Call to Action

Looking to Interview Jewish American Artists, Authors, Creatives, Activists, and Entrepreneurs

if you are a Jewish American artist, creative, activist, or entrepreneur, American Chai is the publication that wants to amplify your voice.

If you would like to be featured, please answer the following questions, submit 2 to 4 photos with photo credits, and photo descriptions, your socials, website (if applicable), and contact information.

1. Do you consider yourself an artist, creative, activist, or entrepreneur, or a combination of these categories?
2. What role, if any, has your Jewish identity played on your work since October 7th?
3. What role, if any, does your Jewish identity play in your daily life?

E-mail interview requests to: american.chai18@gmail.com

4. How have the events of October 7th affected you?
5. Describe an experience where you felt uneasy as a Jewish American and how you persevered.
6. What personal or professional project are you currently working on and how can the community support you? (If you sell a product or service, where can we find it. If you have art, music, or anything creative to share, where can we find it?)
7. What does being part of Am Yisrael Chai (the people of Israel) mean to you personally and what message would you like to share with Jewish Americans and allies during this time?
