

Design

This map depicts the changes made to the existing intersection/level crossing as well as the movement and increases in density to other areas. Firstly all carparking has been moved to one site, depicted in blue, while ballan holden has moved North with the other car dealerships, depicted in yellow. Additionally, in red, a similar amount of residences that surround the strip shops have been retrofitted above the existing retail buildings providing almost twice that of the surrounding area.

Here the mixed uses redevelopment can be seen. it attempts to encompass most of the areas commercial and retail within the one complex.

The Greenbelt

This illustrates the effect of moving the train network underground and opening up the otherwise occupied area. This newly obtained space can now become an urbanised greenbelt that maintains natural orders as well as providing residential and commercial tenances.
