CLEAN YOUR AIR: SIX WAYS TO MANAGE ALLERGENS

1. Prioritize Indoor Air Quality

Air Purifiers—Invest in a good air purifier. Devices with HEPA filters are especially effective at trapping allergens such as pollen, pet dander, and dust mites. To maximize their effectiveness, put air purifiers in commonly used areas such as bedrooms and living rooms.

Humidity Control—Maintain indoor humidity levels between 30% and 50%. Humidifiers can add moisture to dry air, while dehumidifiers can help control mold growth and dust mites by reducing excess moisture. Both tools are essential in creating a balanced indoor environment.

2. Keep It Clean

Regular Cleaning—Weekly cleaning can significantly reduce the presence of allergens. Use a vacuum cleaner with a HEPA filter to capture the fine particles that traditional vacuums may recirculate into the air. Remember to wear a dust mask while cleaning to avoid inhaling allergens.

Bedding and Upholstery—Encase mattresses and pillows in dust mite-proof covers. Wash bedding weekly in hot water to kill dust mites and remove allergens. Additionally, consider washing or replacing curtains and deep cleaning upholstery where allergens can linger.

3. Filter and Ventilate

Replace HVAC Filters—Regularly replace the filters in your heating, ventilation, and air conditioning (HVAC) systems. Opt for filters with a high MERV (Minimum Efficiency Reporting Value) rating that can capture smaller particles, thus improving indoor air quality. Check with your manufacturer to ensure you're using the right MERV rating for your system. Using a filter with too high a rating for your system can cause more harm than good, taxing your system and shortening its lifespan.

Enhance Ventilation—Improve your home's ventilation by opening windows when the pollen count is low or using exhaust fans in the kitchen and bathrooms to reduce moisture and cooking fumes, which can exacerbate asthma symptoms.

Air Duct Cleaning—Consider having your air ducts cleaned by a NADCA-certified professional. Over time, dust, mold, and other allergens can accumulate in your duct system, affecting the overall air quality and efficiency of your HVAC system. Cleaning your air ducts can help ensure that these irritants are removed, providing cleaner, fresher airflow throughout your home.

4. Create a Pollen-Free Zone

Keep windows and doors closed during high pollen days. Use air conditioning in your home and car to keep pollen out. Remove shoes at the door and shower after being outdoors to wash pollen off your skin and hair.

5. Control Pet Dander

If you have pets, groom them regularly to reduce the dander they shed. Also, establish pet-free zones, especially in bedrooms, to minimize allergy exposure while sleeping.

6. Consider Indoor Plants

Some plants can help improve indoor air quality. However, it's important to choose wisely, as some plants can also be sources of mold or pollen. Spider plants and ferns are good options for improving air without increasing allergens.

Coconut Lime Salt Scrub

Materials:

- 2 limes
- 1 teaspoon lime juice
- 1 cup Epson salt or coarse sea salt
- 1/2 cup solid coconut oil
- 1 tsp. coconut extract

To make:

In a small bowl use a micro zester grater to zest the green skin of your limes, making sure you are only removing the outer green.

Cut one of the limes in half and squeeze out 1 teaspoon of lime juice. In a medium mixing bowl stir together the lime juice, salt, coconut oil and coconut extract.

Gently stir in the lime zest to the coconut mixture and be sure to mix well. Store in an airtight glass container.

The Milwaukee Bucks were founded in 1968. The owners held a fan contest to name the team. More than 40,000 fans, more than the entire city of Milwaukee at the time, voted for the name Robins, the state bird. But the owners went with the second-place, Bucks, referring to the white-tailed deer of the state. Fans went crazy because they went with the second best choice.

DIY Craft! Father's Day Shirt & Tie Card

Supplies: Colored cardstock, white cardstock, paint and sponges, masking tape, small white buttons, glue, and tie template @ www.thebestideasforkids.com/tie-template.

To make: Print off tie template and decorate. Using an 8.5x11 cardstock cut two slits at the top of the paper about 1.5 inches down. Glue your tie to the center where the slits are. Fold your two cut pieces towards the tie and glue down. You can then glue your buttons on top. Now write your message under the tie!

In October 1775, King George III railed against the rebellious colonies and ordered the enlargement of the royal army and navy. This strengthened the radicals' cause and lead many to abandon hopes of reconciliation. In March 1776, North Carolina's revolutionary convention became the first to vote in favor of independence; seven other colonies had followed suit by mid-May.
