DID YOU KNOW?

Asparagus grows at a speed of about 1/2 inch per hour. When the nights are still cool, it doesn't grow overnight, but as the season progresses, anything above 70 degrees Fahrenheit causes it to grow roughly 7 inches in 24 hours, if not more.

Studies from UW Madison have found that letting a wolf population recover reduced traffic collisions caused by deer by nearly 25%. 3/4 of that is because wolves create a "landscape of fear" that scares deer away from roads. Wolves often use roads as corridors to move around which cause the deer to avoid them.

From 1862-1863, Samuel Upham, a merchant and journalist out of Philadelphia, printed over $15 million in Confederate dollars. The fake notes widely circulated in the South and were even printed on actual banknote paper. When investigated by the United States government, his case was dismissed as it was not illegal to counterfeit currency of a country not recognized by the U.S.

2021 Annual Drinking Water Quality Report
FALL RIVER WATER UTILITY

We're very pleased to provide you with the 2021 Annual Quality Water Report. We want to keep you informed about the excellent water and services we have delivered to you over the past year. Our goal is and always has been, to provide to you a safe and dependable supply of drinking water every day.

Jeff Slotten, President
Fall River Village Board

If you have any questions about this report or concerning your water utility, please contact our Public Works Supervisor, Craig Schultz at 484-3525. Craig and Julius are DNR certified ground water and distribution system operators.

The Fall River Water Utility routinely monitors for constituents in your drinking water according to Federal and State laws. This table shows the results of our monitoring for the period of January 1st to December 31st, 2021. All drinking water, including bottled drinking water, may be reasonably expected to contain at least small amounts of some constituents.

Water System Information

If you would like to know more about the information contained in this report, please contact Craig Schultz at (920) 484-3525.

Opportunity for input on decisions affecting your water quality

Second Wednesday of every month at 6 pm.

Health Information

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk.

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune systems disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections.

Source(s) of Water

Table with 4 columns: Source ID, Source, Depth (in feet), Status. Rows include Groundwater 240 and Groundwater 300.

To obtain a summary of the source water assessment please contact, Craig Schultz at (920) 484-3525.

Educational Information

The sources of drinking water, both tap water and bottled water, include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity.

Contaminants that may be present in source water include:

- Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations and wildlife.
Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally-occurring or result from urban stormwater runoff, industrial or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining or farming.
Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture, urban stormwater runoff and residential uses.
Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can also come from gas stations, urban stormwater runoff and septic systems.
Radioactive contaminants, which can be naturally occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities.

In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations that limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. FDA regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water, which shall provide the same protection for public health.

Definitions

- AL Action Level: The concentration of a contaminant which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements which a water system must follow.
HAL Health Advisory Level: The concentration of a contaminant which, if exceeded, poses a health risk and may require a system to post a public notice.
Level 1 Assessment A Level 1 assessment is a study of the water system to identify potential problems and determine, if possible, why total coliform bacteria have been found in our water system.
Level 2 Assessment A Level 2 assessment is a very detailed study of the water system to identify potential problems and determine, if possible, why an E. coli MCL violation has occurred or why total coliform bacteria have been found in our water system, or both, on multiple occasions.
MCL Maximum Contaminant Level: The highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.
MCLG Maximum Contaminant Level Goal: The level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.
MFL million fibers per liter
MRDL Maximum residual disinfectant level: The highest level of a disinfectant allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that addition of a disinfectant is necessary for control of microbial contaminants.
MRDLG Maximum residual disinfectant level goal: The level of a drinking water disinfectant below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MRDLGs do not reflect the benefits of the use of disinfectants to control microbial contaminants.
mrem/year millirems per year (a measure of radiation absorbed by the body)
NTU Nephelometric Turbidity Units pCi/l picocuries per liter (a measure of radioactivity) ppm parts per million, or milligrams per liter (mg/l) ppb parts per billion, or micrograms per liter (ug/l)
ppt parts per trillion, or nanograms per liter ppq parts per quadrillion, or picograms per liter
SMCL Secondary drinking water standards or Secondary Maximum Contaminant Levels for contaminants that affect taste, odor, or appearance of the drinking water. The SMCLs do not represent health standards.
TCR Total Coliform Rule
TT Treatment Technique: A required process intended to reduce the level of a contaminant in drinking water.

Detected Contaminants

Your water was tested for many contaminants last year. We are allowed to monitor for some contaminants less frequently than once a year. The following tables list only those contaminants which were detected in your water. If a contaminant was detected last year, it will appear in the following tables without a sample date. If the contaminant was not monitored last year, but was detected within the last 5 years, it will appear in the tables below along with the sample date.

Inorganic Contaminants

Radioactive Contaminants

Contaminants with a Health Advisory Level or a Secondary Maximum Contaminant Level

The following tables list contaminants which were detected in your water and that have either a Health Advisory Level (HAL) or a Secondary Maximum Contaminant Level (SMCL), or both. There are no violations for detections of contaminants that exceed Health Advisory Levels, Groundwater Standards or Secondary Maximum Contaminant Levels.

Synthetic Organic Pesticides and Herbicides

Additional Health Information

If present, elevated levels of lead can cause serious health problems, especially for pregnant women and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials and components associated with service lines and home plumbing. Fall River Waterworks is responsible for providing high quality drinking water, but cannot control the variety of materials used in plumbing components.

Other Compliance

Noncompliance with Recordkeeping and Compliance Data

In 2021 the Village had a significant deficiency regarding our cross-connection program with several residences that were non-compliant for inspections. Since this time all homes have been inspected per DNR requirements and the Village is up to date and current with all cross-connection surveys.

To find fault is easy; to do better may be difficult.

The new Rolls Royce Ghost's soundproofing was so overengineered that occupants in the car have found the near-total silence disorienting, and some have even felt sick. Acoustic engineers had to go back and work on "harmonizing" various sounds in the car to add a continuous soft level of sound.

John Adams died on the same day as Thomas Jefferson, July 4th, 1826. This day was also the 50th anniversary of the approval of the Declaration of Independence. The two who were once fellow Patriots and then adversaries passed within 5 hours of each other. They were the last surviving members of the original American revolutionaries who had stood up to the British empire.
