Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

A few years ago a pastor friend of mine did an Advent sermon series on the women in Jesus' birth narratives. What a great idea! Maybe someday I will do it also, but for now I will limit my comments to a brief Witness article. The women in question are Elizabeth, Mary and Anna. Luke is the only Gospel that mentions either Elizabeth or Anna. This is not surprising since it is Luke that shows a special interest in women throughout his gospel.

Interestingly, the first woman to appear on the scene in Luke's gospel is not Mary but Elizabeth. Elizabeth was descended from Aaron and was the wife of the priest Zechariah. She is described as being righteous and walking blamelessly before God in all the commandments and statutes of the Lord. We are told that she had no children because she was barren and advanced in years. However, like Sarah and Hannah before her she received a promise from God that she would conceive and bear a son who would be great before God and man. He would be the one who would prepare the way of the Lord, the Messiah, as had been foretold by the prophets. In Luke 1:43 we are told that Elizabeth was filled with the Holy Spirit at the time that Mary came to visit her. Elizabeth recognized Mary as the mother of her Lord and greeted Mary with these words: "Blessed are you among women, and blessed is the fruit of your womb!" Elizabeth was indeed a wonderful woman who lived her life for and with God.

The second woman to appear on the scene in Luke's gospel is Mary. Mary was from the city of Nazareth in Galilee. She was betrothed (a legally binding engagement, breakable only by divorce) to a carpenter by the name of Joseph. When we first meet Mary she is being visited by the angel Gabriel who greets her with these words: "Greetings, O favored one, the Lord is with you!" What a wonderful greeting, to be told that one is favored by the Lord and to be given the assurance that God is with you.

"O favored one" is the translation of the Greek word which means "having been favored." It happens to be the same Greek word used in Ephesians 1:6 where it says, "to the praise of his glorious grace, with which he has blessed (lit., favored) us in the Beloved." The reason I point this out is to say that I believe if an angel were greeting you as one of God's children the same greeting could be said to you: "Greetings, O favored one, the Lord is with you."

Even though Mary is young and not barren the promise made to her is even more miraculous than the promises made to Sarah and Elizabeth because Mary was going to conceive and give birth to a son as a virgin. Mary's son was to be conceived by the Holy Spirit and was to be the Messiah, the Savior of the world. Mary's response to the angel is truly remarkable. She says, "Behold, I am the servant of the Lord; let it be to me according to your word." In essence she was saying, "Thy will be done."

The third woman in Luke's birth narrative is Anna. The name "Anna" means grace in Hebrew. She was the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Asher. Anna was 84 years old. She had been a widow since seven years after her marriage. Anna is referred to as a prophetess and we are told that she spent her time in the temple, worshipping, fasting and praying. She was one of the pious people who at the time of the birth of Jesus was looking for the redemption of God's people. We are not told what, if anything, she said to Mary and Joseph. What we do know is that she recognized the 40-day old Jesus as the Christ, gave thanks to God for Him and spoke about Him to the other faithful in Jerusalem.

Three women, three wonderful examples of godly living. Each of these women sets before us a life worthy of emulation. Like Elizabeth let us be righteous before God, walking blamelessly and filled with the Holy Spirit. Like Mary let us be willing to say, "Not my will, but thy will be done." Like Anna, let us devote ourselves to worship, prayer with thanksgiving, and speaking of Jesus to others.

Yours in Christ, Pastor Mark

DECEMBER SERMON TOPICS

I will only be preaching three of the five Sundays in December. On the first Sunday in December Ed Bedrosian, a retired Baptist minister, will be preaching for me; on the third Sunday the children will be performing their Christmas musical. On the second and fourth Sundays I will be preaching from two famous poems/songs from Luke's Gospel. They are known as the Benedictus and the Magnificat. The Benedictus is from Luke 1:67-80 and is spoken by Zechariah the father of John the Baptist at the time of John's birth. Benedictus is Latin for "Blessed" which is the first word of Zechariah's prophesy, "Blessed be the Lord God of Israel." The Magnificat is from Luke 1:46-80 and is spoken by Mary during her visit with Elizabeth. Magnificat is Latin for "magnifies" which is the third word of Mary's song (In the Latin it is the first word.). "My soul magnifies the Lord." On the fifth Sunday of December I will be preaching from Colossians 3:12-

17 which seemed to me to be a good passage for the coming New Year.

“Silent Night” #253 in our hymnal.

“Stille Nacht,” or “Silent Night” was written by an Austrian Catholic Priest, Joseph Mohr, with music by school teacher and church musician Franz Gruber. Originally set in German, “Silent Night” is the only hymn by Fr. Mohr translated into English. The poem was written in 1816; it is thought to have been written while Mohr was traveling to visit his elderly grandfather who lived near a church that Mohr served at the time. It was set to music with guitar accompaniment by Gruber for Midnight Mass on Christmas Eve of 1818. The original performance of the work took place at St. Nicholas Church in Oberndorf, Austria. The performance featured Mohr and Gruber as vocal soloists, backed by Mohr's guitar and the church choir. Mohr and Gruber would sing the first half of each verse, with the choir repeating the last two lines of each of the six verses in a four-part harmony. There is much speculation as to why this new hymn was accompanied by guitar rather than organ, but the true reason is not known. An old legend gives the simple story that Mohr wanted a new, original hymn for Christmas Eve Midnight Mass that could be accompanied by his favorite instrument, the guitar. Another story tells that mice had chewed through the billows of the church's organ, rendering the instrument useless. We do know, however, that after an organ repairman by the name of Karl Maurcher heard the carol, he took a manuscript of it with him back home to the Tyrol region of Austria. From there the carol was taken by various traveling musical acts throughout Europe. It received its American premiere in New York City in 1839. By the 1840s the song had gained in popularity and had become a holiday favorite. At this time, the melody was slightly changed to become the tune that we know today. Although the original transcription has been lost to time, many original arrangements by the authors still exist.

Joseph Franciscus Mohr was born in 1792 in Salzburg to an unmarried seamstress. His father was a mercenary and military deserter who left Mohr's mother before the birth. Johann Nepomuk Hiernle, vicar and director of music at the Salzburg Cathedral, enabled Mohr to have an education and encouraged him in music. As a child, Mohr served simultaneously as a singer and violinist in the choirs of the University Church and the monastery church of St. Peter. From 1808 to 1810, Mohr studied at the Benedictine monastery of Kremsmünster in the province of Upper Austria. He then returned to Salzburg to attend the Lyceum school, and in 1811 he entered the seminary. Since he was of illegitimate birth, a special dispensation was required in those days for him to attend seminary. On August 21, 1815, Mohr graduated and was ordained as a priest.

This year's Christmas Eve is the 200th anniversary of this piece. To celebrate this occasion, a new arrangement has been composed and dedicated to our church.
