EASTERN COLLEGE ATHLETIC CONFERENCE

The Nation's Largest Athletic Conference

More Than 60 Years of Tradition, Pride, Diversity and Service

In the 62 years since its inception, the Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) has emerged as the nation's largest conference. The ECAC has grown considerably from its charter membership of 58, currently boasting 305 member schools in Divisions I, II and III, ranging in location from Maine to North Carolina. In the 1999-2000 academic year, the ECAC will host 102 championships in 23 men's and women's sports as the sponsors of over 2000 varsity teams and 125,000 male and female athletes.

Considered a "conference of conferences," the ECAC has formed strong alliances with many other athletic associations in order to provide more services to its members. That is, most schools affiliated with the America East, Atlantic 10, Big East, Colonial Athletic, and Metro Atlantic conferences and the Ivy, Northeast and Patriot Leagues also hold dual membership with the ECAC. Similarly, many schools from the Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania state athletic conferences have formed partnerships with the ECAC as well. Additionally, the ECAC serves as the primary league for several Division I, II and III men's and women's ice hockey teams.

HISTORY - The ECAC was founded in 1938 as the Central Office for Eastern Intercollegiate Athletics. One of the most significant events in ECAC history occurred in 1983 with the consolidation of the Eastern Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (EAIW) into the ECAC infrastructure. With the addition of women's sports, the ECAC doubled its number of championships and greatly increased its member base.

Through the years the ECAC has exerted leadership not only at the regional level, but at the national level as well. Comprising more than 25 percent of the NCAA membership, the conference plays an integral role in national collegiate athletics policy and legislation. The conference continues today to address many of the same issues affecting college athletics in the past while striving to usher this industry into the next century.

LEADERSHIP - Inaugural commissioner Asa Bushnell molded the organization from its formation in 1938 to his retirement in 1970. George Schieber succeeded Bushnell as commissioner from 1970-72, followed by Robert M. "Scotty" Whitelaw (1972-1989) and Clayton Chapman (1989-98). Current commissioner Phil Buttafuoco assumed chief administrator responsibilities on July 1, 1998. Buttafuoco brings extensive knowledge and leadership into the mix based on his experiences as senior assistant director of championships for the NCAA.

LOCATION - The Asa S. Bushnell Center, the ECAC's current headquarters, is located in Centerville, Massachusetts on Cape Cod. It is on the picturesque Cape that the conference hosts its fall convention and honors dinner. More than 300 athletic administrators attend the convention to partake in the membership committee meetings, professional seminars, tournament, and affiliate meetings. The remainder of the year the center remains the hub of activities for the ECAC with daily tasks focused on championships, officiating, public relations and recognition awards, legislative services, sponsorship, special events and television venues.

CHAMPIONSHIPS - The ECAC provides preseason and post-season venues to member institutions, creating a highly competitive arena to showcase talented student-athletes. The conference also administers championships for the following nine affiliate organizations: EARC and IRA rowing, IC4A cross-country and track & field, ILA lacrosse, IFA fencing, EIWA wrestling and EIGL gymnastics. In 1997, the ECAC was awarded USOC grant money to fund conference championships in Olympic sports considered "endangered" (men's gymnastics, men's water polo) or "emerging" (women's synchronized swimming, women's water polo). Additional grants were awarded to the ECAC in wrestling and men's and women's fencing in 1998. The grant program will continue to fund these championships through 2001.

OFFICIATING - The ECAC assigns officials in 15 Division I, II and III sports, including baseball, basketball, crew, cross-country, fencing, football, gymnastics, ice hockey, soccer, swimming, track & field, and wrestling. Furthermore, ECAC official coordinators provide clinics and workshops to improve the level of officiating and attract the most qualified collegiate officials. The officiating bureaus assign officials for both conference and NCAA regional championships.

PUBLIC RELATIONS/RECOGNITION AWARDS - The ECAC publicizes the achievements of its member institutions and athletes via weekly and postseason awards. These selections stem from nominations submitted by the college's sports information director and the conference's public relations director.

CONVENTION and MEETINGS - The business of the ECAC is conducted at the ECAC Fall and Spring Conventions, which provide opportunities for the membership to discuss and vote on common issues and concerns.

INTERNSHIP PROGRAM - The ECAC has established the prestigious Asa S. Bushnell internship program, employing two interns at the office each year. Candidates must hold an undergraduate degree from an ECAC institution.

LEGISLATIVE SERVICES - The conference maintains a legislative and compliance service to assist its membership with the application of NCAA and ECAC regulations. The conference sponsors workshops and seminars, processes hardship waivers and administers the Collegiate Commissioners Association National Letter of Intent.

SPONSORSHIPS - The ECAC actively pursues to develop partnerships that garner the financial support of the corporate and individual communities. Through their sponsorships, the ECAC may enhance championship events for participants, while supplementing associated event operational expenditures. Some of the elements sponsors of the Conference may receive include: title sponsorship status, television exposure, event signage, web page advertisements and the opportunity to promote purchasing discounts for ECAC members.

TELEVISION - ECAC Productions coordinates with institutions, television vendors, and broadcast partners to produce and obtain clearances of quality sports programming promoting the Conference and its members. ECAC Productions televised sports events include football, gymnastics, men's and women's ice hockey, and wrestling. These events are aired through partnerships with the following regional sports networks: Empire Sports, the New England Sports Network (NESN), Home Team Sports, Sunshine Network, and Comcast Sports.

SPECIAL EVENTS - The conference hosts events such as the ECAC Men's Basketball Holiday Festival at Madison Square Garden, the ECAC/Crowne Plaza Face-Off Classic, the Eastern College Football Awards Banquet at the Meadowlands, the ECAC Women's Basketball Holiday Festival and the ECAC Division I Women's Soccer Classic.

Going...Going...Gone...from our long-time IC4A coaching ranks

By Larry Byrne, IC4A Administrator

Permit me a moment of sentimentality, but the pending retirement of two...and the year-old retirement of another...loyal and dedicated life-long track coaches...STEVE BARTOLD, AL BUEHLER and FRANK "GAGS" GAGLIANO...necessitates expressing my personal feelings about this trio, each of with whom I have shared a warm and lengthy professional relationship.

* * * * *

Going... STEVE BARTOLD...after 39 years as a Head Coach at two of IC4A's prominent schools...19 at St. John's (his "Alma Mater"), then 20 years at Yale (1981-2000)...the "dean" of IC4A Head coaches is heading for full-time on his local Connecticut golf courses. When Steve was appointed to take over the St. John's program in 1961, he was only 26 years old, the youngest Division I Head Track Coach in the country at that time. I came to know Steve in the early 70s, as an official at numerous meets at St. John's. He must have seen in me a "rising star" in track officialdom, as he soon recommended me to work the IC4A's (under my predecessor, Art Farnham). When Art suddenly announced he was bowing-out as IC4A Administrator in mid-summer of '87, it was Steve who arranged my interview with then ECAC Commissioner, Scotty Whitelaw, from whence I got selected for my current position. It should also be noted that Steve has served 31 straight years on the IC4A Games Committee, and in that capacity has been most influential in recommending positive changes to IC4A Policies and Procedures. I'd be remiss in not acknowledging that for the 13 years I've been in the Meet Director's "Chair", Steve has been a most reliable and trusted "mentor" to me.

* * * * *

Going... AL BUEHLER...after 45 years on the Duke coaching staff, the past 37 as Head Coach (and since 1997, also the Director of the combined men's and women's track programs). This former "half-miler" for the Terrapins of University of Maryland in the early 50s, has devoted his life to collegiate track at the highest level, not only in coaching the Blue Devils, but serving in a myriad of administrative roles: Chairman of the NCAA Track & Field Committee for six years; one-year term as President of the NCAA Coaches Association; and on the staff of three U.S. Olympic Teams ('72-Munich, '84-Los Angeles, '88-Seoul). However, Al will probably be best remembered by our IC4A members, for his superb directorship of the NCAA Division I Outdoor Championships at Duke in 1990, when it was my pleasure to serve under Al, as Recorder of Records. I suppose it's only appropriate that in this, his last year at the "helm", the Blue Devils are again hosting the NCAA Division I Championship at Wallace Wade Stadium, and with Al's experienced "touch" it should be an extraordinary meet.

* * * * *

Gone...FRANK GAGLIANO...known to our world as simply "GAGS"...actually left the active collegiate ranks last July (1999)...so we didn't get chance to pay homage to him until now, one year later. After 39 years of coaching track and cross-country...on the Scholastic level (Roselle [N.J.] Catholic, 1960-69); then within the IC4A (Assistant at Manhattan College, 1969-74; Assistant, then Head Coach at Rutgers, 1974-83); and beginning in 1983, Director of the Track program at Georgetown... "Gone" is not entirely the case, for "Gags" is still around, with the Hoya's as Coach Emeritus. And so, we'll see the "man-behind-the-scenes" all this weekend, and for another three years, at least until his last class of '99 recruits graduate. It has been my pleasure to have known "Gags" personally since his years at Manhattan under another long-time friend Freddie Dwyer, and later at Rutgers, initially under another of my associates, Les Wallach, and later when he became Head Coach of the Scarlet Knights. But over the past 16 years while Frank was at Georgetown, our friendship has blossomed. Oh yes, we have been at odds at times, but always for the love of the sport and never seriously or for any length of time...and that's the way true friends should be.

* * * * *

Well, I've had my say...nostalgically...with a tinge of sadness...as these three depart our coaching ranks, there's a tremendous amount of wisdom, loyalty, leadership, and devotion to the sport we all love, departing with them..."GODSPEED GUYS". And, we only hope and wish those who follow in your footsteps, have the strength and dedication to "fill your shoes". LTB

ECAC TRACK & FIELD TOP PERFORMERS

Indoor national champion and Pittsburgh standout, CHANTEE EARL, narrowly defeated Georgetown's Katrina de Boer in last year's 800 meter run.

Syracuse senior, CHEREE HICKS was last year's only double winner on the women's side. The talented thrower captured both the discus and shot put.

Duke Pole Vaulter, JILLIAN SCHWARTZ added the 2000 ECAC Indoor Pole Vault title to the crown she garnered in the 1999 outdoor competition.

SHAWNEEQUA CALLIER, a senior from Princeton, placed second in the high jump at the 1999 ECAC Championships.

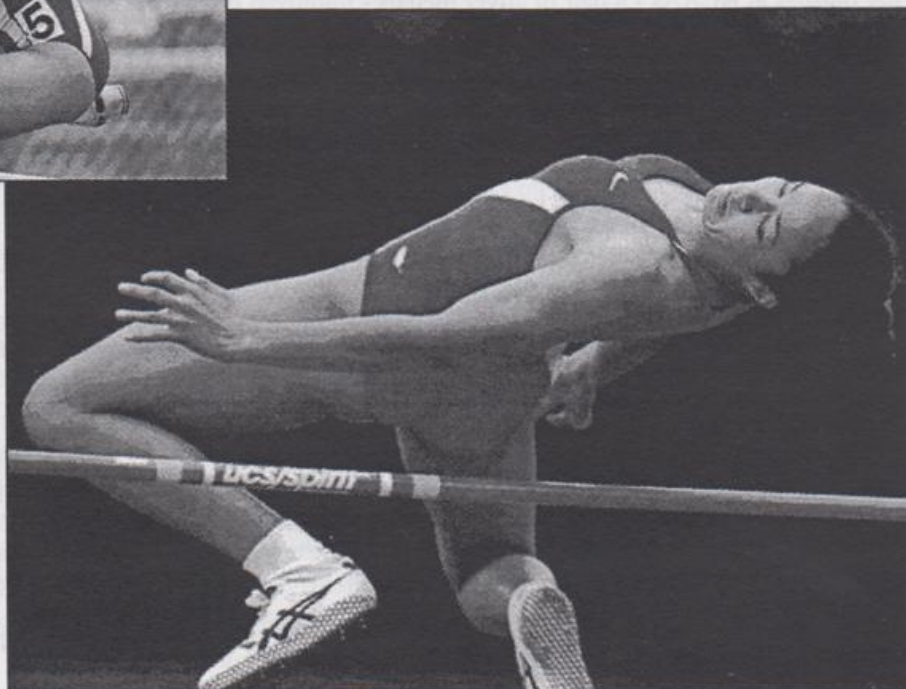

Seton Hall's NOLLE GRAHAM burst onto the collegiate scene last year, placing in three events as a freshman - long jump, 100 and 200 meter dashes.

Villanova's star distance runner, CARRIE TOLLEFSON, captured last year's 1500 meter run before going on to win both the 3000 and 5000 meter titles at the NCAA Championships.

LINDSAY TAYLOR a multi-talented junior from Brown, demonstrates winning form in two heptathlon events: the 100 hurdles and high jump. Taylor won the heptathlon in 1999 with 5309 pts.

PROFILE OF A CHAMPION ...

DORA GYORFFY- HARVARD UNIVERSITY

With a national title and collegiate record under her belt, what is left for Harvard high jumper Dora Gyorffy?...Three more chances at a national crown and a shot at an Olympic medal, for starters.

The natural progression of a collegiate athlete is steady improvement throughout the career. Freshman year performances get bettered in the sophomore campaign; those performances get surpassed in the junior season, and so on and so forth.

Harvard's junior high jumper Dora Gyorffy is no different. Her performances have steadily gotten better. She one-upped herself after a pair of third place finishes her freshman year with two second-place ribbons as a sophomore. The first really big win came in her junior season, and the wins keep getting bigger.

What sets her apart is that these victories are coming on the national stage. See, Gyorffy is a five-time All-American; an NCAA Champion, an NCAA recordholder, an Olympic qualifier, and one of the best athletes in the history of the Ivy League. She has won every event she has ever entered at the Heptagonal (Ivy) Championships, and has been named the Outstanding performer at Heps five times. Remarkable, if only for the reason that she has only competed in five Heptagonal Championships. Nevermind that no one else has ever equaled that feat - ever - in the history of the Ivy League. She is one of two National Champions in track and field to ever run under the Ivy League banner. (The first, Meredith Rainey '90, also competed for the Crimson. Rainey was the 800-meter champion indoors in 1989 and outdoors in 1990, and went on to represent the US in Barcelona.)

Gyorffy, a native of Budapest, Hungary, had an impressive resume even before arriving in Cambridge. She was the Hungarian National Champion in 1996 and again in 1997 (she subsequently won the title in 1998 and 1999 as well). She was the silver medallist at the 1996 World Junior Championships, and placed fifth in the 1997 European Junior Championships.

Gyorffy's introduction to US collegiate track & field was nothing short of stellar. Her very first indoor meet at the Gordon Track, she shattered three records: the school and track record in the high jump with a leap of 6'2", and also set a new school record in the triple jump (40'8 3/4").

The wins kept rolling in. She won the high jump at the Penn Relays. She qualified for both indoor and outdoor NCAA Championships her first season, finishing third at both. Her sophomore campaign was equally as impressive, her list of accolades growing by the week. Previous personal bests fell by the wayside, and her finishes at NAAs - a pair of silver medals - improved on her freshman finishes, and made her all the more hungrier for the national title.

Originally, she planned to take a leave of absence for the 1999-2000 school year in order to train and focus on securing a spot on the team that will represent Hungary in the 2000 Summer Olympics in Sydney. However, when taking a closer look, she realized that the Harvard backdrop could do almost as much for her.

Her decision has paid off. A winter of outstanding performances was posted by this 5'9" phenom, including her third consecutive indoor Heps title. At the Heptagonal meet in Hanover, NH at Dartmouth College, Gyorffy won Heps titles in both the high and triple jumps. In the process, she tied the NCAA high jump record with a leap of 1.97 meters, a record set by Amy Acuff of UCLA in 1995 and equaled by Erin Aldrich of Texas in 1998. Her record-tying jump had extra meaning, as it automatically qualified her for the 2000 Olympic Games. She was told that a jump of 1.94 would be necessary to make her eligible to represent Hungary; she not only met, but also soared above, the minimum.

After the Heps, expectations were high for her at the University of Arkansas, the site of the 2000 Indoor NAAs. She was up to the challenge, proving that the fifth time was indeed the charm. Gyorffy captured the title with a leap of 6 4 1/4" (1.94 meters), completing an undefeated indoor campaign by jumping 23/4 inches higher than second-place finisher Carrie Long of Purdue.

Her spring season has her on track to challenge for a replication of her feat at Duke at the outdoor NAAs. She is an automatic qualifier, and she continues to train hard and strive for those benchmarks that have set her apart from the rest. Repeating as a national champion ... becoming an Olympian ... perhaps winning a medal. Her dreams are possibilities, out there for the taking. Gyorffy continues to soar to new heights, attempting to make them all a reality. Stay tuned - you just never know how high those dreams - and jumps - will take her.

PROFILE OF A CHAMPION . . .

TRINITY GRAY - BROWN UNIVERSITY

"I want to have it just because I should have it."

-- Trinity Gray, Brown senior, on the National title in the 800m

He may sound cocky, he may sound confident, and he may sound downright crazy, but a National title in the 800 meters could very well be the final piece to Trinity Gray's unbelievable run for Brown University. When the Brown senior graduates this May, he will have captured seven outdoor Heptagonal titles, a second place in the nation, and an IC4A 800 championship.

Yet for Trinity Gray, it does not even begin to complete his journey, which began with his arrival at Brown back in 1996 and will conclude this May, hopefully with a round-trip ticket to Sydney and the 2000 Summer Games. For Gray, Brown has been an amazing ride, one that has seen him capture titles, rewrite the record book and leave an indelible mark on the history books that not even he could have imagined possible.

"Coming here [to Brown] this definitely wasn't the plan," Gray says of his continued track success across indoor and outdoor seasons. "I just planned on getting an education, maybe run okay, and maybe, someday, get a chance to race in the Olympics."

It was after his freshman year that he realized that the shot at the Olympics was more than a pipe dream. He won the 800 at Heps and IC4As, and was named an NCAA All-American in the 800 meters outdoors. That stellar rookie campaign earned him Brown's prestigious Joseph Paterno Award, given annually to Brown's outstanding first-year male athlete.

"I realized after freshman year that the 2000 Olympics were very real," Gray said. His sophomore and junior seasons saw the records continue to fall, as he set a new New England and Brown record in the 400 with a time of 46.19 seconds, an NCAA provisionally qualifying mark, and later that year he set a personal best in the 800 with 1:45.67. At the NCAA Indoor and Outdoor Championships, respectively, Gray placed seventh and sixth in the 800, en route to All-American honors both seasons.

As if the sophomore season wasn't enough, Gray returned last year with a vengeance, as he finished second in the 800 at the indoor Championships with a time of 1:46.05, breaking the American collegiate indoor record of 1:46.19, set by George Kersh in 1991. Unfortunately, Derrick Peterson of Missouri slipped in just ahead of Gray, leaving the Yeadon, Pa. native in a disappointing second.

So, how does someone who gave himself barely an outside shot become one of the most feared runners in the country, someone with a legitimate chance to capture a coveted shot on the 2000 U.S. Olympic team?

Gray is a relatively modest character, and places a great deal of credit with his coach, Bob Rothenberg. "Coach was really patient with me," Gray said. "He developed me over the years. Unlike a lot of other coaches, he doesn't rely on redshirts and taking five years to work with people. He took his time, and realized I wasn't there to break records, but to get an education and run."

The seven-time All-American now must look ahead toward NCAA's and the missing link, that elusive national championship. "It's something I've been working for and I just want to get it out of the way," Gray said. "I'm not being cocky. It's ability and hard work, and I just want to win it because I should win it."

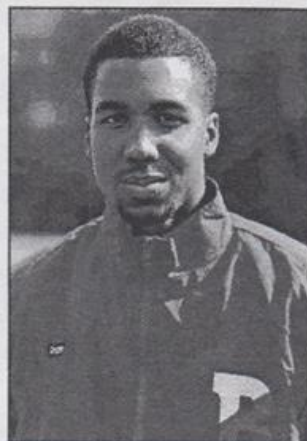

And what about Sydney?

"It depends on how I run," Gray said. "I determine my own fate. They'll take the top three Americans, so I have a good chance. There are about eight of us; we'll just have to see what happens."

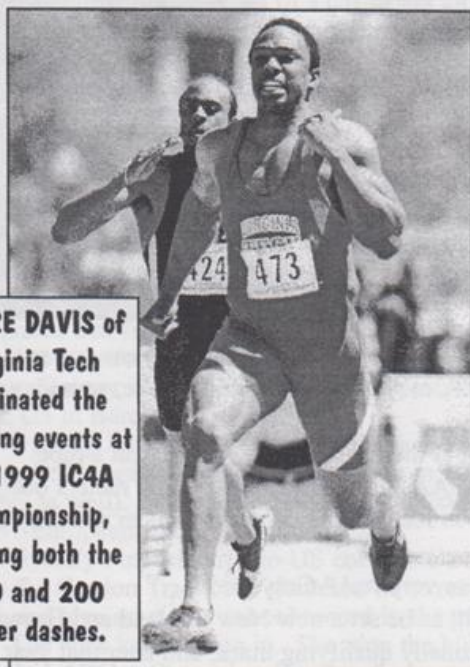

But regardless of what happens in the coming weeks, with IC4As and NAAs, Gray can look back fondly on his career at Brown, given his All-American awards and his being honored as the top male athlete at Brown as a junior, usually an award reserved for seniors.

"It's been more than I've hoped for," Gray said. "I never thought I'd have come this far. But I don't really look for individual highs. That's not really what it's about."

Liberty sprinter MIKE DECKER captured the 1999 title in the 400 meters, while placing third in the 200 meter dash.

Virginia Tech sophomore BRIAN HUNTER proved he is one of the best vaulters in the country by clearing 18 feet in the pole vault - winning the IC4A title by nearly a foot and a half in 1999.

Providence College senior KEITH KELLY was the 1999 IC4A Champion in the 10,000 meter run, eclipsing the field by 22 seconds.

UMass senior VIC MORENCY, won the discus and placed second in the javelin at the 1999 IC4A Championships.

Senior ERICK KINGSTON of Virginia Tech captured last year's hammer throw competition with a distance of 213 feet.

IC4A EVENT SPONSORSHIP PROGRAM

This sponsorship program is open to any member school, its track and field alumni association, affiliated official's associations, or any "old grad" benefactor, who may select an event at either Indoor or Outdoor Championship, and for a fee, name that event after a present or former coach, IC4A Champion, or IC4A Official. An event can be sponsored for a single championship, or for five consecutive championships.
