Mass Intention: For the People of St. Joseph and Sacred Heart Parishes

Greetings Parishioners,

All Souls' Day draws ever closer and our desire to remember and pray for our loved ones tends to increase this time of year. Concerning our aspirations of praying for the faithful departed I would like to remind everyone about the guidelines for Masses offered for the deceased.

1. Between the 2 parishes ...for each Sunday and Holy Day of Obligation we need one of the Mass intentions to be pro populo (for the people of the parish.)

-If the secretary can't give you your desired Mass intention date and time this might be a cause. Please be patient with her as she is only following the guidelines of the Church.

2. Usually, each Daily Mass has its own intention. Just one.

-If the secretary can't give you your desired Daily Mass date and time this might be a reason. In most cases we should only have 1 intention for daily Masses.

3. Each Sunday Mass can only have up to 3 intentions.

-If the secretary can't give you your desired Mass date and time this might be a cause. Please be patient with her as she is only following the guidelines of the Church.

I realize that with past pastors we offered many and even as many as 12 intentions for a single Mass. But in my studies of the Mass and canon law I see that practice as most likely inaccurate to the guidelines set in place. As we adjust to these new guidelines, please be patient with our secretaries who may not allow as many intentions to be offered as before. I realize this might make scheduling desired Mass intentions trickier, but I truly believe we are more in line with the spirit of the law.

What a gift we have of praying for the living and deceased through the holy sacrifice of the Mass! The practice of offering the holy Mass for the repose of the soul of the deceased originates in the early church. The catechism teaches, "From the beginning the church has honored the memory of the dead and offered prayers in suffrage for them, above all the eucharistic sacrifice, so that, thus purified, they may attain the beatific vision of God" (No. 1032).

In Christ,
Fr. Jeff

World Mission Sunday Missionaries of Hope Among All Peoples

We celebrate this day by remembering our baptismal call to bring the Gospel to all! The collection today for the Society for the Propagation of the Faith supports the work and service of the mission Church, as it provides for priests, religious, and lay leaders who offer the Lord's mercy and concrete help to the most vulnerable communities in the Pope's missions.

Thank you for your generosity.
