

Educational Strategies

Determining Educational Strengths and Weaknesses

Our Focus

With a doctoral degree in Educational Psychology and a graduate degree in Rehabilitation Counselor Education, Dr. Smith has over 30 years of experience of working directly with parents, students, educators, and attorneys to identify learning, educational, and rehabilitation barriers to employment and daily living.

Originally from Shreveport, LA, Dr. Smith now resides in the Acadiana region of Louisiana and has an office in Lafayette, LA. His practice consults with families and individuals across the United States.

Our Approach

Strategies

Parent Consultation -

Meeting with a single parent or both parents to discuss educational and social development for their child ($50/hr)

Grade Level Assessment -

Includes two academic aptitude tests to determine if a child is at their present grade level
($375 for testing and parent conference / $150 to add a report)

Educational Evaluation -

May be completed to include intelligence, academic aptitude, adaptive behaviors, and memory skills ($875 for total evaluation)

College Major and Employment -

Includes two interest inventories, an evaluation of true job placement options, and insight to realistic wages for a chosen major ($250 for testing + 1 hour interview)

College Major and Return on Investment -

Compares college, probability of employment and post-graduation wages, offering students and parents a true understanding of their investment ($1500 - 1 hr interview with student, report, 2 hr interview parents and student)

Parent Support Groups -

Offers support for parents with varying disabilities. Groups consists of 5-8 single or sets of parents. Meeting time is 1 hour 20 minutes. ($10 per meeting. If a set of parents come, $5 per parent)

Let Dr. Smith provide insight and guidance, educational assessments, navigation of disability services, and planning.

Find out more at www.strategy365consulting.com