

NNNY SKIN CARE FOUNDER, YUKO NISHIO

From Teen Model to Top Esthetician and Owner of 'Nature Sage' Spa in Tokyo, Japan

Yuko Nishio, NNNY Skin Care Founder and Esthetician to a prestigious international clientele in her 'Nature Sage' Aromatherapy Salon in Tokyo, Japan, is the specialist behind the glow of celebrities, models, and women who demand the highest standards in skin health and quality service. A naturally charismatic woman of grace and humility, Ms. Nishio applies great consideration and care to everything she sets her mind to accomplish.

Since her teens, as a fashion model in Japan, Yuko Nishio was curious about diet and nutrition. But while committed to her career as the CEO of a modeling agency, this was not her passion. Traveling extensively on photo shoots Ms. Nishio found that her skin, and that of her models, was extremely dehydrated. At the young age of 27, she was shocked that her face looked so aged. She tried many prestigious skin repairing products but found that they were either too fragranced or full of synthetic ingredients and didn't perform as she wished.

Ms. Nishio began to research herbal medicine and the effects that herbs have on the body and skin, both internally and externally. She began to study skin anatomy to learn how these naturally derived ingredients penetrate the skin layers to deliver healing benefits. At the age of 37, Ms. Nishio came to the United States to do research at the Phyto-Aromatherapy Institute in Philadelphia. Here she learned how active levels of specific plant extracts and aromatherapeutic essential oils profoundly repair damage to skin as well as help prevent many of the visible signs of aging. Through 20 years of extensive research, including certification as an instructor at the Phyto-Aromatherapy Institute, Yuko Nishio gained first hand knowledge of how natural botanicals protect and renew the skin.

After her certification as an instructor at the institute, and years of teaching, Ms. Nishio returned to Tokyo with a vision to open a skin spa and work with women and men in a hands on fashion to help them change their lives with healthier, more beautiful, youthful skin. In 1995, Yuko Nishio opened her skin spa, 'Nature Sage' Aromatherapy Salon in Tokyo, Japan. She also began developing her own skin care formulas and launched NNNY Skin Care products, with proprietary Nano-Natural Technology. Today she counts some A-List celebrities as fans, and top makeup artists love the Nano Mist Hydrating Spray to prime skin, set makeup, and keep skin moist and dewy.

When asked about her mission in life Yuko Nishio says, "I would like to give as many women as possible the gift of beauty and health, at any age." She is pleased to be fulfilling that purpose. <https://nnnyskincare.com/pages/about-us>. For information, contact info@nnnyskincare.com.
