Lady Lions Leading EIAAW Track

By DENNIS GILDEA
Times Sports Writer

Kathy Mills won the 5,000 meters yesterday to help push Penn State into the first-day team lead at the Eastern AIAW track and field championships on the Penn State track.

Mills pulled away from teammate Peggy Cleary and Maryland's Deb Pavik with four laps to go and steadily increased her lead for the win in 16:11.14.

Lady Lion Cleary finished second in 16:20.72, her best this year, and Pavik finished third in 16:44.04.

Only three finals were contested yesterday, and Penn State grabbed a 35-17 lead over second-place Maryland. Morgan State was third in the 27-team field with 10.

The meet concludes today.

"We're in pretty good shape, but there are a whole lot of finals still to come," said State coach Gary Schwartz.

Schwartz's Lady Lions are hoping for an Eastern triple crown, a clean sweep of the cross-country, indoor and outdoor track titles in the same year.

The Lady Lions also got second-place points from Vivian Riddick in the long jump and freshman Elaine Sobansky in the discus.

Riddick led until the last jump when she was passed by Morgan State's Evealene Hatcher, 19-10½ to 19-2.

"Vivian's been having a hard time beating Hatcher, but she had her beat today until that last jump," Schwartz said.

Sobansky finished behind Maryland's Marita Walton, 162-0 to 140-10. Lady Lion Cheryl Kent took sixth with a spin of 132-3.

"I was disappointed that Marilyn Senz didn't finish up there in the discus, but only time will tell if those points will be pivotal in the team scoring," Schwartz said.

In the 5,000, the only track final held yesterday, Mills, Cleary and Pavik led from the start with Mills and Cleary running about 77 to 79 seconds per quarter in the middle of the race.

Mills kept the pace steady and pulled away from the other two to win by about 30 yards.

"I'm pretty happy with it, even though it's way off what I used to do," the Lady Lion senior said after the win.

Three years ago Mills won the National AIAW 5,000 title with a then-world record 15:35.

"I don't really know how much closer I can get to that this year," she said.

Mills has been forced to cut back her training considerably because of a foot injury.

"I haven't been doing any morning runs, and I haven't been able to get on the track for the quality work I need," Mills said.

Both Mills and Cleary will go again today in the 3,000 where the chief opposition should come from Eastern cross-country champ Judi St. Hillaire of Vermont.

Penn State freshman Tammie Hart, the former PIAA champ from Williamsport, qualified for the 400 finals with the second-fastest time, 54.95. Morgan State's Roberta Belle did 54.58.

"We were pretty sure Tammie would qualify in the 400, but we took a gamble and tried to qualify her in the 200, too," Schwartz said.

Hart, however, finished fifth in her heat, one place out of a qualifying berth with a 25.20.

"Inexperience hurt her," said sprint coach Mike Shine. "Debbie Lewis (Maryland) was on the inside lane, and when Debbie pulled even with her, Tammie worked too hard to go with her. If she had stayed loose and relaxed, she would've been better off, but she really struggled for about 150 yards of the race."

Third-place Morgan State fared especially well in sprint qualifications.

The meet today begins with the 10,000 at 10 a.m. The rest of the track events resume at 1 p.m.
