PARK CO, MT Located in south-central Montana, Park County is surrounded by four majestic mountain ranges: the Absarokas, Bridger, Gallatin, and the Crazy Mountains. In Park County alone, there are 114 identified/named mountain peaks and the beautiful and colorful Paradise and Shields valleys lie in the center. Park County covers 1,681,280 acres ranging in elevation from 4,000 feet at the lowest point, to its highest point, 12,807 ft which is also the highest point in the State of Montana, Granite Peak. There is an approximate population of 16,189 residents in Park County.

Partially bordered by Yellowstone National Park to the south, Park County's natural resources provide a wide variety of sights and outdoor activities for scores of visitors each year. The famous Yellowstone River originates in Yellowstone National Park and runs clear, clean and undisturbed through Park County from Gardiner to Springdale, drawing fishermen, floaters and wildlife enthusiasts alike. Another major county river, the Shields River, is also abound with fish, wildlife and vegetation. Not to mention, 164 identified lakes and reservoirs located in beautiful Park County, Montana providing plenty of recreational opportunities.

The historic city of Livingston sits on the crossroads of US I-90 and US Hwy 89 and is the original Gateway to Yellowstone National Park. A former thriving hub for the Northern Pacific Railroad, Livingston was once called home by the colorful Calamity Jane. Several smaller communities give Park County a diverse demographic makeup.

Park County's diverse economy ranges from agriculture, logging, mining, art and recreation to internet service providers and other digital technologies. The county has a critical access hospital, two medical clinics, and four airports. Average daytime high temperatures range from 30 degrees F in January, 80 degrees F in July and 42 degrees F in November. There is an average of 5 precipitation days each month of the year.

LIVINGSTON MONTANA

Park County

Livingston, MT surrounded by four wild and beautiful mountain ranges that offer an abundance of outdoor activities year-round. Whether its fly-fishing on the Yellowstone, downhill or cross-country skiing, taking a wild outfitting trip on horseback, river rafting on a famous river or a hike in the most breathtaking, wild and natural place on earth, we have it all here in our diverse, friendly town. We are also a historic community that sits at the northern boundary to Yellowstone National Park. It has long been the “Original Gateway City to Yellowstone National Park,” and we have been evolving & enhancing our community since 1883.

For a relaxing day, visit our historic museums, wander through our many art galleries or sit along the river with a great cup of local coffee and take in the view. You can try playing Golf on the edge of the mighty Yellowstone River or just walk through the late 1800’s history in our downtown historic district. We have great shops and a very diverse local restaurant scene from casual to fine dining or grab an award-winning beer from our downtown breweries.

Our night life is a mix of local and big-name entertainment at the pubs, breweries and many event venues, a live show in one of our two historic live theatres, camp under the star filled sky or simply relax in our many comfortable beds and let the occasional train whistle lull you to sleep.

Livingston has everything a destination needs for Montana, our locals and non-resident travel year-round but it is not a touristy place, but a place tourist like to come for relaxation and enjoyment, both day and night all year round. We have things to do both day and night time as well as indoors and out and in any season sun, snow, rain and wind.

Livingston is home to the largest population of writers and authors in the state. We think it has to do with the peace and quiet and inspiration our community provides. We have also had many famous visitors, from Calamity Jane to Sam Peckinpah and Michael Keaton to John Mayer we even please famous food critics like Anthony Bourdain in Livingston’s incredible restaurant selection.

So, for your year-round destination, let Livingston be your basecamp for the best Yellowstone National Park vacation that you will remember for a lifetime as it is only 52 miles north of the first National Park, Yellowstone, with the most beautiful highway as your path. Once you start to make your way into the Paradise Valley you will be grabbing for your closest camera with anticipation and we can assure you that you won’t have disappointment until someone says it’s time to go home.

(BPT) - We all want to find both essentials and fun products easily - with lots of variety - and get them delivered fast, and for free. This summer, spend more time with friends and family and less time shopping. Prime Free One Day ensures members can find last-minute birthday presents, sunscreen and beach towels for an impromptu get-away, as well as closet organizers and cleaning products - all delivered the very next day.

Amazon is in the process of expanding one-day delivery with Amazon Prime. Today, Prime Free One Day is available to members with no minimum purchase amount on more than ten million products, coast to coast. Millions of members are already noticing and enjoying free one-day delivery right to their door, garage and even to their car.

Here are some questions we asked about Prime Free One Day.

WHERE IS PRIME FREE ONE DAY AVAILABLE TODAY?

Prime Free One Day is available on ten million products, coast to coast, and customers across the U.S. may have already noticed expanded one-day selection when they shop. In fact, Amazon customers in thousands of cities and towns across 44 major metropolitan areas already have access to millions of items with free same-day delivery.

WHAT PRODUCTS ARE AVAILABLE FOR ONE-DAY DELIVERY?

Over ten million products are available for one-day delivery and the selection is continually increasing. Amazon's vast selection varies from the best of Amazon entertainment to everyday necessities like diapers, apparel and household items, as well as consumer electronics and more.

HOW IS ONE-DAY DELIVERY MADE POSSIBLE?

Amazon has built its network for more than 20 years, growing it to include 110 fulfillment centers, 40 package sorting centers, 100 delivery stations and 20 air gateways - all to be closer to customers. This network allows the company to deliver orders faster and more efficiently.

WHAT ONE-DAY DELIVERY OPTIONS DOES AMAZON OFFER?

To make delivery even more convenient, Amazon offers multiple package pickup and return options, including Amazon Locker and Amazon pickup locations in towns and cities across the U.S. Other delivery options even include in-garage, in-car and in-home deliveries using Key for Amazon.

Amazon obsesses over making customers' lives easier, better and more fun with Prime. In fact, Amazon customers in thousands of cities and towns across 44 major metropolitan areas already have access to millions of items with free same-day delivery. Simply look for items marked as eligible for delivery today, order before lunch and get them by bedtime. For delivery in a matter of hours, members can also use Prime Now to receive grocery delivery from Whole Foods Market in nearly 90 U.S. metros, or grocery pickup in as little as 30 minutes in 30 metros, with more to come in 2019.

To learn more about Amazon Prime or start a free trial, visit amazon.com/prime.

DRAFT HORSE SANCTUARY

United in Light, Inc. rescues mature draft breeds that are not able to drive or ride anymore due to their age, injuries, abuse and lack of training. Most of our rescues are intercepted from slaughter!

Our Vision:

Acres of land created to retire all mature draft horse breeds that have been rescued from an untimely death. They are rehabilitated to their optimal health and allowed to live in a herd family with other draft horses throughout the rest of their lives. If they choose, they are able to heal their hearts with humans, as humans also make the choice to heal with these horses. United In Light, Inc. educates the public on the lives of draft horses and of the unique lifestyle that is lived here on this land.

Visiting Hours:

Off Season Visiting Hours: First Saturday of every month, 10-Noon

Season Visiting Hours: June & July, every Saturday from 10-Noon

Wednesdays by appointment only between 10-Noon for both off season and season hours!

Let the healing begin and let it be shared to all throughout our life.

STH specializes in applications for range-land, ranch-land, mountain properties and rough terrain areas for Park and Sweet Grass counties of S.W. Montana.

Invasive Plants

Noxious weeds are invasive non-native destructive species that displace native plants, hinder agricultural production, cause soil erosion, and can be poisonous to wildlife and livestock. In this section we'll take a look at some of the worst offenders this season. ipsum

3 REASONS

To Go Fishing On Your Next Day Trip

(BPT) - When the weather warms up, it's the perfect time to spend a day casting on the water. Whether you're an experienced fisherman, a novice or a family looking for a fun, all-ages activity, fishing is an easy and enjoyable choice.

Here are three reasons for you and your family to go fishing for your next day trip:

1. IT'S A FUN WAY TO SPEND TIME TOGETHER.

Fishing is a fun activity that gets kids outdoors and engaged, and it's easy for anyone to participate, regardless of their age. Fishing allows friends and families to enjoy a relaxing day together, and helps keep their focus on each other, nature and the activity at hand. For kids interested in fishing on a regular basis, organized youth fishing programs are becoming increasingly popular nationwide. These programs and high school fishing teams are growing rapidly, getting support from well-known fishing companies including lure manufacturer Rapala, which sponsors the Student Angler Tournament Trail.

"We are witnessing an exciting explosion in youth enjoyment of fishing," says Rapala marketing director Matt Jensen. "High school and college fishing teams are growing faster than we've ever seen and it's encouraging kids to get into the sport at a younger age."

These programs are a great way to teach kids fishing basics, allowing them to pursue a lifelong sport. Summer is an ideal time to sign kids up for fishing camps and schedule fishing trips for the whole family.

2. IT'S ACCESSIBLE.

Many people live near lakes or other bodies of water, allowing easy access to the sport. For others, water may be just a short drive away, making for a perfect one-day escape or weekend getaway.

Also, fishing isn't complicated to learn and doesn't require a ton of expensive equipment. Whether you own or rent a boat, or fish from a dock or shoreline, learning the basics with an affordable rod and reel is something anyone can do. Also, there are plenty of lure options that make fishing a quick and fun pursuit for any skill level. Here are a few easy-to-use choices:

* The Original Floating Rapala is the world's No. 1 "go-to" lure. Found in more tackle boxes than any other bait, it's versatile and effective. Designed with a natural minnow profile, the bait offers anglers the ability to reach any depth, making it perfect for catching a host of game fish, no matter where they lurk. Its patented wounded minnow swimming action continues to be irresistible to fish decades after its debut.

* The Storm 360GT Searchbait is the ultimate confidence lure. Designed to be fished anywhere by anglers of all skill levels, its true-to-life rattling jig head and soft-plastic minnow profile creates a natural presentation that fools fish time and time again.

* The Rapala DT (Dives-To) Series is a favorite choice for professional bass anglers. This crankbait comes in a variety of sizes, allowing the user to target specific depths and stay in the "strike zone" longer than any other crankbait on the market. Swimming with an attention-grabbing side-to-side motion, the Rapala DT-Series is a must-have lure for catching smallmouth and largemouth bass.

3. IT'S GOOD FOR YOU.

Spending time outdoors offers significant health benefits. One huge advantage of fishing together is that it allows families to get away from screens. Everyone can set their phones and gadgets aside to enjoy time in nature and relish each other's company without distractions.

If a child is spending too much time with electronics, breaking up their routine with an outdoor activity like fishing can expose them to the benefits of in-person interaction, engaging with the real world and experiencing the beauty of nature.

HERE ARE ADDITIONAL HEALTH BENEFITS THAT COME WITH FISHING OUTDOORS:

Vitamin D. Just 10-15 minutes of midday sun provides a healthy dose of vitamin D, which helps bodies absorb calcium. This boosts bone growth and health, and fights disease. Vitamin D also elevates mood, helping with depression.

Relaxation. Being outdoors, breathing fresh air and spending time on a body of water relieves stress and lowers blood pressure. For people constantly on the go, it's a great way to take a much-needed break.

Exercise. Walking and boating helps burn calories and increases heart rate. And even though the participants may not notice, fishing helps stretch and flex some of the body's underused muscles.

With its widespread accessibility, health benefits and ease of participation, fishing is a great way to get outside and enjoy the beautiful summer weather ahead.
