LISA

Wedding Planner

Hi, I'm Lisa.

I have years of experience working in weddings and events, with a passion for styling, design, and florals. When I'm not planning weddings, you'll usually find me with my dog, Marlie and i'm an active volunteer at our local dog rescue centre during the quieter, non-wedding season.

BECKY

Wedding Planner

Hi, I'm Becky.

I have years of experience in venue management and wedding planning, with a passion for creating seamless events. When I'm not planning weddings, you'll often find me riding my horse or running around after my two children as well as assisting my The Kent MS Therapy Centre with their fundraising events.

MARQUEES & EVENT HIRE

Planning a marquee wedding is a truly bespoke experience but unlike a traditional venue, it comes with a level of complexity that requires expert management.

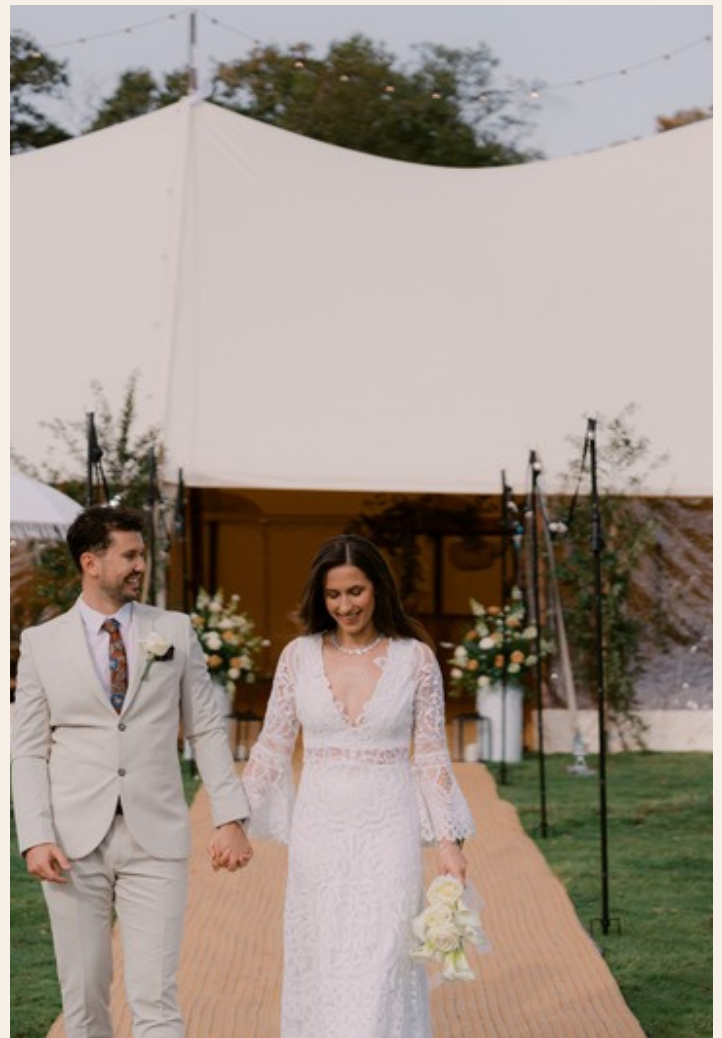

To ensure our couples enjoy a seamless, stress-free celebration, we provide a professional marquee wedding day management.

Without dedicated wedding planners, the responsibility for managing setup and logistics often falls to the couple or their family creating stress at a time that should feel calm, joyful, and entirely present.

GOOD TO KNOW

FAQ

A marquee wedding gives you freedom, but that freedom comes with responsibility. A planner or coordinator ensures your vision runs smoothly, safely, and beautifully without you (or your family) having to act as project managers on your wedding day.

A planner acts as the central point of contact, keeping everyone aligned on timelines, deliveries, and contingency plans.

Without a venue's in-house coordinator, all the responsibility falls on you or your family. A planner handles:

- Scheduling the build and breakdown.
- Managing timelines on the day.
- Troubleshooting issues quietly in the background so you can actually enjoy your wedding.

A planner can help turn your ideas into a cohesive design that works practically in a marquee space balancing aesthetics with layout, guest flow, and lighting

Full-service planning guides you from the very beginning, including budgeting, vendor selection, and design. Day-of coordination focuses on managing logistics and vendor coordination on the wedding day to ensure everything runs smoothly.

Even if you plan it yourself, a day-of coordinator is invaluable. They handle:

- Supplier arrivals and setup.
- Cueing music, speeches, and meals.
- Managing any hiccups quietly and efficiently

Unexpected challenges are common: An experienced planner knows how to anticipate and solve these quickly often before you even notice.
