BE THE COOLEST, MOST ENERGY-EFFICIENT HOME ON THE BLOCK THIS SUMMER

Get "Smart" About Home Climate

When it comes to smart home temperature control, there are Smart HVAC Systems and Smart Thermostats. Smart HVAC systems have built-in Internet capability and can be controlled directly without additional equipment. Smart Home Thermostats create "smart" systems by enabling remote temperature control via a mobile or Internet-connected device or voice-operated home automation system. Several leading manufacturers offer Smart Systems as well as a Thermostat Converter, which can control their single and multizone Halcyon and Airstage heating and cooling systems using a third-party thermostat.

Amp Up Energy Efficiency, Lower Bills Up to 25 Percent

A system upgrade and a smart home thermostat equals energy savings. The most energy-efficient heating and cooling products on the market, ductless mini-split systems, can save as much as 25 percent on your utility bill. An efficiently controlled thermostat could save an additional 10 percent a year. And professional expertise is key because a system can lose 20 to 40 percent of its energy efficiency from poor installation.

How do mini-splits work? Thin copper tubing is used to pump refrigerant from an outdoor compressor directly into an indoor air-handling unit, where the air is quietly distributed to the interior space. This eliminates the need for basement or attic evaporators and bulky, expensive ductwork. Mini-splits are easy to install and usually require only a 3- to 4-inch hole through a wall or ceiling to connect the indoor and outdoor units.

Heighten Customization and Convenience

Take individualized comfort to new levels. Most HVAC manufacturers offer apps that enable systems to be controlled from anywhere using a mobile device. Now, voice-control capability uses digital assistants to verbally dictate home temperatures—"Alexa, set the living room temperature to 70 degrees." Many of these now have Web-activated control via mobile devices and now voice-activated control via Amazon Alexa and Google Home.

Built for optimal customization, ductless mini-split systems let you control the individual temperature in each room, so you don't waste money cooling unused spaces such as guest bedrooms, bonus rooms, sunrooms and basements. Ductless systems operate at much higher efficiency levels than central forced-air systems and window units, as duct losses in a central AC system can account for more than 30 percent of your energy consumption.

Whether you take a "staycation" or kick back at your vacation home, following some practical tips will help you bask in ultimate comfort while lowering utility bills and helping the environment.

HOMEMADE ROASTED Tomato Sauce

Ingredients:

10 cups fresh tomatoes, quartered
3-4 TBSP oil
2 TBS balsamic vinegar
Garlic to taste, 5-6 cloves
1/4 cup tightly packed fresh basil
1 tsp coarse sea salt
1/2 tsp freshly ground pepper

Directions:

Preheat oven to 425 degrees.

Wash tomatoes and cut them in half (or quarters for large tomatoes).

Leave cherry tomatoes whole. Put tomatoes on a cookie sheet.

Peel garlic cloves and place them whole on the tomatoes. Tear fresh basil into small pieces, add to the cookie sheet.

Add salt & pepper. Drizzle oil and vinegar over everything.

Bake for 1 - 1 1/2 hours.

After they have roasted, let the tomatoes cool a bit. Put them in a blender and blend until smooth.

Season with more salt & pepper to taste.

Enjoy on your favorite pasta.

Many believe that a group of wolves are led by the top male known as an alpha wolf but that’s not the case. There are a lead male and female in each group but no “alpha male”. A wolf pack operates more like a family, with the adult parents guiding the activities of the group in a division-of-labor system. Splitting their responsibilities sees the females take over the pup care and defense while the males forage for food and lead the pack in its travels.

french onion soup burgers

with caramelized onions

Ingredients:

- 1 1/2 pounds ground beef
- 1 packet or 4-6 Tbsps Lipton Onion Soup Mix
- 2 1/2 tablespoons butter
- 2 large onions, thinly sliced
- a pinch of thyme
- water as needed, about 3/4 cup
- 1 tablespoon brandy or Sherry
- 4-8 oz Swiss or Provolone cheese
- 4 buns and a little butter or oil to brush them with

Directions:

Mix ground beef with onion soup mix; set aside as the onions are caramelized.

Add butter to a skillet, when hot, add onions and thyme and 1/4 cup of water. Add lid and simmer 3-4 minutes until onions are tender and water is nearly evaporated.

Remove lid and continue to cook. Stir often and add a splash of water now and then if the onions darken unevenly and stick.

When onions are soft, add dash of the brandy or Sherry and remove from heat.

Place a dent in the top of each burger so they'll cook up flat. Cook on the stovetop in a medium-hot pan or on the grill over medium-high heat, turning once. 3 minutes on the first side.

Turn and add a spoonful of onions and a slice of cheese to each.

Lower heat to medium and cook until done. Cover for a minute get the cheese to melt.

Brush the cut side of the buns with butter or oil and toast in a hot pan or on the grill.

One of the things I learned the hard way was that it doesn't pay to get discouraged. Keep busy and making optimism a way of life.

The June solstice of 2024 will be Thursday, June 20, marking the first day of summer for the northern hemisphere.

A summer solstice in the northern hemisphere actually marks the arrival of winter in the southern hemisphere, and vice versa.

A solstice is either the longest or shortest day of the year, depending on where you live.

WAYS TO KEEP YOUR PET SAFE IN THE HEAT

Watch out for heatstroke. Symptoms of heatstroke include excessive panting, drooling, lethargy, fever, vomiting, seizures, and collapse. If you think your dog or cat is suffering from heatstroke, call your veterinarian right away.

Very young and senior dogs as well as breeds with flatter faces -- such as pugs, shih tzus, pekingese, bulldogs, boxers and Persian cats -- are especially vulnerable.

Give your pet extra water. On hot days, be sure to refill your pet's water bowl more often or add more bowls of water throughout your home.

Have several ways for your pet to cool off. Leave a fan on where your pet can sit in front of it, add some ice cubes to their water or give them a cool treat, like a Kong stuffed with wet food or peanut butter then frozen. You can also keep the blinds/curtains closed to limit the sun from heating up your space.

Never leave your pet alone inside a car. Even with the windows cracked, the inside of a car can reach 120 degrees in a matter of minutes on a warm day. Leaving the air conditioning on is no guarantee your pet will be safe.

Take your walks in the morning or evening. Intense midday heat can overwhelm your dog during a walk. Try to take your pet for a walk during the cooler morning or evening hours. Depending on the humidity, you may have to keep the walk shorter than normal.

Don't leave your dog alone outside for more than a few minutes. Even in the shade, a dog exposed to extreme heat and humidity is at risk for heatstroke.

Avoid hot sidewalks. Remember, your pet's paws are bare skin which can be easily burned by hot pavement, blacktop and sand.

Brush your pet regularly. A clean, untangled coat can help ward off summer skin problems and help your dog stay cool. You can trim your dog's coat, but it's not recommended to shave it down to the skin because their hair protects them from getting sunburnt.

Check your vehicle for leaking coolant. The DCHS says dogs are attracted to the sweet taste of coolant., and even a small amount can make your dog sick or cause death. If you believe your dog may have ingested coolant, take them to the vet immediately. helping the environment.
