

Top 5 Myths About Bisexual People

MYTH #1: "Bisexuality does not exist."

TRUTH: Bisexuality is a legitimate and enduring sexual orientation. In fact, the bisexual population might actually be a larger than we realize with recent studies showing that bisexual people make up the largest subgroup within the LGBT community.

MYTH #2: "Bisexuals are gays and lesbians in 'transition'."

TRUTH: Some people go through a period of bisexuality on their way to adopting a lesbian/gay identity. For many, bisexuality remains a long-term orientation. Conversely, many people call themselves "gay/lesbian" while coming out as bisexual.

MYTH #3: "Bisexuals are promiscuous/ can't be monogamous."

TRUTH: Bisexuality is a sexual orientation, and independent of sexual behavior, sexual interests, or a lifestyle of monogamy or non-monogamy. Some bisexual may have more than one lover at a time, others prefer to date one person at a time.

MYTH #4: "All bisexuals are equally attracted to men and women."

TRUTH: Bisexual simply means the potential for sexual and/or romantic attraction to more than one gender, including transgender people. These attractions may be stronger for one gender or another, or exist completely outside of gender lines.

MYTH #5: "There's no bisexual community."

TRUTH: We might not be as visible as the gay/lesbian community, but we're out there! There are currently over 60 bi organizations in the U.S., and multiple bisexual advocacy, social, and discussion groups in Los Angeles alone!

Adapted from the writings of Sharon Forman Sumpter. Published by the Los Angeles Bi Task Force.

Top 5 Myths About Bisexual People

MYTH #1: "Bisexuality does not exist."

TRUTH: Bisexuality is a legitimate and enduring sexual orientation. In fact, the bisexual population might actually be a larger than we realize with recent studies showing that bisexual people make up the largest subgroup within the LGBT community.

MYTH #2: "Bisexuals are gays and lesbians in 'transition'."

TRUTH: Some people go through a period of bisexuality on their way to adopting a lesbian/gay identity. For many, bisexuality remains a long-term orientation. Conversely, many people call themselves "gay/lesbian" while coming out as bisexual.

MYTH #3: "Bisexuals are promiscuous/ can't be monogamous."

TRUTH: Bisexuality is a sexual orientation, and independent of sexual behavior, sexual interests, or a lifestyle of monogamy or non-monogamy. Some bisexual may have more than one lover at a time, others prefer to date one person at a time.

MYTH #4: "All bisexuals are equally attracted to men and women."

TRUTH: Bisexual simply means the potential for sexual and/or romantic attraction to more than one gender, including transgender people. These attractions may be stronger for one gender or another, or exist completely outside of gender lines.

MYTH #5: "There's no bisexual community."

TRUTH: We might not be as visible as the gay/lesbian community, but we're out there! There are currently over 60 bi organizations in the U.S., and multiple bisexual advocacy, social, and discussion groups in Los Angeles alone!

Adapted from the writings of Sharon Forman Sumpter. Published by the Los Angeles Bi Task Force.

The Los Angeles Bi Task Force (LABTF) is a non-profit organization promoting education, advocacy, and cultural enrichment for the bisexual, pansexual, and fluid communities in the Greater LA Area. We provide virtual and physical bi resources for the LGBT and mainstream communities so please let us know how we can serve you! And let us know if you would like to join our team!

Check us out!

E-mail: labitaskforce@yahoo.com

Phone: (323) 860-5837

Website: www.labitaskforce.org

Facebook: www.facebook.com/groups/labitaskforce

Twitter: @LA_Bi_TaskForce

2015 Calendar

March: Bi Health Awareness Month (#BHAM)

Health tips on our Facebook page all month long!

Needs Assessment Reveal, featuring Faith Cheltenham & Dr. Mimi Hoang

Sun, Mar 22nd, 2-4pm

Plummer Park, West Hollywood

LABTF Booth @ LA Pride Festival

Sat & Sun, Jun 13th & Jun 14th, all day

West Hollywood Park

Needs Assessment Reveal for amBi, featuring Dr. Mimi Hoang

Aug (details TBD)

Bi Arts Fest in honor of Celebrate Bisexuality Day

Sep (details TBD)

LABTF @ Models of Pride Conference

Sat, Oct 10th

University of Southern California

Bi Leaders Holiday Party

Dec (details TBD)

The Los Angeles Bi Task Force (LABTF) is a non-profit organization promoting education, advocacy, and cultural enrichment for the bisexual, pansexual, and fluid communities in the Greater LA Area. We provide virtual and physical bi resources for the LGBT and mainstream communities so please let us know how we can serve you! And let us know if you would like to join our team!

Check us out!

E-mail: labitaskforce@yahoo.com

Phone: (323) 860-5837

Website: www.labitaskforce.org

Facebook: www.facebook.com/groups/labitaskforce

Twitter: @LA_Bi_TaskForce

2015 Calendar

March: Bi Health Awareness Month (#BHAM)

Health tips on our Facebook page all month long!

Needs Assessment Reveal, featuring Faith Cheltenham & Dr. Mimi Hoang

Sun, Mar 22nd, 2-4pm

Plummer Park, West Hollywood

LABTF Booth @ LA Pride Festival

Sat & Sun, Jun 13th & Jun 14th, all day

West Hollywood Park

Needs Assessment Reveal for amBi, featuring Dr. Mimi Hoang

Aug (details TBD)

Bi Arts Fest in honor of Celebrate Bisexuality Day

Sep (details TBD)

LABTF @ Models of Pride Conference

Sat, Oct 10th

University of Southern California

Bi Leaders Holiday Party

Dec (details TBD)