

The Call

The printed voice of Trinity Episcopal Church
Weaving God's Unfinished Tapestry

From Rev. Haydie

"Tell out, my soul, the greatness of the Lord." In singing this hymn we share Mary's joy at Jesus's coming into the world. Mary sings of the God who feeds the hungry and lifts the humble, the God whose justice and mercy are without end. She's an unmarried peasant girl in an occupied nation. She can't begin to imagine what her future or her son's will look like. But she trusts what God is doing,. She rejoices in being part of it. And we rejoice with her.

Autumn is, after all, a traditional time for celebrating our Blessings. Often those blessings are obvious: the rain is finally falling. The trees are turning red and gold. We're sharing harvest meals with our families and church families. Sometimes, however, we need to work a little harder to see God's blessings. We need to "look for the helpers," as Mr. Rogers told us. Often, we need to be those helpers, as Mary was. To do our parts to help God lift up the struggling and defend the weak. To remind each other of God's love, shining out as a beacon of hope.

And so "tell out my soul" is also the theme of this year's stewardship campaign. You should be receiving a stewardship mailing in a week or so, and we hope you'll read it prayerfully.

The vestry's budget goal for this campaign, $103,000, hasn't risen over last year's, because we know that our world is facing very real financial pressures. Trinity is facing the same challenges, of course. But we pray to follow Mary's example: to trust in God's goodness, and to rejoice that we, too, get to be part of building God's Kingdom.

Miffy's Message

It has been a long time coming. Trinity Church is getting a solid oak front door! This project was begun several years ago when Vestry determined the front door needed replaced. Junior Wardens Richard Creason and Chris Elston took on the task of finding a contractor to design and build the door. That was easier said than done. They searched the entire country but no one wanted the task. It also seemed to be way out of our door budget at the time. Richard Creason has finally found Family Craft Construction which has taken on the project. By some miracle, the cost is within the money in our door fund. Very soon Steve Pruitt and his crew will be at the church for three days creating a solid oak door for our historic church building. We are so grateful to Richard for never giving up on this project. THANK YOU, RICHARD!!!

The steadfast love of the Lord never ceases,
his mercies never come to an end.

Welcome, Misty!

Trinity is delighted to have St. Luke's congregant Misty Martinell interning with us this winter as she prepares for ordination as a deacon. If you've been around Trinity for a while, you may remember that St. Luke's Larry Speir interned here with Father Don ten years (or so) ago; conversely, Rev. Haydie did her internship at St. Luke's. Now it's Misty's turn!

Some of us already know Misty, who's been active in our diocese for quite a while. As an accountant, she also helped Trinity with our records a few years back. She, her husband Kris, and their two teenaged daughters live in Idaho Falls, where she's been leading St. Luke's participation in the Soup Kitchen.

Unlike Rev.'s Haydie and Larry, Misty has been called to the vocational diaconate: she'll be a permanent deacon, like the Rev. Eileen O'Shea. Permanent deacons have important ministries of their own, and we're looking forward to hearing Misty talk about their roles as we spend more time with her. We're still working out the details, but we expect that Misty will be with us about two Sundays a month between October and May, and that we'll get to hear her preach occasionally as the winter goes by.

Midterm Care Packages

Order now! The deadline to purchase Midterm Care Packages is Friday, October 10. For $20, you can send a package filled with treats, study aids, games, and most importantly, love. If you are giving money to support the project, allowing us to give the packages to deserving students identified by ISU advisors, simply give your donations to the office marked for "Midterm." As always, you can donate in cash, check or online at the Parish website. If you want your gift delivered to a specific student, staff or faculty member, please fill out the online order form giving us contact information for the recipient. You can also promote the project by posting/distributing advertising flyers or by spreading the word on your social media.

From the Stewardship Chair

Dear Trinity Family,

Just before I embarked on a three-week road trip to see family and friends in Washington, Oregon, and California, I agreed to be this year's stewardship lead. I dutifully took links to stewardship materials along to peruse during the trip, but, of course, never opened them along the way. The glory of the great landscapes and joy of seeing my daughter and old friends left no room for duty!

However, for some reason, the words "Shout out your praise" kept tumbling around my mind as being the theme for the campaign. Ugh, I thought. I am NOT, genetically, given to shouting out praise of any kind!

I began to dread my assignment.

Imagine how relieved I felt on October 1 when I opened the materials, finally, just to find my memory had deceived me, as it does increasingly often. The theme this year is "Tell Out My Soul." Now, THAT I, and I bet you too, can work with!

So let us spend the next few weeks together exploring what feeds our souls and how we can share our spiritual treasure in thought, word, deed, and financial commitment with Trinity and its mission.

Love and peace,

Susanne Forrest

Episcopal Church Weavers

Episcopal Church Weavers (ECW) did not meet in September since our September/October projects were already completed. Now it is time to think about mid-term care packages, harvest dinner, and our annual Holiday Fair.

Mid-Term Care Packages for college students may be ordered for $20 each until Friday, October 10. Some people specify to whom the bags are to be delivered, but many of us purchase a few with no designation. These are delivered to the campus offices and given to ISU students who have no local support. As always Kathleen Kangas will need people to bake cookies, wash fruit, and deliver the Care Packages. Please put two cookies each in sandwich or snack size bags for easy use. We will fill the Care Packages during coffee hour on October 12. Everyone is invited to help.

At our October meeting we will plan the Harvest Dinner and the annual Holiday Fair. The next meeting will be October 18 at 11:00 in the parish hall. All are welcome!

One-Hour Cleanup

Join us at 9am on Thursday, October 23 for a one hour fall clean up. Bring rakes and gardening tools since we will remove dead flowers and rake leaves. We may have to adjust the time according to the weather.

Loving the Questions

What do we talk about when we talk about the coming of the Kingdom... the Second Coming of Jesus... the future of God's world? How has our tradition understood the "end times"? How do we think about them now, both as individuals and as a community? Join us to explore these questions at 10am on Saturday, November 1.

Stewardship Update

As of September 24th Trinity had received

- $8,077.28 (92%) of its anticipated 2025 open
- $69,607.20 (71%) of its anticipated 2025 pledge offerings.

Trinity's ministries depend on your generosity. Thank you!

Lift your heart in silent meditation as these ancient night time prayers are sung.

PWCC Update

Lots of good things happened at the Pocatello Women's Correction Center (PWCC) last month. First of all, 2,000 Black Compositions Books were anonymously donated last week! THANK YOU. This generous gift will allow each resident to receive a composition book every three months for the next year and a half. Currently the compositions books are only distributed when the donated number allows for each resident to receive one which has been sporadic. The composition books are used for class work, journal writing and letter writing etc. and are greatly treasured and appreciated by the residents.

On September 30th we completed a most challenging 14 week course with four graduates. Bridges To Life is a faith based program that draws from the principles of restorative justice to provide a healing process to crime victims and prison offenders. This program was founded in Texas by John Sage in 1998 and currently has over 93,000 graduates with a recidivism rate of 11.1%, significantly lower than national norm range of 46% to 66% within three years of release. It is a truly amazing program. If you are interested in learning more about the program please feel free to contact me.

Last but not least, thank you for the continued donations of greeting cards, calendars, (composition books, on hold for now) and prayers.

The Rev. Diane Paulson

First Friday at Trinity

October brings a special treat: Tenor Geoff Friedley and pianist Mark Neiworth are performing Dieterliebe, a 30-minute song cycle by Robert Schumann, before our regular service of Sung Compline. They'll perform at 5 and 6, and wine and cheese will be available between performances. Then, at 7pm, we'll spend half hour in silent prayer and reflection as two to three choristers sing the ancient service of Compline in our candlelit church. Compline serves as a quiet and meditative ending of the day: come experience it some First Friday!

The Bishop is Coming!

Trinity is looking forward to our annual visit from Idaho Bishop Jos Tharakan on Sunday, October 26. We'll get to hear him preach and hear more about our diocese; he'll get to know us better and welcome a new Episcopalian into our church family. And we'll share a festive coffee hour!
