Weaving God's Un-

From Rev. Haydie

Well, THAT was a couple of weeks! A car accident devastating our sister congregation in Idaho Falls. A face-first tumble down the stairs leaving me concussed and homebound. Rainclouds opening on the city's Fourth of July Parade, Trinity's jazz ensemble ringing out between the drops. The same music, praising God in bright sunlight at our Sunday courtyard service.

I'm immensely grateful to Geoff Friedley for all the hard work he did to coordinate both those musical events—as well as to the congregants and musicians (both Trinity and guest) who worked together to make them happen. It does, indeed, take a village. I'm also deeply grateful to everyone who has reached out to me with cards and prayers and offers of help. My office hours are likely to be a little erratic over the next few weeks, I'm afraid, but I'm doing much better.

It takes a village. These weeks have reminded me how much we need community—our families and church families, our friends and colleagues and neighbors. They remind me how crucial it is to have that village; how crucial it is to be that village for the people around us. And not for just the people we know.

Last Sunday brought us Jesus's parable of the Good Samaritan. That passage starts with a conversation in which Jesus reaffirms the greatest law of all: "You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your strength, and with all your mind; and your neighbor as yourself."

But you know what happens next. The lawyer he's talking to asks him: "Who is my neighbor?" And Jesus responds with the story of a Samaritan who went out of his way to help a seriously injured man. A Samaritan: a member of the community most disliked and despised by faithful Jews. Someone from whom Jesus's listeners would expect nothing—not even a drink of cold water. Someone, I suspect, whom they themselves would quickly pass by, were the tables turned.

I kept thinking about this parable last week as I read news reports of Mexican rescue teams joining the flood relief efforts in Kerr County, Texas. "When it comes to disasters, especial natural disasters, there are no borders," a spokesman for one team said. But those reports were sandwiched between others about ICE raids on California farms and the opening of a migrant detention center in the Everglades. Like Jesus's Samaritan, these rescuers were true neighbors to people who might not see them the same way.

Under those circumstances, I can't believe that I would have had the rescue teams' courage—or their grace. But I know this is what Jesus calls us to: "Go," he says, "and do likewise."

Miffy's Message

Haydie tells us we have begun "the ordinary time" and the color is green. The annual flower planting and clean-up, rummage sale and Independence Day parade are in the past. I looked to the Church Year Guide (calendar) for interesting events in July. July is the month in which four of our favorite Bible characters are celebrated: Mary Magdalene on July 22, James the Apostle on July 25, Mary and Martha of Bethany on July 29. We are well acquainted with them since we read about them every year in our Bible lessons.

The day I find the most interesting is July 26, the feast day of the parents of the Blessed Virgin Mary of whom I knew nothing. Who was this couple from Nazareth? We don't read about them in our lessons because they are not mentioned anywhere in the canonical gospels. Mary's parents, St. Joachim and St. Anne are recounted in apocryphal texts like the Protoevangelium of James, written about 150 AD. If you Google them you can view their many depictions found in paintings and icons. James describes them as a wealthy couple from Nazareth who were infertile for many years. Joachim is said to have fasted 40 days and nights in hopes of having a child. Mary's birth was announced by an angel. The story also explains that Mary was consecrated to the Lord and went to live in the temple at the age of 3. We have no way of knowing if the story is completely true, but there is most likely some truth there. Now we know who Jesus's maternal grandparents were.

The Turners' memorial service will be at 10am on Saturday, July 26th, at St. Luke's in Idaho Falls. The service will be live streamed on St. Luke's Facebook Page.

Dear all,

You may have heard that our regional Deans, Barbara and Bruce Turner, were in a terrible car accident two weeks ago along with St. Luke's new priest, Father James. The Turners were parishioners at St. Luke's, Idaho Falls, but they have worshipped with us at Trinity many times. Their dedication has lain behind many recent Deanery and Diocesan events.

Sadly, neither Bruce nor Barbara have survived the accident. Fr. James was injured and is recuperating. We pray for Bruce and Barbara's souls; for their grieving families; for Fr. James's healing; and for our friends at St. Luke's.

Under these circumstances, the Deanery Day originally planned for July 26 has been postponed.

Trinity Reads

After a lively discussion of the second half of Barking to the Choir, Fr. Gregory Boyle's account of his gang-intervention ministry, we're moving on to Tish Harrison Warren's Prayer in the Night: For Those Who Work or Watch or Weep. Evoking a prayer that many of us know and love from the Compline service, this book focuses on the experience of praying through times of loss and distress. A Christianity Today Book of 2021, its author is an Anglican priest and former New York Times religion columnist. We'll discuss the first half of Prayer in the Night at 7pm on August 5—consider joining us or reading along!

Loving the Questions

This weekend, we'll be following up on our May session of Loving the Questions. What, we asked in May, do we see when we look at the Bible? Where do the books and letters in it come from, and how do we respond to them? We'll continue that discussion on Saturday, July 19, at 10 am, and we'll explore one challenging story in particular: that of the Gentile woman who begs Jesus to heal her daughter in Matthew 15: 21-28 and Mark 7:24-30.

Composition Books Needed

There's no better time to pick up composition books for the women of PWCC—school supplies are on sale! Residents use these traditional notebooks as spiritual journals and more, and Trinity has long been one of the local faith communities providing them. To help, you can pick up one, ten, or more black-and-white composition books (they have to be black-and-white, per PWCC regulations) and drop them off at the church office on Sunday morning or during regular office hours.

Looking ahead...

- Join us on August 24 for Back-to-School Blessings at our main Sunday Eucharist!
- August 31 will be a fifth Sunday, so we'll be donating any non-pledge offerings that day to those in need. As the date comes closer, please watch the Weave for details.
- We'll celebrate the return of the choir on Rally Day, September 14, our first fall Eucharist Sunday.

Episcopal Church Weavers

Episcopal Church Weavers (ECW) held the annual rummage sale June 6 and 7 in the parish hall. We want to thank Wendy and Roger Rowe and everyone who helped them during the week to set up, work the sale, etc. At the end of the sale we had a wonderful crew to pack up, load the truck and put the parish hall back to normal for coffee hour the next day. The crew did it all in less than an hour, for which we were all very grateful. Thanks to all who helped make that happen!

We made $2,139 instead of the $3,000 that was first reported. A mistake was made in count on the last day of the sale. Something may have been counted twice or the calculator doubled something that created the error. Either way, we made a significant amount of money for ECW projects, church ministries, and other needs of the church.

Our July event was our entry in the 4th of July parade. We would like to thank Geoffrey Friedley for providing the jazz band, Kathleen Kangas for taking care of T-shirt orders, and all those walking with the entry to hand out candy. Trinity does have a positive presence in this community, and the jazz band float is a special part of the parade.

The next meeting will be Saturday, August 16 at 11:00 in the parish hall. We will plan fall activities. All are welcome!

Scam Alert

Trinity seems to be facing another round of scam attempts. In these attempts, congregants typically receive texts or emails which claim to be from Rev. Haydie or Bishop Jos and which ask them to do something discretely — often urgently. Usually, that “something” involves buying and donating gift cards.

Scams like these come up year after year, across denominations and states. Please don't fall for them! You will never receive an unexpected text or email from any member of the Trinity or Diocesan clergy asking for money for themselves or someone else. When in doubt, please contact the alleged sender (or the parish office) directly. Don't reply to those emails that solicit for money; do feel free to delete and report them as spam.

Stewardship Update

As of July 15 Trinity had received

- $6,322.16 (49%) of its anticipated 2025 open plate offerings.
- $60,774.40 (62%) of its anticipated 2025 pledge offerings.

Trinity's ministries depend on your generosity. Thank you!

Use the handrail. Every time!
