TWICE BAKED POTATO CASSEROLE

Ingredients:

½ pound bacon
8 medium russet potatoes, Equal to about 6 pounds 3 Tablespoons canola oil 2 sticks salted butter, softened and sliced into cubes.
1 cup sour cream
1 cup whole milk
1 cup grated cheddar cheese, plus more for topping 2 teaspoons seasoned salt 3 green onions, sliced
Salt and pepper, to taste

Directions:

Preheat oven to 400 degrees.
Set butter, sour cream, and milk aside to warm up. Scrub potatoes. Wipe dry and rub with canola oil. Bake 40 minutes, until easily sliced through. While they bake, cook the bacon. Set aside on a paper towel-lined plate to cool. Remove potatoes from the oven and decrease the heat to 350 degrees.

Leave skins on two potatoes and peel and discard remaining skins. Cut into thirds and add to a large mixing bowl. Crumble cooked bacon and set some aside for topping . Add the rest to the bowl with the butter, sour cream, milk, grated cheese, seasoned salt, and salt and pepper.

Smash potatoes with a potato masher until creamy. Add potatoes to a greased 9 x 13 dish. Top casserole with bacon and additional cheese. Bake, uncovered, for 20-25 minutes. Top with sliced green onions and serve!

In 1939, President Roosevelt moved Thanksgiving one week earlier. Roosevelt hoped that a lengthened holiday shopping season would increase spending and help the Great Depression. There were 2 years of conflicting Thanksgiving Day celebrations, as some states wouldn't recognize the change. In 1941, FDR gave in and signed a bill making the 4th Thursday in November the official date regardless of whether it's the last Thursday of the month.
