

This design for an art gallery on the waterfront at Geelong incorporates a large viewing platform on the fourth floor.

The glazed area to the front of the building and the third floor exterior exhibition space also have expansive views, taking advantage of the building's unique waterfront location.