Georgetown leads IC4A track

PRINCETON — Princeton University's Bob Igoe took third place in the long jump with a jump of 24-8½ to highlight the second day of the 64th annual IC4A Track and Field Championships yesterday at Princeton's Jadwin Gym.

"Bob did a great job. He had his best series of jumps and his best performance ever," said Princeton Coach Larry Ellis.

Georgetown University, paced by Ray Humphrey's first-place finish in the long jump, appears to have the edge in the race for the team title as the Hoyas have qualified participants in every one of today's events.

The biggest threat to Georgetown is expected to come from Villanova, led by former olympian John Marshall. Marshall led all qualifiers in the 800-meter run with a time of 1:52.18.

Princeton's mile-relay team captured a first in their heat as they posted the third fastest overall qualifying time, 3:20.46. The Tigers' Bob Merrilees also qualified for tomorrow's high jump finals.

Boris Pendergrass of Rutgers ran a 7.35 in the 55-meter hurdles which gave him the fastest qualifying time of the day. Pendergrass, who had the fourth best time in the IC4A's during the indoor season, is expected to challenge Villanova's Martin Booker for first place.

Pendergrass's teammate, Elliott Quow also qualified for tomorrow's semi-final in the 55-meter dash with a time of 6.44.

Thus far, only one meet record has been broken and that came yesterday when Mount St. Mary's Bill Moti scored 4102 points in the pentathlon.

Villanova exceeds expectations at IC4A meet

By Ron Reid
Inquirer Staff Writer

PRINCETON, N.J. — Thanks to the Villanova Wildcats, there was much in the way of surprise yesterday at Princeton University's Jadwin Gym during the 64th running of the IC4A indoor track and field championships.

For the first time in at least 30 years, Villanova was rated as something less than a contender for the team championship, which it has won 16 times in the last 25 years. But if Charlie Jenkins' squad was just another entry in the field of 79 schools, someone forgot to tell the Wildcats.

They shrugged off their injuries and competed with heart and intelligence, giving promise of exceeding those pre-meet expectations when the team title and a host of events are decided today, starting at 1 p.m.

Two finals yesterday were decided with comeback performances. Pat Egan, a 23-year-old Rhode Island senior, improved his trial mark to win the 35-pound weight throw with a heave of 66 feet, 7 inches.

In the long jump, Georgetown's Ray Humphrey also gave his best effort late in the competition, taking the event with a mark of 25-5½.

For sheer thrills, however, no one could touch Villanova's Tony Valentine. Valentine, a sophomore from Plainfield, N.J., made up more than 30 meters on the final lap of his 400-meter trial heat.

After finishing second to Lincoln's Barry Feoron in 49.85 seconds, Valentine lowered his time to 49.51 with another runner-up finish in a semifinal heat — this time without making up so much distance.

"I've been hurt," Valentine said in explaining the tactics of his first race. "I wanted to test my leg through the first 220, to see if it was going to hold up. If I went out hard, I might not have finished."

Valentine injured his left hamstring two weeks ago in the Big East meet.

John Marshall, the Wildcats' national collegiate indoor record-holder who advanced to the second round of the 800 meters in the Los Angeles Olympics, also turned in some gutsy running.

He took a second in his 800 trial before he won the semifinal in 1:52.18, the best time of the day for the distance.

Marshall also anchored the Wildcats' 2-mile relay team, which gained a second place in the qualifying — good for a spot in the finals.

Sean O'Reilly, the Wildcats' middle distance star imported from Ireland, also finished second in his semifinal of the 1,000 meters, with a time of 2:27.13, and Martin Booker, the Villanova hurdler, qualified in his specialty with a time of 7.41 seconds.

Chip Jenkins, son of the Wildcats' coach, barely missed qualifying for the finals of the 500-meter run. Jenkins missed fourth place by a little more than a yard, but he came back later to help the Wildcats' mile relay team to a fourth place, which qualified it for the finals.

Edwin Modibedi, a Wildcats freshman, also came back after a dismal effort in the distance medley — the one event in which the Wildcats hardly competed at all — to win his semifinal of the 400 meters.

Penn State won its 2-mile relay heat in 7:41.99, finished second in the distance medley semis and took a qualifying third in the mile relay.

The Nittany Lions also got first-place work from Vance Watson, who clocked 2:28.87 in his 1,000-meter heat, and from Mark Overheim, who had a time of 4:07.78 for the day's best mile.

In an earlier mile heat, St. Joseph's Jim Norris was a winner in 4:13.27.

Bill Motti set the first meet record by winning the pentathlon with 4,102 points, giving Mount St. Mary's the team lead through yesterday's competition with 12 points.

67-7 Weight Throw By Egan Is Winner

PRINCETON, N.J., March 2 — Patrick Egan, a 23-year-old senior at the University of Rhode Island, won the 35-pound weight throw today as the 64th Indoor IC4A track championships began in Jadwin Gymnasium.

Egan's qualifying throw of 65 feet 5½ inches had put him in second place behind Jimmy Kenny of Boston College, who led the trials with a throw of 67-1½. But Egan's first throw of the finals went 67-7, and that proved good enough to win.

It was the second week in a row that Egan had rallied to beat Kenny. Last week, Egan reached 69-9 on his final toss to win the New England championship. All eight of today's finalists here compete for New England colleges.

In the only other final today, Ray Humphrey of Georgetown also rallied to take the long jump. Like Egan, Humphrey was in second place after the trials, trailing Bob Igoe of Princeton, 24-8½ to 24-5. Humphrey's fifth-round jump of 25-5½ put him into the lead to stay, although Jim Patterson of Notre Dame almost overtook him with a final-round leap of 25-5.

Villanova and Georgetown, the co-favorites for the team title, had no major mishaps in the qualifying trials. Villanova, in fact, came up with an unexpected plus when Tony Valentine, injured all week, made up 30 yards on the second and final lap of the 400-meter run to advance to the second round. He later made the final.

Villanova Rallies To Win IC4A Title

By JAMES DUNAWAY

Special to The New York Times

PRINCETON, N.J., March 3 — Villanova, as it has so many times in the past, stormed from behind with a victory in the final event, the mile relay, to win the team championship today at the IC4A Indoor Track Championships.

Villanova scored 59 points to Penn State's 57 and Boston University's 53.

Penn State was tied for the lead at 53 points with Boston University going into the mile relay, and Villanova was third with 49. Penn State and Villanova had teams in the race. Boston University did not. Penn State could have clinched victory by finishing first, second, or one place behind Villanova.

But Villanova's brilliant freshman from Bophuthatswana, Edwin Modibedi, led the Wildcats to first place in the relay with a 47.2 anchor leg. The victory moved Villanova from third to first place in the meet, as Penn State finished fourth in the relay.

Villanova won its 19th team championship, the second since Charlie Jenkins took over as head coach in 1981 after the death of Jumbe Elliott.

John Marshall, the 1984 800-meter Olympian from Plainfield, N.J., was a leading contributor to Villanova's victory. He won the 800 meters in 1:49.41, and 40 minutes later anchored the 3,200-meter team to victory with a 1:51.6 leg. He was asked, as he rested between the two events, if the team competition was more important than the individual events. "If it weren't, I wouldn't be doubling," he said.

Willie McLaughlin of Manhattan College set a meet record in the 400-meter run with a 47.06. McLaughlin, who had sometimes been a slow starter, went out fast this time and led all the way.

"It was one of the better races I've ever run," he said noting that he had passed the 200-meter mark in 22 seconds flat. "I ran the whole race smart."

McLaughlin beat the favored Modibedi and qualified for next week's National Collegiate Athletic Association Championships in Syracuse.

Other meet records were set by Ray O'Flynn of Providence, with 14:02.52 in the 5,000 meters, and by William Motti of Mount St. Mary's with 4,102 points in the Pentathlon held on Friday.
