FIVE TERMS TO IMPROVE FINANCIAL LITERACY

(NAPSI)—Money can be a stressor for many—but you don't have to be among them. Creating a game plan and understanding five key terms can help improve your financial health:

Credit Score

A credit score is a three-digit number that represents your general creditworthiness, calculated based on your personal financial history. Lenders use this number to assess your ability to repay a loan, establish your credit line and to determine your interest rate. A good credit score can help you save money on loans, credit cards and insurance, and can also make it easier to rent an apartment, buy a car or purchase a home.

Credit Cards:

General Purpose vs. Store Cards

Credit cards have become an indispensable part of financial life, with 82% of American adults—and nearly all people with incomes of $100,000 or more—owning at least one credit card, according to 2022 data from the Federal Reserve. With the convenience, security and rewards that today's credit cards offer, many consumers now see the value in using multiple cards. Indeed, the average U.S. consumer has three to four credit cards, according to a 2021 report by Experia.

But credit cards are not all the same. General-purpose credit cards work at most locations in the world where credit is accepted and often come with rewards, promotional financing or introductory offers. However, an individual who is new to credit cards might need to build a credit history before being approved for a general-purpose card.

Many people start building their credit score with a store credit card, which can be used only at one specific store, or a group of stores, such as a furniture or department store. These cards are often available to those who have a lower credit score, limited or no credit history and can offer the chance to build good credit in a relatively short time. Store cards traditionally have lower credit limits, given you can only use them with that specific retailer, which also helps you manage your credit exposure. They may also offer low or no annual fees, which some traditional general-purpose credit cards charge, but sometimes higher annual percentage rates.

Interest Rates

A credit card's interest rate is the amount you will be charged on your unpaid credit card balance that is due. The interest rate is calculated as a percentage of the outstanding balance. For example, if you charge $1,000 on a credit card that does not have any outstanding balance and pay it off before the monthly due date, you typically won't incur any interest charge. You'd simply pay $1,000, and the balance would be satisfied. However, if you didn't pay it all off—or paid any amount that was less than the full $1,000—you would be charged interest based on your average daily balance.

Annual Percentage Rate (APR)

The yearly interest rate charged on your balance due is called the Annual Percentage Rate. You pay this interest rate on any balances not paid in full each month—in other words, if you don't pay your bill in full when it's due every month, the amount you do not pay is subject to interest. It's important to note that your credit card may have more than one APR: One rate for purchases, another for balance transfers and yet another for cash advances.

Firecracker - Cake -

Ingredients:

- 1 box (15.25 oz.) white cake mix
- Water, vegetable oil and egg whites called for on cake mix
- Red food coloring
- Blue food coloring
- 1 (12 oz.) white frosting
- Red, white and blue sprinkles,

Directions:

Make cake batter as directed on box. Pour 1 cup of batter into a small bowl; stir in red food coloring until well mixed. Pour another cup of batter into a separate bowl; stir in blue food color until well mixed.

Pour red cake batter into bottom of pan, then white, and lastly blue batter over white. Just pour it in so the colors don't mix.

Bake and cool cake 10 minutes. Place cooling rack over cookie sheet.

Turn pan upside down onto cooling rack. Cool cake completely, about 30-45 minutes. When cake is cool, divide the frosting evenly into 3 bowls.

Microwave bowls of frosting uncovered on HIGH a few seconds until smooth enough to drizzle over cake.

Stir in a few drops of blue and red food coloring into the other bowls until well blended. Add sprinkles and let frosting set.

People technically pay less for a Klondike bar today than they did 100 years ago. When it first came out in 1922, it cost 10 cents ($1.82 in 2025 dollars). A 6 pack of the bars costs $4.24 today.
