflammation rising to the surface — a reassuring sign that deep regeneration is unfolding from within.

True rejuvenation is not something that medicine can override; it must be worked through. When you meet it with patience, trust, and appreciation and seek steady coaching guidance during the first twelve months, it allows the body to regain a healthy structure and youthful function.

REGENERATION PROCESS CHART

Regeneration Symptoms	What is Actually Happening	Average Period
Constipation – Loose Stools – Gas and Bloating	Intestinal bad bacteria dies off and good healthy flora proliferates – resolving gut inflammation	7 days to 4 weeks
Headaches	Brain recovery from toxicity or chronic imbalances	3 to 30 days
Fatigue Drowsiness	Hormonal balancing – thyroid, adrenals Liver cleansing	7 to 21 days 3 to 7 days

Irregular Blood Sugar	Pancreas is rebalancing insulin and will normalize	3 to 7 days
Irregular Blood Pressure and Cholesterol Light Headedness or Fine Vascular Eruptions and/or Bruising	Cardiovascular system begins to recover as inflammation subsides Fluctuation is a natural part of restoration and will gradually even out as your structure and function finds balance Caution: Blood thinning from medications may need to be adjusted under medical guidance	3 to 7 days 7 to 21 days
Stomach Upset or Sharp Pain	When stomach pain is present, take all products with meals After inflammation is reduced, TeloYouth may be taken without food	7 to 30 days
Tingling or Numbness	Circulation and nerves are regenerating	7 to 30 days
Crusty, Watery, Dry Eyes Vision Changes	Liver cleansing can cause eye excretion, irritation Microcirculation improves; mild blurriness, redness, or visual obstructions may occur, These are normal signs of increased vascular activity and ocular recovery	3 to 30 days

Purification &
Regeneration

Healthy individuals often experience shorter responses, while chronic situations may take longer than the above timelines while recurring over several months.

Purification and Regeneration is often cyclical, not linear — people may move back and forth between phases. Increase or decrease your TeloYouth and TeloMega as needed. This is a natural and safe process that your coach can confidently guide you through.
