We strive to inspire dancers to reach their full potential and positively impact their communities and the dance community.

Andrew Palma

Director of Operations

Born and raised in Gilbert, Arizona, Andrew Palma built a dynamic career in dance and entertainment. His journey began in gymnastics during childhood, eventually sparking a passion for dance. At seventeen, he committed himself fully to training in a variety of hip hop styles, laying the foundation for his professional path. Andrew's early training included breaking, popping, locking, and choreography. As his skills progressed, he performed professionally with the Phoenix Suns and Mercury Hip Hop Squads and served as director of the "Phx Suns Dance Kids," a youth crew that performed during NBA games.

A highlight of Andrew's career was being named the USA Ambassador at the World Hip Hop Dance Championship during Hip Hop's 50th Anniversary. Andrew is a coordinator for the Desert Breaking League, a certified Acrobatic Arts instructor, and an official judge for Hip Hop International. Additionally, he coaches AAU Breaking, where his students have earned regional titles and qualified for the Junior Olympics.

Beyond the studio, Andrew has served as an education specialist for The Be Kind People Project, a nonprofit organization focused on youth character development. He also worked as a Physical Therapy Technician, an experience that informs the safe and effective practices he incorporates into his instruction.

Andrew's work has been featured on NBC, Fox, ABC, CBS, and AZTV, and his credits include collaborations and sponsorships with Fiesta Bowl, Travel Channel, Arizona Diamondbacks, Microsoft, Subway, The Tie-Dye Company, and more.

Currently, Andrew teaches and choreographs for Rhythmic Dance Complex, where he has received numerous awards for choreography and entertainment. He is the founder of "RhythmiKidz Dance Crew," the first junior crew from Arizona to win the USA Hip Hop Dance Championship. Under his leadership, many dancers and teams have achieved national titles and international recognition.

Andrew continues to perform with his crew, Key Elements, and is a Director for Rhythmicality. He is passionate about inspiring the next generation of dancers and is committed to cultivating a positive, empowering culture at Rhythmic Dance Complex.

Ashley Palma

Artistic Director

Ashley's journey with dance began at the age of three. From her early years to her adulthood, Ashley has dedicated her passion and career towards dance.

Growing up in Gilbert, Ashley trained in a diverse range of disciplines, from the graceful movements of ballet to the rhythmic beats of hip hop. Her versatility on the dance floor allowed her to excel in everything from contemporary to tap, from musical theater to street dance.

Ashley was a member of the Phoenix Suns & Mercury Hip Hop Squads. During her time there, she also took on the role of coach and choreographer for the Suns Dance Kids, a youth hip hop crew who performed at NBA Basketball games. Presently, Ashley is an instructor for Choreography Pros Dance Convention who creates routines performed at NBA and NFL games.

As the Artistic Director of Rhythmic Dance Complex, she not only leads with vision and creativity but also continues to perform and choreograph with Key Elements and Rhythmicity Dance Crew. Her work has been showcased on international stages and has represented Team USA at the World Hip Hop Dance Championships.

Beyond the realm of performance, Ashley's commitment to youth development led her to serve as an Education Specialist for The Be Kind People Project, where she instilled the values of kindness and character in the hearts of young minds. Her impact extended even further as she took on the role of Varsity Pom Coach at American Leadership Academy in Queen Creek, guiding her team to victory in the state championship. Ashley's credits also include sponsorships and opportunities from Fiesta Bowl, Travel Channel, Fox, NBC, CBS, ABC, AZTV, and much more.

Ashley's greatest joy comes from sharing her passion with others. As an instructor and director for Rhythmic Dance Complex, she imparts her knowledge and expertise to aspiring dancers, helping them find their own path and rhythm.

Aidan Wilson

Crew Director

Aidan Wilson, born and raised in Gilbert, Arizona, discovered his passion for dance at the age of five and has since dedicated his career to the art form. Specializing in hip hop, Aidan has received training in a wide array of dance styles, including ballet, tap, jazz, lyrical, and contemporary.

Currently serving as the Crew Director at Rhythmic Dance Complex, Aidan is deeply involved in the dance community, where he has obtained many achievements and experiences. His journey in dance began with the Phoenix Suns "SunDance Kids," where he would perform during NBA basketball games. Throughout his childhood and teenage years, Aidan competed in various local, national, and international dance competitions. He earned numerous scholarships and awards from prestigious events like "Break The Floor" dance conventions. His talents were further recognized when he was chosen through audition to perform at The Dance Awards closing showcase.

Presently, Aidan is actively involved in performing and choreographing for the dance crews of Rhythmic Dance Complex. He is a member of Key Elements Crew and serves as a director for Rhythmicity. Additionally, Aidan is one of the founders of "RhythmiKidz," who were the first junior dance crew from Arizona to win the USA Hip Hop Dance Championship at Hip Hop International.

Through his guidance and mentorship, Aidan has earned numerous choreography awards, three national championships, and multiple regional championships. His commitment to dance encompasses performance, competition, instruction, and choreography, as he continues to strive for the development and enrichment of all dancers at Rhythmic Dance Complex.
