McGehearty Brothers Spell "Double Trouble" For BC Track Foes

by Reid Oslin and Jack Clary, Boston College Sports Information Department

Boston College's pleasure and prestige was doubled, thank you, on the NCAA Outdoor Track & Field Championships in Eugene, Oregon.

It's always quite an accomplishment when one BC athlete is accorded All-America honors but it was truly outstanding when Sean and Mark McGehearty earned them in the hammer throw, at the same meet. It was the fifth time that Mark was accorded All-America and Sean won them three times.

The double triumph sent them both to the U.S. Olympic Trials, the only set of twins who competed for a spot on the 1996 U.S. Olympic track team. In that blue ribbon event, Mark finished 10th with a throw of 214-11 while Sean was 12th with 205-8. Lance Deal of Eugene, Oregon, won the event with a heave of 249-4 and later earned a silver medal in Olympic competition. The McGehearts were the top two Americans in the the NCAA outdoor championship event. Sean placed fourth in the hammer competition with a school-record throw of 223 feet, 7 inches. That bettered his twin brother's BC record by 15 inches. Mark threw the hammer 222 feet, 4 inches at the University of Connecticut's Pentagonal Meet last April 20.

Mark placed eighth in the NCAA Outdoor Championships with a throw of 217-5 to earn fifth All-America accolade of his career. His first two came in the 1993-94, and 1994-95 indoor competitions in the 35-pound weight event. He also has captured All-America honors in the event in each of his three collegiate seasons. Sean earned his second All-America honor in the meet at Eugene, and later added another. His first came after his fourth place finish in the 35-lb. weight event in the 1995-96 Indoor Track & Field Championships in Indianapolis.

They throw the 35-lb. weight during the winter season as the indoor version of the hammer. In recent competition, the twins each uncorked a record-setting (and matching) toss of 70-7 the longest weight throw in college track this winter. The McGehearts also throw the shot put as a secondary at indoor events, but prefer to concentrate more on the 35-lb. weight. In the outdoor season, they throw the hammer only.

"They are ideal student-athletes," says track and field coach Randy Thomas. "Both are Dean's List students. They are not identical twins though it took me about six months to get their names right. But they are mirror images as students and athletes.

"Competitively, they rank 1-2 nationally in the 35-pound weight event, and Mark recently won the prestigious Millrose Games in NYC with a 70-5 toss, while Sean took fourth.

"But the good thing is that they push each other. When one does well in an event, it just seems to spur the other to do better in the next one, and that is how it has often worked out.

"They are also great friends. They train together and do all they can to encourage each other. There is a natural rivalry but there also is great respect and appreciation for each other's efforts."

Mark and Sean were spotted as track and field prospects during their freshman year at Classical High School in Providence by Al Morro, an assistant football coach and head track and field coach. Al had been the captain of the 1942 Boston College football team that played in the Orange Bowl and always had his eye peeled for good talent.

Mark McGehearty recalled the sequence of events:

"Coach Morro said to us after our freshman football season, 'Why not come out for the track and field? It'll help you stay in shape for football'. But he didn't stop there. He went to our dad and told him, 'Your boys are ideal candidates for the weight events, and if you let me work with them, I can help make them good enough so that they'll be top college prospects.'

"Coach Morro had been a discus thrower at BC and he took us under his wing and helped us get started."

"We were being recruited by five or six schools in our senior year but our first visit was to BC. Both of us really liked the smaller campus atmosphere. We liked the idea of smaller classes than the other schools offered, some of which had 20,000-30,000 students. So we decided to come here."

"Of course, my dad was ecstatic. He's a policeman in Providence but he knew some lawyers who were BC grads and they had talked up the school in glowing terms. So everything worked out just right. He was happy we came, and we've always believed that we made the correct choice and have been successful in the classroom and on the playing field.

Make that doubly successful.
