EASTERN COLLEGE ATHLETIC CONFERENCE

The Nation's Largest Athletic Conference Story and Benefits
Over 60 years of Tradition, Pride, Diversity and Service

Founded in 1938, the Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) is the nation's largest collegiate athletics conference with 292 member colleges and universities ranging from Maine to North Carolina in Divisions I, II and III. ECAC member institutions sponsor over 2,500 varsity teams involving 125,000 male and female student-athletes.

During the 1998-99 academic year, the ECAC will sponsor 102 championships in 22 men's and women's sports and is responsible for over 22,000 officiating assignments, a public-relations/award recognition program and a legislative services department. The ECAC also offers playing leagues for men's and women's ice hockey in Divisions I and III. The Division I men's hockey regular-season and tournament champions receive automatic bids to the 12-team NCAA tournament.

A conference of conferences, the ECAC includes within its organizational structure dozens of playing leagues and other organizations. Colleges and universities from the America East, Atlantic 10, Big East, Colonial Athletic Association, Ivy League, Metro Atlantic, Northeast and Patriot League, along with schools from the Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania state athletics conferences, all hold dual membership with the ECAC.

The ECAC headquarters, the Asa S. Bushnell Center, is located in Centerville, Massachusetts, on Cape Cod. It is on the Cape where the business of this nonprofit organization is conducted at its annual Fall and Spring Conventions. Over 300 athletics administrators annually attend the Fall Convention, which includes tournament and membership committee meetings, professional seminars, and an awards luncheon.

One of the most significant events in ECAC history occurred in 1983 with the consolidation of the Eastern Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (EAIW) into the ECAC structure. With the addition of women's sports, the ECAC has doubled the number of its championships.

Over the years, the ECAC has not only exerted leadership regionally but also the national level with the NCAA. With over 25 percent of the NCAA made up of ECAC members, the conference plays a leading role in national collegiate athletics policy and legislation.

Several ECAC administrators have served as both NCAA and ECAC presidents, including Bill Flynn, Boston College; John Toner, Connecticut; and Eppy Barnes, Colgate. Past NCAA Executive Director Dick Schultz, former Cornell director of athletics, served on the ECAC Executive Council.

The ECAC was founded as the Central Office for Eastern Intercollegiate Athletics with a charter membership of 53 colleges. Under the leadership of Commissioner Asa Bushnell, the conference addressed the concerns of its members in much the same fashion as today.

Bushnell molded and guided the organization from its inception until his retirement in 1970, at which time his long-time associate, George Shiebler, was appointed commissioner. Robert M. "Scotty" Whitelaw, who joined the ECAC in 1960, replaced Shiebler upon his retirement in 1972. After serving as ECAC commissioner for 17 years, Whitelaw retired in 1989. His place was taken by Clayton Chapman, who joined the ECAC in 1971 and retired June 30, 1998. July 1, he was succeeded by former NCAA Senior Assistant Director of Championships Phil Buttafuoco.

Philip A. Buttafuoco
ECAC Commissioner

CHAMPIONSHIPS - The ECAC provides preseason and postseason venues to its membership and creates a highly competitive arena for member institutions to showcase the talents of their student-athletes. The conference also administers championships for ten affiliate organizations including CICR, EARC and IRA Rowing, IC4A Cross Country and Track & Field, ILA Lacrosse, IFA Fencing, EIWA Wrestling and EIGL Gymnastics. Beginning in 1997, the ECAC was awarded USOC Conference Grant Funds to enhance and support conference championships in Olympic sports that are considered "endangered" (men's gymnastics, men's water polo) or emerging (women's synchronized swimming and water polo). Additional grants were awarded to the ECAC in men's and women's fencing and wrestling in 1998. The grant program will fund these ECAC championships through the year 2001.

OFFICIATING - The ECAC assigns officials in Divisions I, II and III in 15 sports, including baseball, men's and women's basketball, crew, cross country, fencing, football, gymnastics, men's and women's ice hockey, men's and women's soccer, swimming and track & field, and wrestling. The ECAC supervisors of officials provide clinics and workshops to improve the level of officiating and to attract the most qualified officials at the collegiate level. The officiating bureaus assign officials for both conference and NCAA regional championships. The ECAC Officiating/Negotiating Committee, representing the ECAC membership, negotiates for all bureaus for which the conference assigns officials.

PUBLIC RELATIONS/RECOGNITION AWARDS - The ECAC publicizes its member institutions and student-athletes through weekly and postseason All-Star Awards in baseball, men's and women's basketball, football, men's and women's ice hockey, men's and women's lacrosse and softball. The ECAC publishes a quarterly newsletter, a Directory & Record Book and football and ice hockey media guides.

CONVENTIONS AND MEETINGS - The business of the ECAC is conducted at the ECAC Fall and Spring Conventions, which provide opportunities for the membership to discuss and vote on common issues and concerns. The ECAC Fall Convention on Cape Cod is attended by 300 administrators.

INTERNSHIP PROGRAM - The ECAC has established the prestigious Asa S. Bushnell internship program, employing three interns at the conference office each year, providing them with a perspective on collegiate athletics, primarily through public relations and administration of its championships. Candidates must hold an undergraduate or graduate degree from an ECAC institution.

LEGISLATIVE SERVICES - The conference maintains a legislative and compliance service to assist its membership with the application of NCAA and ECAC regulations. The conference sponsors workshops and seminars, processes hardship waivers and administers the Collegiate Commissioners Association National Letter of Intent.

SPONSORSHIPS - The ECAC seeks the support of corporations desirous of increasing their penetration of the college market. Support can take various forms: enabling or enhancement of ECAC activities and events; products for ECAC championships and discounted rates for ECAC member institutions. Current sponsors include AmeriSuites; Budget Rent a Car; CCM; Chase; DD Martin; Itech; John Hancock Agency of Cape Cod; Koho/Titan/Canadien/Heaton; Market Segments, Inc. (MSI); Reebok; Spalding; and Stall and Dean.

SPECIAL EVENTS - The conference manages events such as the ECAC Holiday Festival in basketball at Madison Square Garden and ECAC-Hockey East Doubleheader, the Eastern College Football Awards Banquet at the Meadowslands and the ECAC Women's Basketball Holiday Festival.

TELEVISION - The conference manages an "ECAC TV Game of the Week," for football and ice hockey carried on Empire Sports Network and New England Sports Network; and football on Tri-State Media. Comcast, Home Team Sports, Madison Square Garden Network, and SportsChannel, also carry various ECAC events, including the men's gymnastics championships.

Carrie Tollefson—The Comeback Kid

by Erin Powers
Villanova University

Determination, discipline, and drive: these are three things that separate the ordinary from the extraordinary. Wildcat distance runner Carrie Tollefson personifies the prodigious athlete, using these three qualities to obtain what seems to be unattainable. A little over a year ago, she was not sure if she would ever run again. A little over two months ago, this senior Communications major captured the 3,000 meter National Championship at the NCAA Indoor Track and Field Championships in Indianapolis, Ind.

After finding a benign tumor in Tollefson's left heel in spring 1997, doctors attempted to correct it by using a bone graft from a cadaver. The future of her running career looked bleak. "I really did not want to believe I would never run again, but the doctors kept saying things like 'you might step off a curb the wrong way and crush your heel' so I knew it was very serious." After wearing a boot cast for six weeks, Tollefson's muscles had atrophied considerably. She ran for the first time during the first week of May, 1998 for just three minutes. Running has always been second nature to Tollefson, and now, after three months in a cast, all she could do was run for three minutes. Her usual workout consisted of running 40 to 50 miles per week. Tollefson had always been an exceptional athlete. She won 13 state titles and played point guard on the basketball team in her hometown of Dawson, Minnesota throughout her high school years. After only two seasons on Villanova's team, she was a four-time all-American, an NCAA individual cross country champion and a Big East titleholder.

Retaining her fitness by swimming, cycling and weight-lifting, Tollefson built her way back up to her old training regimen by August of 1998, only three months after her three-minute workout. Another setback pushed back Tollefson's training once again in September when the strenuous daily workouts took their toll on her knee. "It wasn't until about December that I felt like myself again," said Tollefson.

On the weekend of March 5, Tollefson's phenomenal comeback came to fruition. At the NCAA Indoor Track & Field Championships, she became the fifth Villanova woman to win an NCAA indoor title with a career-best time of 9:15.05 in the 3,000 meter race. After staying with the pack for the first 10 laps, she took hold of the race over the last two laps, finishing 15 meters ahead of the others. This was what Tollefson describes as the point when she knew she was fully recovered and back in the swing of things, although things had changed considerably. "The way I ran in that race was so different from the way I did before the injury. Winning the championship reminded me that I still have the talent, the ability, and the heart to keep competing."

What astonished the crowd and Tollefson herself was the fact that she ran faster as the race went on, recording negative splits of 3:10 the first 1,000 meters, 3:06 the second, and 2:58 in the final. Tollefson entered the race with the third fastest time in her field, and beat out both Stanford's Julia Stamps and Larissa Kleinmann of Boston University for the championship.

Tollefson has continued her amazing comeback during the outdoor season. Earlier this month at the Big East Championships, Tollefson captured two conference titles winning the 5,000 meters in a time of 16:18.34 and the 3,000 meter race in an automatic NCAA qualifying time of 9:17.86. Judging by her performance at the Big East Championships, Tollefson looks poised to finish the 1999 season in fine fashion. In late May, she will prime for the NCAA Championships, which will be held from June 2-5 in Boise, Idaho, by competing at the highly competitive ECAC meet to be held in Fairfax, Virginia. In her last appearance at the ECAC meet in 1997, Tollefson claimed the 1,500 meter title.

Following this season, Tollefson will be returning to Villanova for the 1999-2000 season where she has eligibility remaining in both indoor and outdoor track. After graduating in May of 2000, she intends to continue training in hopes of making her dream of competing in the Olympics a reality.

Maurice Wignall — Jumping Into the National Spotlight

by Margaret Belch, Assistant Sports Information Director
George Mason University

Intensity. Agility. Strength. Intelligence. These four characteristics are the foundation on which George Mason University long jumper and hurdler Maurice Wignall has been able to build success.

And successful Wignall has been. This five-time All-American and 1999 NCAA indoor long jump national champion has amassed an impressive array of achievements since his days competing for Calabar High School in Kingston, Jamaica. While at Calabar, Wignall had his first taste of success, twice winning the high school boys' long jump title at the prestigious Penn Relays. It was a sign of what was to come.

When George Mason's men's track and field head coach Dalton Ebanks first noticed Wignall, he was not even watching the long jump competition in which Wignall was competing. But out of the corner of his eye he saw the young athlete hit the board and take flight. Ebanks was immediately impressed and recruited Wignall to become the next great Patriot.

Since Wignall arrived in Fairfax, he's taken the track and field program by storm. He holds Mason's men's outdoor long jump record with an amazing leap of 26 feet 9 inches at the World Championships, where he competed as part of the Jamaican team. He also owns Mason's 55-meter hurdles record with a time of 7.32 at the 1997 NCAA Indoor Track and Field Championships.

Throughout his collegiate career he has won an indoor long jump national championship; two Colonial Athletic Association titles in the long jump and two in the 110-meter high hurdles; two IC4A titles in the long jump, one in the 110-meter high hurdles and one as part of the 4x100 meter relay. He has won a Championship of America long jump title at the Penn Relays and countless events at other meets. In April, Wignall was named the outstanding performer at the CAA Track and Field Championships.

Although some of Wignall's talent comes naturally to him, he must constantly work to attain this level of excellence. His intense love of competition has helped him find the strength to compete, even through pain. Despite a knee injury that plagued Wignall throughout last year, he kept jumping. With this pain he captured his third All-America honor at the NCAA Indoor Track and Field Championships with a second-place finish.

In addition to learning through competition, Wignall breaks down each event in practice. A consummate student-athlete, he analyzes every aspect of his events. Coach Ebanks believes this may be what makes Wignall so great.

"He studies the sport," comments Ebanks. "Although some of it may come naturally to him, he knows the technical aspect of everything. He is very analytical, mentally and physically. He knows how, why, when, where...he understands what he has to do to win."

Wignall returned to hurdling this past indoor season, and made it to the indoor NAAs. He also qualified in the long jump for which he was seeded first after leaping the nation's best collegiate long jump of the '99 indoor season — 26 feet 3 inches at Virginia Tech's Last Chance Meet. At the Championships, he made the finals of both the 60-meter hurdles and the long jump, which coincided with each other. With his first long jump of the finals, he leapt 26 feet 1 1/2 inches. He then had to pass on his next jump to compete in the 60-meter hurdles finals. In the midst of long jumping, Wignall came away with his fourth All-America honors through a third-place finish in the 60-meter hurdles, clocking in at 7.80. Somehow he was able to quickly adjust between the two events, which even he admits was difficult. He returned to the long jump, leapt once more, and then learned he was the national champion.

Wignall's success earned the team 16 of its 22 points, enough for a seventh-place George Mason finish.

Looking at the future, Wignall says "anything can happen." His coaches and fans predict success — in his final collegiate seasons and in the next level of track and field.

IC4A EVENT SPONSORSHIP PROGRAM

This sponsorship program is open to any member school, its track and field alumni association, affiliated official's associations, or any "old grad" benefactor, who may select an event at either Indoor or Outdoor Championship, and for a fee, name that event after a present or former coach, IC4A Champion, or IC4A Official. An event can be sponsored for a single championship, or for five consecutive championships.

The honoree for this 1999 Outdoor Championship is:

THE TOM COURTNEY 800 METER RUN

to commemorate the achievements of

Tom Courtney, Fordham University '55

1954 IC4A 1,000 yard Champion - 2:10.9

1955 NCAA 880 yard Champion - 1:49.5

1956 Olympic 800 meter Champion - 1:47.7

1956 Olympic 4x400 Relay Gold-Medalist

(sponsored by Fordham University)
