WYOCENA LIBRARY DIRECTOR POSTING

The Wyocena Library Board has an immediate opening for a part-time Library Director for the Wyocena Public Library in Wyocena, WI. We are looking for a dedicated, enthusiastic, and organized leader who is dependable and flexible for this tiny- but-terrific library.

The Director is responsible for all management tasks related to day-to-day operations of the library: preparing and implementing a budget; supervising a small staff; commitment to professional development; proficient technology experience; excellent organizational skills; interpersonal oral and written communication skills; providing programs for residents of all ages; maintenance and safety of building and grounds.

The Library serves the Village Wyocena. It is a member of the South Central Library System. This position has a flexible schedule of 12-15 hours a week, pay range $13-15 per hour, depending on qualifications/experience. The position requires eligibility for a Grade 3 library director certification, or the ability to earn this State of Wisconsin certification. Some in-library experience is preferred, but not required. No residency requirement.

Interested applicants should send a letter of interest, resume, copy of college transcript, and references to:

Jason LeMay, Library Board President c/o Pardeeville Area Schools 120 Oak Street
Pardeeville, WI 53954

Materials may also be emailed to lemaja@pasdwi.org Applications are being accepted until May 17, 2024

The Village of Wyocena is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Bleeding Hearts

Sunlight and Watering:

Choose a location with well-draining soil that receives either full or part shade. Newly planted bleeding hearts require frequent watering to get established. Established plants need average water—about 1 inch per week. Watering deeply is preferred to watering a little every day.

Planting:

The perennial should be planted in early spring once the threat of frost has passed. They prefer 55 to 75 degrees outside. If you're planting other varieties around your bleeding heart, space them accordingly; young bleeding heart plants will spread 1 to 2 feet as they grow.

In 1985, Hasbro, long unable to compete with Mattel's near-monopoly on the fashion doll market with Barbie, created the singer doll Jem. Mattel rushed their Barbie and the Rockers line into production, with Mattel's line reaching store shelves before Hasbro's Jem products could. Mattel was able to receive leaked information about the launch in order to beat them.

NEW Meal in a minute!

French's Saucewich

Quick and easy as a sandwich Hot and hearty as a main dish

Dozens of different variations

When Johnny makes his Sunday supper, his favorite is the Saucewich. He has a Saucewich Hero. Sliced ham and chicken (or bacon and sliced chicken) on a split French loaf or roll... all covered with the Sauce.

This great new food invention is the kind of hot dish everybody loves! Turns even the simplest sandwich into a delicious meal in a minute! What makes the Saucewich taste so special? Why, French's Mustard! No other like it. Made with specially grown mustard seed, secret spices and flavorings, it has a matchless light and lively flavor. Get French's Mustard. Add this happy new dish to your recipe repertoire.

On food...In food...no other mustard has the light and lively flavor of FRENCH'S MUSTARD

There are over 700 shipwrecks in Wisconsin. Wisconsin's ports had thousands of ships going through in the 1800s and they sank for for many reasons. Thick fog caused low visibility and they ran aground or into each other, captains made mistakes in navigation, or underwater obstacles sank them on rivers. Some ships were already old and leaky but others had problems with their engines that caused explosions.

The green leafy herb basil has a history steeped in folklore. In India, it was used to ward off evil and was considered sacred.
Europeans in the Middle Ages thought that basil caused the spontaneous generation
of scorpions and that even smelling basil
could lead to an unfortunate case of scorp-ions in one's brain. It's commonly used me-
dicinally for stomach
problems and other conditions.

MANAGE YOUR BLOOD PRESSURE AND PROTECT YOUR KIDNEYS

(NAPSI)—Did you know if you have high blood pressure you are at increased risk for chronic kidney disease?
High blood pressure, also called hypertension, is the second leading cause of chronic kidney disease in the United States. About 1 in 5 adults with high blood pressure may have chronic kidney disease, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

Blood pressure is the force of blood pushing against the walls of your blood vessels. If your blood pressure gets too high, the blood vessels in your body—including those in your kidneys—may become damaged. This damage makes it harder for the kidneys to filter blood and remove wastes and extra water from the body. Kidney disease can get worse over time, and if not treated it can lead to kidney failure. And while high blood pressure can lead to kidney disease, the reverse is also true: kidney disease can lead to high blood pressure. Simple tests can tell you whether you have high blood pressure or kidney disease. Ask your health care professional if you have been tested for high blood pressure and kidney disease.

Many people with kidney disease don't know they have the disease until their kidneys begin to fail. Research suggests that fewer than 1 in 10 people who have kidney disease are aware they have the disease. This is because kidney disease often doesn't have any symptoms early on.

The good news is that you can help protect your kidneys by managing high blood pressure with healthy lifestyle habits. "Our research continues to uncover the complexities of the link between high blood pressure and kidney disease," says Griffin P. Rodgers, MD, director of the National Institute of Diabetes and Digestive and Kidney Diseases (NIDDK), part of the National Institutes of Health (NIH). "And what we are finding supports the message that you can help protect your kidneys by managing high blood pressure with healthy lifestyle habits."

Adopting healthy lifestyle habits that help you manage your blood pressure will also help to keep your kidneys healthy. You can prevent or slow kidney disease progression by taking the following steps to lower your blood pressure:

Take medicines as prescribed. Blood pressure medicines often play a key role in lowering blood pressure.

Aim for a healthy weight. If you are overweight or have obesity, reducing your weight may lower high blood pressure.

Select healthier food and beverage options. Follow a healthy eating plan that focuses on heart-healthy foods such as fruits, vegetables, whole grains, and lean meats that are low in sodium.

Stop smoking. Smoking damages blood vessels, increases your risk for high blood pressure, and worsens problems related to high blood pressure. For help quitting, call 1-800-QUITNOW or go to Smokefree.gov.

Get enough sleep. Lack of sleep can have an adverse effect on your blood pressure and metabolism. Aim for 7 to 8 hours of sleep each night.

Manage stress and make physical activity part of your routine. Healthy stress-reducing activities and regular physical activity can lower blood pressure. Try to get at least 30 minutes or more of physical activity each day.
