

The Call

The printed voice of Trinity Episcopal Church
Weaving God's Unfinished Tapestry

From Rev. Haydie

Summer is almost here! The lilacs are in bloom... our graduates have been celebrated (thanks, Kathleen Kangas and Miffy Lane, for that great Trinity Sunday party)... and it's almost safe to assume that we can finally plant tomatoes outside.

In church, we're moving back into "ordinary time." Since December, we've remembered Jesus's birth, ministry, death, resurrection, and assumption; we've remembered the Spirit's whirling around the disciples in that Jerusalem room. From now through November, we're in "the long green season." In this season after Pentecost it's time for us, the church, to focus on how — guided by the Spirit — we can do God's work in the world.

That discernment happens in many places, at many levels. In our homes, it happens in our hearts and around our dinner tables. In our congregation, it happens in vestry meetings, as we bring together the thoughts and conversations we've had over the previous month. In our diocese, it happens in the work of Bishop and Council. And in the Episcopal Church, it happens at General Convention.

For an explanation of what the convention is and does, see the "Who's in Charge in the Church" article later in this issue. For now, though, let me note that the 81st General Convention is meeting in Louisville, Kentucky, at the end of this month. And it has a special task this year: electing a new Presiding Bishop to succeed the Rt. Rev. Michael Curry. He's a hard act to follow!

Our prayers are with our bishops and delegates this month as they — and all of us — work to live out the church's mission: "to restore all people to unity with God and each other in Christ."

Miffy's Message

Sometimes regular Sunday worship gets put on hold in the summer because of fun in the sun. There is no better place to recreate than in Idaho in summer. There is something for everybody here, so we go on a vacation, take a quick get-away on the weekends, go fishing after work, or take a walk after dark. There is no end to our fun in summer. Therefore, church attendance normally goes down, but there are other ways to worship when you can't get to Trinity on Sunday mornings. Find links on your e-mail at Trinity's Weekly Weave to:

- Log onto YouTube for live Sunday church services at Trinity or to watch them later.
- Log onto Trinity's web page for live Sunday church services or to watch them later.
- Click on Trinity podcasts for stories about Trinity Church and its people.
- Find Morning Prayer every weekday and Sunday Worship services from the Washington National Cathedral at cathedral.org under Worship.
- Find information about other Episcopal churches in Idaho in the newspaper published by the Diocese. Copies of the latest publication are on the white counter as you enter the parish hall. A new one will be coming out soon.
- Look for an Episcopal Church in the area where you are having fun. They aren't hard to find, and you will be warmly welcomed. I promise!

Almighty and everliving God, source of all wisdom and understanding, be present with those who take counsel in Louisville this month for the renewal and mission of your Church. Teach us in all things to seek first your honor and glory. Guide us to perceive what is right, and grant us both the courage to pursue it and the grace to accomplish it; through Jesus Christ

RUMMAGE SALE

June 7-8

Friday 8:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.
Saturday, 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon

Donated items can be brought to the Parish Hall
the week of June 3rd.

CAN YOU HELP?

We need volunteers to help sort and display items for the rummage sale during the week of June 3rd, as well as to work the days of the sale itself. Please let Marky or Miffy know if you can help. Come support the sale too! We always have great stuff at great prices.

Pocatello Pride

Trinity will be joining other local congregations for Pocatello's Pride celebration at Lookout Point on Saturday, June 29, from 2-8. Talk to Rev. Haydie if you can help with set up or staffing. And look: The Episcopal Church has a new Pride shield!

"To love, my brothers and sisters, does not mean we have to agree. But maybe agreeing to love is the greatest agreement. And the only one that ultimately matters, because it makes a future possible."

Episcopal Church Weavers (ECW)

ECW met at 10:00 AM on Saturday, May 18th, to clean up the grounds and plant flowers around the church. Thank you to all who helped and to the Pocatello Greenhouse's Jan Nelson for providing many of the flowers. Once again our "little stone church" is a lovely part of downtown Pocatello.

Our meetings in the summer are not on the regular schedule. There is no meeting in June because we put our efforts into the Rummage Sale the first week of June. Please bring items for the sale to the parish hall June 3-6. The sale is Friday and Saturday, June 7 and 8. We still need people to sign up to help set up during the week, work the sale days, and pack all unsold items. At 11:30 on Saturday, June 8, St. Vincent de Paul will come take it all away. If you can help, call Miffy (208) 232-7225.

In July we will help Pat Scott with the lunch after John's memorial service on Saturday the 13th. In August we will have a project on the 17th in connection with blessing the backpacks before school begins. Our children can all afford school supplies and their own backpack, but many cannot. Ideas for the project will be appreciated. ECW is no longer a women's organization but one for everyone in the church who wants to take part in church projects and activities.

PWCC Update

We just received a request from the staff at PWCC for hygiene bags for residents with no money to be released to transitional housing. The following items have been requested:

Shampoo	Conditioner	Bar of Soap
Toothbrush	Toothpaste	Lotion
Razor

Bag to hold items (little book bag or simple bag with a strap to carry items)

Anyone willing to help with this project please leave a message with the church office (208-233-2640) and I will get back to you. Thank you for your consideration.

The Rev. Diane Paulson

Stewardship Update

As of May 29, Trinity has received

- $46,827.75 (47%) of its 2024 pledge income.
- $9,491.00 (1.19%) of its anticipated 2024 open plate income.

Trinity is deeply grateful for all your support.

Who's in Charge in the Church?

The Episcopal Church is governed by a church-wide convention that (normally) meets once every three years. It's this convention that has the power to change church laws and approve new liturgies; to shape our relationships with other churches in our communities and other Anglican churches across the world; to set budgets for the upcoming years; and to make policy on issues ranging from creation care to international conflict.

Who adopted our current prayer book? Who decided it was OK to ordain women? Who is responsible for addressing issues of racism and inequality that continue to challenge the church? It's General Convention, every time. The convention also elects the Presiding Bishop of the Episcopal Church, who serves a 9-year term.

Like the U.S. Congress, convention participants are divided into two groups: the House of Bishops and the House of Deputies. The House of Bishops is made up of all the church's active bishops; the House of Deputies is made up of elected clergy and lay representatives from each diocese. Idaho's eight delegates were elected at our diocesan convention almost two years ago. Many or all of them have been working on convention-related committees every since, preparing for the work of this year's gathering.
